A Husband Who Says He Is Not Married.

A strange story has just come to the surface in the counties of Ulster and Duchess, New York. Last June a notice appeared in the Sapgerties Telegraph under the head of marriages, announcing the marriage of Lester Burton, of Pine Grove, Ulster county, to Anna Schoonmaker, of Blue Mountain, Duchess county. This week, after an absence of three months, Burton returned to Saugerties, and when his attention was called to the marriage notice be declared that there was not a particle of truth in it, while the lady, Miss Schoonmaker, or possibly Mrs. Burton, positively asserts that every word of it is true. Both parties are intelligent, respectable, good looking and young.— The Sangerties Telegraph says that the friends of each have parfect confidence in the truth of their respective statements .-There does not appear to be the slightest motive on the part of either to misrepresent the facts, except that one insists upon being considered as married while the other is just as determinde to the contrary. The young man admits that he paid her his addresses between the months of December and March last and that it was ramored one time last spring that they had been married; that his friends joked bim about it, and that he once jokingly admitted it never dreaming that it would be seriously treated. The matter will probably be thoroughly sifted through the courts as it is understood that the friends of the young lady have engaged ex-Attorpay General Schoonmaker, while Carroll Whitaker, of Saugerties, has been retained by the friends of the young man. One of the curious features of the case is that Rev. Mr. Scudder, of Red Hook, Duchess county, whom the young lady claims maryied them, for some reason unexplained, made no record of the marriage and gave no marriage certificate at the time. She called on Mr. Scudder about two weeks ago for a certificate, and upon her statement he gave her one. Mr. Burton called on Mr. Scudder this week, and the latter, it is said, failed to recognize him, although he thinks he remembers the young lady. Burton says he was never in Red Hook until he went this week to Mr. Scudder, and says he can prove that on March 26th, the day claimed as the one on which the marriage was solemized, he was in another place. There are strong circumstances in the case which seem to corroborate the statement of each of the parties, and leave the matter in much doubt.

Loving a Whole Family.

"I dont want to make any trouble, but there is one man in this city who ought to be gibbeted!" began a blunt-spoken woman of forty-five as she stool before the officials of the Twentieth street-station a day or two ago, in New York. When they inquired for the particulars she handed out a letter and said :

"Observe the envelope. That letter is addressed to me. You will see that the writer calls me his jessamine, and wants me to set an early day for the wedding." When the captain had fluished the letter she was ready with another, adding: " And this is addressed to my daughter Lucretia. You will see that he calls her his rosy angel, and says he can't live if she doesn't marry him. It's the same man." So it was, and his letter was as tender as spring chicken. That finished, she handed out a third, with the remark :

"This is directed to my daughter Helen. It's the very same man, and in it he calls her his pausy, and he says he dreams of her.

"Why, he seemed to love the whole family," remarked the captain.

"That's just it. I'm a widow with two daughters, and he was courting us all at once and engaged to the three of us at the same time. Oh! what wretches there are in this world !"

"Yes,indeed. It's lucky you found him

"Yes it is. If I hadn't he might have married the whole caboodle of us. If Lucretia hadn't opened one of my letters, and if I hadn't searched the girls' pockets while they were asleep, we'd have thought him an innocent lamb."

"And do you want him arrested?"

"No, I guess not, but I want this matter to go into the papers as a warning to other women. Just think of his sitting up with me on Sunday night, Lucretia on Wednesday night, and Helen on Friday night, and calling each one of us his climbing rose! Oh! sir, the women ought to know what a deceiving animal man is !"

"Yes, he's pretty tough." "It has learned me a lesson," she said an she was ready to go. "The next man that comes sparking around my house has got to come right out and say which he's after. If it's the girls I won't say nothing, and if it's me it won't do 'em a bit of good to slam things around and twit me of burying two husbands !"

13 At Lincoln, Lincoln county, New Mexico, on the 3d inst., a young man named Harrison was arrested and locked up for being intoxicated. At night a mob broke into the jall and killed him, riddling him with bullets. The next night they returned and killed the Deputy Sheriff, and again on the night of the 5th, they broke into the jail, took out a prisoher and hung bim.

A nine months-old child of John Killian, residing on Fifth avenue, near Fifth street, died under very distressing circumstances a few days ago. The mother had put the child to sleep in a cradle up stairs, and later in the day went up to see, if it had awakened and discovered a pillow lying on its face. Removing the same the mother discovered to her great sorrow that the child was dead, having been suffocated by the pillow lying on its face, which had been accidentally placed there by a four-year-old brother of the child,-Altona Tribune.

The Selectmen of Medford, Mass., have hit on a new way of putting down drunkenness. They have voted that the names of all persons who have been convicted of drunkenness during the past six months and all persons convicted thereof in the future shall have their names posted in licensed place, and the proprietors notified not to sell liquor to them under penalty of revocation of license. This is a plan that ought to work well.

Two months ago a valuble horse belonging to Charles E. Smith of Stony Bridge had his leg broken at Port Jefferson. The broken bone was set, and the leg was imbedded in plaster of paris. In two weeks the horse could walk around the stable; in three weeks the owner drove him home, a distance of five miles. and on Saturday the horse was drivin to a road wagon a mile in four minutes. It is usual to shoot horses that break their

How She Saved Her Daughter.

"I shall never again feel so awfully nervous about my babies teething," writes a grateful mother. "We almost lost our little darling by a long attack of cholera infantum, but happily heard of Parker's Ginger Tonic in time. I took a few spoonfuls myself, which soon cured my nursing baby entirely, and an occasional dose has kept me and baby in such perfectly good health, and made us so strong and comfortable that I would not be without this reliable medicine for worlds."—A Mother of Brooklyn. 29 1m
