The newly repaired church at Elliotts-burg vill be re-opened and re-dedicated, Sunday, November 21st, 1880. Eminent mulasters will officiate. All are heartily instruct to attend invited to attend.

On the night of the 26th ult., at Con-cord, Fu., some person or persons enter-ed the store room of S. B. Hockenbery, and stole clothing, boots, tobacco, jewelry and five new revolvers to the amount of $200 or $300 worth.

A nicely gotten up paper comes reg-ularly from New Bloomfield Pennsyl-vania, known as the Times. It has long been a mystery to know who of the Times crew takes an interest in the happenings about Mt. Gilead.-Register.

It will be no mystery when you find out that the wife of the editor, was a Miss McCellan of Iberia.

On Sunday Frank Billow, of Buffalo tow aship, while attending his horses in it a stable received a severe kick from one of them on his left hand, knocking the wrist of the left arm out of joint.— Dr. Steel of New Buffalo, administered medical relief to the injured man.

Singing at the Upper Center School house on the road leading from Bloom-field to Duncannon on Wednesday evening of this week. Also, singing at the Center School House, two miles west of Bloomfield on Friday evening. Singing conducted by W. F. Swartz.

Mr. Augustus Springer, of Freeburg, Snyder county, recently drank a cup of cider and immediately after felt a severe pain in his throat, which rapidly increas-ed and his throat soon became so swollen that he was scarcely able to swallow. He now feels confident that he drank a bee, which stung him.

A Woman Catches a Wild Turkey .----There is a woman in the lower end of Center twp., who beats some of our men in hunting wild turkeys. A few days. since Mrs. Roberts in taking her cow to pasture scared up a wild turkey which flew and struck a fence. Mrs. R. gave chase and succeeded in catching the turkey which she held on to till she had it safe in the oven.

Almost a Fire .- The building in which C. A. Barnett, Esq., has his law office, came near being destroyed by fire on Thursday last. Mr. B. has recently had a new grate put in the office, and the mechanic had not allowed space enough between the grate and the edge of the hearth, so that the heat set the floor and joist on fire. Fortunately the fire was discovered in time to be extinguished by the application of a couple of buckets of water. Had the first fire been made at night instead of morning, the building in all probability would have been destroyed.

October Weather .- B. McIntire, Esq., hands us the following report of the weather for October, 1880 ;

Average of Thermometer at 8 o'clock A verage of Thermometer at 8 o'clock A. M., 44°, 10°, and of Barometer 30 inches minus 5-tenths. A verage of greatest degree of heat 47°, 36° and of cold 38°, 52°. Sunday the 17th, was the warmest day, the Thermometer running up to 71°, and Thursday, the 14th, was the coldest, the mercury registering 31°. There fell 2 inches and 9-tenths of rain. Snow fell on the night of the 27th. The first snow in October 1879 was on the 24th of October, 1880. A veraged 9° colder than October 1879, 6° colder than October 1878, and 8° colder than Octo-ber 1877. ber 1877.

Accident at the Furnace .- Considerable excitement was created in town on Thursday evening about seven o'clock by the shrill screaming of the furnace whistle and by the subsequent cries of fire" on the streets as men ran, through the mud and rain, in the direction of Marshall furnace. It turned out that the whistling was for the purpose of calling engineer Jamison to the works, the cross-head of the blowing engine having broken. Machinists are at work repairing the damage to the engine, and it is hoped to get the furnace in operation again without serious loss. -News.

A Narrow Escape.-On Monday evening Mr. A. J. Clouser of Center twp., made a narrow escape for himself and team at the R. R. crossing in Newport. He was just going to cross the track when the watchman signaled him to top. In pulling up his team the line broke and the team went on to the track and suddenly turned around, throwing Clouser and Roberts who was with him between the wheel and wagon in such a manner that they could not get out, and then started to run. The horses however got wedged in between a tree and post and were stopped before the men were burt, excepting a few scratches, and the watchman stopped the train in time to revent it being wrecked.

Dastardly .- Joseph Barr, of Newton township, came to town on Saturday evening a week with a horse and buggy and hitched his horse in front of Weister's tailoring shop. Later in the evening he got in his buggy to start home; but knowing his horse was spirited and sometimes unmanageable, thought he would take a look at his harness. On examining it he found the traces loose and the holding back straps cut. Had he started an accident was almost inevitable. Evidently a severe example will have to be made of some one in this place in order to stop so wicked and malicious business .- Newville Star.

floor. When picked up she was unconscious, and remained in that condition for some minutes. After regaining consciousness, the girl's injuries were examined, and found to consist of severe bruises about the head and side of the face, and a bad sprain of the right hand and wrist. As soon as she could be moved she was taken to the residence of H. A. Toomey, with whom she had been stoping a few days, and put to bed. During the night she was very sick, but had so far recovered as to go home with her brother, John Kipp, near Everharts, in Olltownship, on Sunday.-Newport ve Ledger.

Evidently the Carlisle papers don't take much pride in Teachers' Institutes, as the Star says: It is singular that one of the most successful Teachers' Institutes ever held in the county should scarcely get a passing mention from the Carlisle papers where it was held within a stone's throw from all the offices in the town. At least we heard an intelligent teacher complain of this effect .--Probably the Institute was swallowed up in the whirl of the great political vortex which has been heaving and swelling so much of late in that town.

Cumberland County .- We copy the following from the Cumberland papers of last week :

Week before last, John Saltsberg, of Mifflin township, in passing through one of his fields, observed a wild turkey staggering around. On going to the spot five more were found lying dead— cholera had struck them. On last Wednesday night Cohill's store, at Mt. Holly, was entered and 6 pairs of boots, 1 dozen silk handker-chiefs, a quantity of muslin, callco, &c., amounting in all to about $1:0, stolen therefrom. An entrance was effected through a rear window. therefrom. An entrance through a rear window.

On the following Friday Benjamin Bosler found a screw driver, brace and bit and a chisel, in the creek at Moor's mill. The tools are all marked "J. A. Moor." Whether the finding of these tools will lead to the identification of the burglar, is a question of time.

On last Tuesday, Mrs. George Kohn, who resides on Dr. Alex. Stewart's farm who resides on Dr. Alex. Stewart's farm some four miles south-west of Shippens-burg, met with an accident in which she fractured one of the bones in her left leg between the knee and ankle.— She had been working in the cellar, and accidentally slipped between two boards, which caused the fracture. Dr. James B. Marshall attended to the wounded member, and the patient is getting along very well. very well.

very well. This community was startled yester-day evening by the announcement of the death of one of her most respected citizens, Mr. Jacob Hoffman, East Main street. It appears that he had been feel-ing unwell for a few days, but appre-hended no danger. Whilst in Saxton's store a few days ago a dizziness came over him, and he would have fallen if the clerks had not noticed it and assist-ed him to his seat. On the day of his death he started to the yard of his resi-dence, and while returning, and just en-tering the door, he was noticed in the act of falling, by the servant girl. She went to his assistance, and called to his son, who was in the front part of the house. He answered the call, but just as he arrived the vital spark had fled. He's a nice, clever young man and al-

He's a nice, clever young man and always does the marketing for the family. On Saturday morning we found him striking an attitude before one of our fair market dames, and politely inquir-ing the price of " that crock of stuff." The price must have been satisfactory, for in went his finger with the intention of having a good taste. But he stopped short as he heard her exclaim, "Well, you're the first man that ever I seen restrict each "A stopped in the stopped short as he heard her exclaim, "Well, you're the first man that ever I seen taste soft soap." A sickly smile broke over his face as he grabbed his basket and started from that stand, and he swears now that he never knew soft soap and apple butter looked so much alike. Yes, Jake, a goose looks a good deal like a monkey, too.-Mirror. Shortly after twelve o'clock on Mon-day night the large bank barn on the farm of William M. Henderson, a short distance from town on the Harrisburg pike, was discovered to be on fire. The alarm was given and our fire depart-ment responded as promptly as possible, but when they reached the premises the flames had made so much headway that all that could be done was to save the flames had made so much headway that all that could be done was to save the surrounding property. The barn, to-gether with a large amount of grain, seven horses, sixteen cows, all the farm-ing utensils ect., is a total loss. A large straw stack in the barn yard was also burned. At the present writing it is im-possible to make a correct estimate of the loss, but it will be very heavy. We understand that the barn was insured.— The fire was the work of an incendiary, there having been no fire about the place for a number of days before.

On last Monday night Mr. John Bar-truff, of Wheatfield twp., and his hire-ling, were aroused from their slumber by the loud barking of the dog. On getting up they found that the dog had treed a rabbit under a hen coop. Frank who is a good hunter, attempted to catch the mbbit—he caught him, and the perfume of that rabbit will last for three weeks, unless he buries his clothes.— Record. Record.

Fire Near Bridgeport .- Shortly after 10 o'clock last night a bright light was discovered on the Cumberland county side of the river, below the railroad bridge, and in a few minutes afterwards smoke and flame were observed issuing from the large bank barn on the old Wells farm, now owned by Colonel Henry M'Cormick, of this city, and occupied by Mr. Gilmore, on the public road leading from Bridgeport to New Cumberland. The reflection of the fire was visible in the sky for miles, and the actions of persons who were at the conflagration were plainly seen from the Harrisburg side of the river. The barn was totally destroyed. From a gentleman who visited the scene we learn that the fire was the work of an incendiary. Three head of cattle, four sheep, wagon and hay ladders, grain separator and threshing machine, windmill, cutting box, all the harness and fittings (all new) were destroyed. Loss $2,500. Insured in the Susquehanna Insurance company to its full value .- Patriot of the 4th Inst.

Opened the Wrong Door.-Last Friday evening, while a company of girls were spending an evening of enjoyment at the residence of J. C. Frank, Mazie Kipp, by mistake, ran through the door leading to the cellar, instead of through the door leading to the hall, both doors being close beside each other. She fell headlong down the stairs to the cellar last werk : On Wednesday of last week Mr. Sam-uel Tyson, son of Mr. Jude Tyson, of Walker township, while in the act of oiling a "Vibrator" threshing machine in operation at the barn of Dr. G. M. Graham, in Turbett township, his arm was caught in the belting and twisted around a pulley, breaking his arm just below the elbow. If the belting hadn't broke there is not the least doubt but that the arm would have been torn from its socket and inflicting injuries that its socket and inflicting injuries that would have proved fatal.

Juniata County .-- We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last weak :
