HOUSE, FARM AND GARDEN.

Remedy for Roup in Fowls

Towards the last of December, 1879, I found one hen sick out of 48 or 49. What was the matter with her? For information I consulted Solon Robinson's Facts for Farmers and the Family Circle, and found it to be roup. I took her from the nest and held her head over smoking sulphur; soon after, I gave her nearly one teaspoonful of kerosene oil, and, later, the same amount of rum in a tablespoonful of warm water. Next day I found a second one sick and followed the same treatment with her. In two days afterwards the rest of the flock were all sick. I could not dose all in the same manner, so after they went to roost I took an old-fashioned iron baking kettle, put in it some live, red-hot coals, and put it into the hen-house in a box two feet from the floor. Then I threw on the coals three single handfuls of sulphur, closed the door and left them to their fate. Nearly an hour later I went to see how they fared, and found their feathers wet from what they had thrown out of their mouths, but their breathing was quite free from any rattle. I smoked them every night for three weeks and every one lived, and we had all the eggs we needed to use. One of my neighbors, who had about 70 fowls affected in the same way, killed and gave away all he had, though they were not any worse than mine were. After they had got over the first attack, I watched them closely and whenever any signs of its reappearance were noted I smoked them again, keeping it up until May, 1880. B.

Very Handy.

A man living near Bloomfield, N. J., has contrived an arrangement by the use of which he is enabled to get an hour or more extra sleep in the morning. In many ways it takes the place of a domestic servant. He is awakened in the morning by a shrill whistle, which tells him that all is ready for him to get breakfast. He dresses and goes into the kitchen, and there finds a bright, fresh fire, a kettle full of boiling water, and other conveniences for preparing his morning meal. All this is accomplished by means of an alarm clock with weights, a piece of wire, a sheet of sandpaper, and some matches. Paper, wood, and coal are put into the grate of his cooking stove, and a teakettle filled with water; and having a tiny whistle fitted into the nozzle of the kettle, it is placed on the stove. By setting the alarm in the clock he can have fire any time he wished. When the alarm in the clock goes off, a weight falls and hits the wire; the wire moves and scrapes the matches fastened to it on the sandpaper; the matches light the paper in the stove, the paper fires the wood and coal, and soon a fire is under way. In a little while the water in the teakettle boils, and then the tiny whistle gives the note of warning that everything is ready and it is time to get up.

Potato tops are recommended by Mr. W. J. Fowler as an excellent winter covering for strawberries. They are heavy enough not to be blown off, are free from weed seeds, and not liable to pack down over the plants to smother them, as straw or hay sometimes does. Besides, in the spring they will usually be rotted sufficiently not to need removal, breaking into small bits as they are trodden under foot in working at the beds.

Do not undertake to keep sheep in low, undrained lands. They will surely contract disease, and a sick sheep is about as mean a thing as one can own, not excepting a sick chicken.

Advertising Cheats.

It has become so common to write the beginning of an elegant, interesting article and then run into some advertisement that we avoid all such cheats and simply call attention to the merits of Hop Bitters in as plain honest terms as possible, to induce people to give them an honest trial, as no one who knows their value will ever use anything else.— Providence Advertiser. 5 21

A Foolish Mistake.

Don't make the mistake of confounding a remedy of acknowledged merit with the numerous quack medicines that are now so common. We speak from experience when we say that Parker's Ginger Tonic is a sterling health restorative and will do all that is claimed for it. We have used it ourselves with the happiest results for Rheumatism and when worn out by overwork. See adv.—Times. 2 24

We are strongly disposed to regard that person as the best physician who does most to alleviate human suffering. Judged from this standard, Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western avenue, Lynn, Mass., is entitled to the front rank, for her Vegetable Compound is daily working wonderful cures in female diseases. Send for circular to the above address. 4 24

THE SUN FOR 1881.

Every body reads THE SUN. In the editions of this newspaper throughout the year to come every body will find it.

I. All the world's news, so presented that the reader will get the greatest amount of information with the least unprofitable expenditure of time and eye-sight. The SUN long ago discovered the golden mean between redundant fullness and unsatisfactory brevity. II. Much of that sort of news which depends less upon its recognized importance than upon its interest to mankind. From morning to morning THE SUN prints a continued story of the lives of real men and women, and of their deeds, plans, loves, hates, and troubles. This story is more varied and more interesting than any romance that was ever devised. III. Good writing in every column, and freshness, originality, accuracy, and decorum in the treatment of every subject. IV. Honest comment. THE SUN'S habit is to speak out fearlessly about men and things. V. Equal candor in dealing with each political party, and equal readiness to commend what is praiseworthy or to rebuke what is blamable in Democratic or Republican. VI. Absolute independence of partisan organizations but unwavering loyalty to true Democratic principles. THE SUN believes that the Government which the Constitution gives us is a good one to keep. Its notion of duty is to resist to its utmost power the efforts of men in the Republican party to set up another form of Government in the place of that which exists. The year just and the years immediately following will probably decide the issue of the supremacy of the Constitution. THE SUN believes that the victory will be with the people as against the Ring for monopoly, the Ring for plunder, and the Ring for imperial power. Our terms are as follows: For the DAILY SUN, a four page sheet of twenty-eight columns, the price by mail, post paid is 25 cents a month, or $6.50 a year, or including the Sunday paper, an eight-page sheet of fifty-six columns, the price is 45 cents a month, or $7.75 a year, postage paid. The Sunday edition of THE SUN is also furnished separately for $1.25 a year, postage paid. The price of the WEEKLY SUN, eight pages, fifty-six columns, is $1 a year, postage paid. For clubs of ten sending $10 we will send an extra copy free. Address I. W. ENGLAND, Publisher of THE SUN, New York City.
