MANHOOD How Lost, How Restored! Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatitis or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Piles, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance, &c.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

This treatise should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents or two postage stamps. Address the Publishers, THE CULVERWELL MEDICAL CO., 40 1/2 1y] 41 Ann St., New York; P. O. Box, 4586.

"My dear brothers and sisters, my grief was greater dan I could bear. I turned ebery way for peace and comfort, but none came. I sarched de Scriptures from Genisee to Rebeleation, and found plenty of promises to de widdler but nary one to de widerer. So I took it dat de good Lord didn't waste sympathy on a man when it was in his power to comfort himself; and habin a fustrate chance to marry in de Lord, I did so, and would do so again. The Cut Direct. A Mr. Mewins was courting a young lady of some attractions, and something of a fortune in the bargain. After a liberal arrangement had been made for the young lady by her father, Mr. Mewins demanded a little brown mare, to which he had taken a particular fancy; and this being absolutely refused, the match was broken off. After a couple of years the parties accidentally met at a country ball. Mr. Mewins was quite ready to renew the engagement; but the lady appeared not to have the slightest recollection of him.

"Surely you have not forgotten me?", said he. "What name, sir?" she inquired. "Mewins," he replied promptly; "I had the honor of paying my addresses to you about two years ago."

"I remember a person of that name," she rejoined, freezingly; "but he paid his attention to my father's brown mare!"
