midnight on Tuesday last, fire was discovered in the Grist Mill of Neyhart & Son, in Rye twp., and it not only entirely destroyed the mill but spread to house and barn, burning the whole of his buildings. About 1000 bushels of grain was destroyed. The loss is probably $10,000, on which there is only a small insurance. It is not known how the fire originated.

Fire in Rye Township .- Shortly after

A Run Off .- A four horse team belonging to Peter Lightner, of Tyrone twp., took fright at the cars in Newport on Wednesday, and by turning short broke off the tongue of the wagon with which they went down town at a terriffic pace. They got fast on a hitching post near Butts' store and were secured. One horse was badly hurt by a long sliver which ran into his hoof, and had to be left at Newport to be cared for.

Sheriff's Sales .- On Thursday last, the following sales were made by Sheriff'

Other properties advertised were not sold, as arrangements were made to stay proceedings.

Temperance Convention .- The third annual meeting of the Perry county Temperance Society, was held in the Lutheran Church, at Newport, on Tuesday last.

M. B. Eshleman, President of the Society, presided. About forty delegates were in attendance. The first session convened at 10 a. m., opened by scripture reading and prayer by Rev. N. W. Colburn. Rev. M. Colver delivered an address of welcome, to which Rev. D. S. Lentz, of Liverpool responded.

The church's relation to the temperance cause formed the theme for most of the discussions of the day, which witnessed two sessions of the society, besides the morning meeting.

Petitions for presentation to the next State Legislature asking that honorable body to enact the "James Black License Law," were circulated for the purpose of getting signers thereto.

It was decided to again publish the names of the signers and bondsmen on the several applications for tavern license in the county at the January and April, 1881, terms of court, and to give notice that such action would be taken. through the newspapers.

The next annual meeting of the Socity will be held at Liverpool. compliment of officers were re-elected.

A Sad Accident.-At noon on Saturday a week, a man named Taylor, going up the mountain, met four of Wm. Martin's horses coming down without wagon or driver. He stopped them, and after waiting half an hour for the driver, who did not appear, started up the mountain after him. He had gone but a short distance up the old slate quarry road, when at the foot of a very steep hill, he found the large heavy coal wagon turned upside down, and one of the horses dead, beneath the debris.

A little further up lay another horse with his legs broken, and near the top was found the driver, George Swope, dead. It seems the driver had gotten off to tighten his rubber blocks for the hill, and attempting to remount his saddle horse caught in some way in the harness and dragged or slipped, and got under the wheels. The road being narrow and the bushes thick, and the horses being left without a driver, started down the hill, tearing everything to pieces and killing the two wheel horses. - Newville Comical Way to Hunt -A young man in Blair county has discovered an ingenious and successful way to capture squirrels, dead or alive, without either gun or ammunition. His outfit consists of a set of climbers, such as are used by telegraph repairers, a sheath knife, pack of fire-crackers, box of matches and a dog. The dog holes the game. The young man puts on his climbers, and goes up to the hole in the tree, lights a fire-cracker and drops it into the hole .-When it explodes, the frightened squir-rel rushes out into a bag held over the hole, or if he wishes to kill it he strikes its head off with the sheath knife; if he misses his aim and the squirrel leaps to to the ground the dog soon finishes it .-By this novel contrivance he often brings in from ten to twenty squirrels a day. Larger game is captured in the same way .- Huntingdon News.

Duncaunon Items.— The nail factory was idle on Wednesday afternoon on account of the boiler leaking.

One day last week, Mr. Foster had the ends of two flugers ground off, by one of the large grindstones in the nail factory,

Mr. J. M. Hawley had a valuable cow killed on last Saturday evening, at the upper crossing in Duncannon, by mail train east.—Record.

Cumberland County .- We copy the following from the Cumberland papers of last week :

Between two and three o'clock on Tuesday morning the alarm of "fire" was sounded and shortly afterwards it was ascertained that the large frame building on the corner of West and Main streets was in flames. Owing to the hour, it was with difficulty that the citizens could be aroused, and the efforts of the first to arrive at the scene were directed to remarks the furniture for directed to removing the furniture from the residence of Mrs. Sterrett adjoining. So fiercely did the flames burn that the inmates were obliged to quit the build-ing in their night wraps.

While Mr. J. A. Coleman and family, living on North Hanover street were at the circus on last Thursday evening, some person or persons entered their dwelling and stole money and valuables to the amount of $100. The thieves effected an entrance through the back kitchen window, which they reached by the aid of a chair. They took from one of Mrs. Coleman's bureau drawers a pocket-book containing $40. All of Miss Millle's (Mr. C's. youngest daughter) jewelry was taken, also a number of old coins, a bottle of cologne, and two silk handkerchiefs. The lower bureau drawer containing jewelry belonging to Mrs. Curtin was left undisturbed, the thieves no doubt, having been frightened off be-Curtin was left undisturbed, the thieves no doubt, having been frightened off before they had finished their rascally work. Other facts that tend to prove that they were interrupted are that a new pair of pantaloons had been removed by them from a closet into the stairway and left hanging there, and the secretary, containing Mr. Coleman's papers and a considerable sum of money, was undisturbed. No clue has been obtain, ed of the perpetrators of the deed. ed of the perpetrators of the deed.

Juniata County .- We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week :

It affords us pleasure to hear that Mr. Adam Bitner, who was so seriously injured on Monday of last week, is getting along as well as could be expected, and that his wounds are healing rapidly.

Edith, a sixteen-year old daughter of John Bryner, of Spruce Hill township, and a young child of Enoch Beale, of same township, died on Sunday of last week of diphtheria. This disease is said to be prevailing to a considerable extent in Tuscarora Valley.

Daniel Smith, of Cocolamus, this county, bought a patent right, recently from a stranger and gave his note for a certain amount, $10, we believe. A few days ago another party appeared with the note which had been altered from $10 to $110, so says our informant. Mr. Smith, it is reported, paid the raised note instead of having the rascal arrested .- Juniata Tribune on Thursday of last week, Mr. W. H. Rutherford, of this place, while assisting in unloading an old stove at the foundry his coat caught and he was dragged out of the wagon along with the stove, falling on top of the stove, cutting ugly gashes in his forehead, nose and head, rendering him unconscious for a time. Had the stove fallen on him we have on doubt that he would have been fatally injured, and we congratulate him on his lucky escape.—Port Royal Times.

On Friday afternoon last, while S. M. Beale was on his way from his home in Tuscarora township to Port Royal, with a horse and carriage containing himself wife and children, in coming down a hill near Groninger's in Turbett township, the axle broke. Mr. Beale succeeded in getting out of the carriage before the horse got unruly and caught him firmly by the head until his lady and children got out thereby presenting. children got out, thereby preventing what otherwise might have been a serious accident.

The Pennsylvania Millers' Association.

The Pennsylvania Millers' Association held The Pennsylvania Millers' Association held its third annual Convention at Wilkesbarre on October 12th. Hon. C. A. Miner, President, called the meeting to order, when a very cordial address of welcome was made by the Mayor of the City. Then as agent of the Lehigh Valley R. R. proposed to treat the members to an excursion over the mountains, and through the colleries. The portion of business that most interests the farmere, is the report of the Committee on wheat for milling, as follows:

as follows:

As chairman of the Committee on Wheat for Milling, I present the following, as I cannot be present at your meeting on account of business: The object of the Committee, I understand, is to name the varieties of wheat desirable for milling. In all cases I prefer Lancaster Red, Mediterranean, Buffalo and Shoemaker. These are all long berry, which makes the best flour and the best yield. This is my experience in wheat for profitable milling.

Yours respectfully,

E. K. Bollingen.

After a full discussion by the Convention the

After a full discussion by the Convention the report was almost unanimously adopted, and the next meeting appointed to be held at Harrisburg. The following is a list of the officers for the ensuing year:

President, Charles A. Miner, Wilkesbarre; First Vice Pres., Jacob Walter, Easton; Sec. Vice Pres., Wm. P. Duncan, Phillipsburg, Centre county; Secretary and Treasurer, B. F. Isenberg, Huntingdon; Ex. Committee, W. Latimer Smail, York, A. Z. Schoch, Belinsgrove, Snyder county, S. L. Levan, Lancaster, Nathan Sellers, Philadelphia, John Hoffer, Harrisburg.

Lippincot's Magazine.

Lippincot's Magazine for November opens with an article on the "Ruins of the Colorado Valley," by Alfred Terry Bacon. These ruins of a mysterious past have recently been the subject of fresh explorations, the results of which are here given, and made more latelligible by admirable illustrations. Jennie J. Young, author of "The Ceramic Art," contributes a comprehensive survey of the "Arts of India," with numerous illustrations giving a very good idea of the beauty of design and fineness of workmanship characteristic of the Eastern races. A variety of other good articles is followed by an agreeably written one on "Heinrich Heine," two amusing short stories by Olive Logan and Margaret Bertha Wright, the last instalment but one of "Adam an Eve," and the usual variety of reading in the editorial columns. It is announced that with the next year this magazine will enter on a new scries, the price being reduced to $3.00 per annum and 25 cents per number.
