His success as a practitioner of medicine is acknowledged by recommendations from former patrons, which are free for inspection at all times.

IN THE TREATMENT OF Chronic Diseases he has had very extensive experience, and has cured many hopeless cases, after years of suffering, and expense incurred in seeking relief elsewhere.

Among the many chronic complainants treated successfully are Asthma, Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Hemorrhage of the Lungs, Consumption, (first and second stages), Heart Disease, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Melancholia, Scrofula or King's Evil, Skin Diseases, Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, or enlargement of the Glands of the neck, Dropsy, Piles, Chronic Diarrhea, Constipation of the Bowels, Sick and Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Diseases of Females, Tumors, Kidney Diseases, Enlarged Spleen, Epilepsy, Deafness, Chronic Chills and Ague, Diabetes Mellitus, old running sores. INHALATIONS, which carries the medicine direct to the diseased parts.

When an incurable case presents itself he is free and candid in telling the patient that he cannot cure him, thus avoiding further expense.

In chronic ailments it is always best for patients to call at his office for personal examination and treatment, when that is practicable.

“Well, wife, you can't say I ever contracted bad habits.”
“No, sir, you generally expand them.”

“An exchange speaks of a man who 'is but one step removed from an ass.' He'd better make it three or four. The animal has a long reach backward.”

“Well, Pat, Jim didn't quite kill you with the brickbat, did he?” “No; but I wish he had.” “Why so?” “So that I could have seen him hung, the villain!”

“You are an idiot!” exclaimed a domineering wife. “So my friends said when I married you,” replied the husband. And she became more infuriated than before.

“An exchange speaks of a policeman who shot a drunken man who tried to escape in the hind leg. The policeman is to be commended. When a drunken man tries to escape in the hind leg he deserves to be shot.”

“What's his name?” said the deaf lady.
“Augustus Tyler,” replied the young lady.

“Bless me what a name!” said the deaf lady. “Bust his Biler! Eliza, you must be making fun of me.”

Mr. P. the other day received a begging letter which told a very pitiable tale. An Irish gentleman, coming in at the time, was asked what he would advise in such a case.
“Why, write and say that you can't give him anything, for you don't know his address,” was the reply.

A four-year-old Irish child saying her prayers at her mother's knee, having concluded, as usual, with “God bless papa and mamma, grandpapas and grandmamas, uncles and aunts;” ect., gave a deep sigh, and said: “O, mammy dear, I do wish these people would pray for themselves, for I am so tired of praying for them.”

MANHOOD
How Lost, How Restored!
Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (with out medicine) of Spermatorrhoea or Seminal weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance. 5c.
The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self abuse may be radically cured; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.
This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.
Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents or two postage stamps.

A Comical Telegraphic Error.
Probably the worst blunder ever made was one that occurred in the case of a St. Louis merchant, who, while in New York, received a telegram informing him that his wife was ill. He sent a message to his family doctor, asking the nature of the sickness and if there was any danger, and received promptly the answer:
“No danger. Your wife has had a child. If we can keep her from having another to-night, she will do well.”
The mystification of the agitated husband was not removed until a second inquiry revealed the fact that his indisposed lady had had a “child.”
Naming the dog.
Not long since, in a Mississippi court, a colored man sued a neighbor for damages for killing his dog. Colonel M—, defendant's lawyer, called Sam Parker, a colored gent, to prove that the dog was a worthless cur for whose destruction no damages ought to be recovered.
“Sam, did you know this dog?”
“Yes, sah, I wer' pussionally acquainted wid dat dog.”
“Well, tell the jury what sort of a dog he was.”
“He wer' a big yaller dog.”
“What was he good for?”
“No, he wouldn't hunt; he wouldn't do no guard duty; he jes lay round an' eat. Dat make 'em call him wat dey did.”
“Well, sir, what did they call him?”
“Dey called him 'Lawyer,' sah.”
