KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE! THE MOST SUCCESSFUL REMEDY EVER discovered, as it cures in its effects and does not blister. Read Proof Below.

From Rev. N. P. Granger, Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District, St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. J. B. KENDALL & CO., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by Spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse when I discovered that a ring-bone was forming. I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, F. N. GRANGER.

Perseverance Will Tell! Stoughton, Mass., March 16th, 1880. B. J. Kendall & Co., Gentles:—I justify to you myself, I think ought to let you know that I have removed TWO BONES SPAVINS with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one; don't know how long the Spavin had been there. I have owned the horse for months. It took me four months to take the large one off, and two months for the small one. I have used 10 bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunched to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me its sale will be very great. Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

Is sure in effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, and is penetrating and powerful to reach any deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or any other enlargement, if used for several days, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects. It is used full strength with perfect safety at all seasons of the year.

Send address for Illustrated Circular, which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success, to our knowledge, for beast as well as man. Price $1. per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All Druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. J. B. KENDALL & CO., Enosburg Falls, Vermont.

Kendall's Spavin Cure" is now sold by all the leading wholesale druggists and a large number of prominent retail druggists.

Red, used on a railroad, signifies danger, and says stop. The same color displayed on a man's nose may well be interpreted to give a similar warning.

"I wish I was worth a million of dollars," said a gentleman. "What good would it do you, for you don't spend your present income?" inquired a friend. "Oh, I could be economical on a large scale."

A German lately applied for a situation as sailor on board a vessel lying in the North River. "Have you ever been to sea?" asked the captain. "Does you suppose I comed over from Germany in a balloon?"

"There is no rule without an exception, my son." "Oh, isn't there, pa? A man must always be present while he's being shaved." Pa to ma—"My dear, hadn't you better send this child to bed. He's getting too clever."

Little Johnny went fishing last Sunday without consulting his parents. Next morning a neighbor's boy met him and asked: "Did you catch any thing yesterday?" "Not till I got home," was the rather sad response.

An old lady heard one of her daughter-in-law's callers say: My father was an ambidexter." After the visitor's departure the listener expressed her indignation by saying: "That stuck-up hussy was lying all the time. I knew her father year in and year out, and his name was Smith."

A Quincy small boy was looking at some scriptural engravings, and gazed long and earnestly upon a representation of Adam and Eve in their primitive dress. Turning to his mother, he asked, "Ma, didn't Adam and Eve wear any clothes?" "No, my son." The lad reflected a moment, and said, "By hokey, though, but I'll bet the mosquitoes jist made them hump themselves lively."

An expiring railroad superintendent asks the doctor, who is alone with him, how much longer he has to live.— "Two hours," replies the man of science. A few minutes later the family of the sufferer are introduced into the apartment. "Courage!" says the dying man, firmly; "do not weep for me.— The doctor says I am due at the Gates of Gold at 5:35, sharp!"

A Tribune reporter was passing in front of a second-hand clothing store in New York the other day when the Teutonic proprietor got him to come in by promising to sell him a coat recently made for General Grant. A hard-looking garment of a sea-green color was produced, with the remark: "Dere ish de goat." "If you made it for the General, why didn't he take it?" asked the reporter. The merchant replied in a mysterious undertone: "He ordered cotton velvet on der gollar, and I make er meestake und pud on seek; dat makes him so med he vont take id."

A fair young mother with a crying baby in her arms sat in a Silver City stage coach, says a Nevada paper. On the opposite seat was a well-known politician of engaging manners. By and bye he said: "Let me hold your baby; perhaps I can sooth him." "Oh, no; I'm much obliged; you couldn't help me any," was the answer. "But," he persisted, "you had better let me try."—"You are very kind," said the lady at last, "but I know you couldn't help me, for he is hungry." A light seemed to dawn on the politician's mind, and he abruptly broke off the conversation.

Near Dummeries lived a pious family who had adopted an orphan who was regarded as half-witted. He had imbibed strict views on religious matters, however, and once asked his adopted mother if she did not think it wrong for the people to come to church and fall asleep, paying no better regard to the service. She replied she did. Accordingly, before going to church the next Sunday he filled his pockets with apples. One bald-headed old man, who invariably went to sleep during the sermon, particularly attracted his attention. Seeing him at last nodding and giving nasal evidence of being in the "land of dreams," he struck the astounded sleeper a blow with an apple on the top of his bald pate. The minister and aroused congregation at once turned round and indignantly gazed at the boy, who merely said to the preacher, as he took another apple in his hand, with a sober, honest expression of countenance, "You preach; I'll keep 'em awake."
