13. Correspondents who wish their articles published must have them in not later than Sat-urday. Letters received Mondaymorning scarceiy ever get published

Several cases of small pox are reported in Millerstown.

Monday morning Thermometer six degrees below zero.

Out of twenty-five scaps of bees which F. B. Clouser, Esq., had when winter began, only three are alive now, the balance having frozen.

Cumberland county last year paid $857.81 as constable fees for arresting tramps and disorderly persons. Some-body must farm that business there.

The dog belonging to George Ickes, Newport, took a bite out of the thigh of George Smith on Tuesday. If the dog isn't mad, we bet Smith is.

A story of considerable interest to the taxpayers will be found on the 8th page this week. The story is complete in this number.

Some persons in town are troubled to get fuel, as the snow is so deep and the crust so thick that it is almost impossible to get at wood that has not been ranked near some road. The farmers say the snow is nearly three feet deep in the woods.

Now would this law suit some of our ditizens? It has been offered in the Senate by Senator Laird : "An act pun-ishing all persons in cities and boroughs in the State who fail to remove ice from the pavements in front of residences occupied by such persons within twenty-four hours."

An old farmer says that when farmers come to husk the corn that has been on shock all winter, they should exercise great care in handling the corn fodder, for the reason that venomous snakes, such as the copperhead and the viper, harbor in corn shocks that are left standing out in the field during the whiter. winter.

Another of those sudden deaths which have frequently shocked this commu-nity in the past several months occurred in Oliver twp., on Thursday last. Mr. Samuel Gearhart, who is well known throughout the township, was out chop-ping wood during the forencon and came into the house about 11<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> o'clock. He took a chair near the stove to warm himself, when his daughter noticed him inclining forward and hurried to him. inclining forward and hurried to him, but while attempting to raise him he expired. He had not been in the house more than five minutes until the fatal stroke of apoplexy ushered him into eternity.—Mc Veytown Journal.

The Philomathean Literary Society, will meet in the Academy Hall on next Fri-day evening at 7 o'clock. The exercises will be exclusively of a literary charac-ter consisting of Essays, selections, orations and the reading of Historical queries. Visitors wishing to attend can procure tickits of admission free upon application to any member of the Society.

JOS. M. ARNOLD, Sec.

Personals.-Dr. E. P. Hudson who has opened a Dental office in Millerstown is said to be a very superior workman, and he is meeting marked success.

Mr. Jacob Reisinger, formerly of this county, but now residing in Mason county, Ill., is now east on a visit.

On Wednesday last the remains of Mfs. Susan Helm who died in Philadel-phia, passed through this place on the way to the grave yard at Loysville.

Mr. John Minich reached home on Wednesday last, with twenty-eight horses, mostly bought in Franklin county. Some of them are fine draft horses. They are for the Carlisle and Harrisburg market.

The January Weather. - B. McIntire, Esq., hands us the following report of the weather for the month of January, 1881: Average of Thermometer at 8 o'clock A. M., 19-58', and of Barometer 80 inches minus 6-tenths. Average of greatest heat, 26°5', and of cold, 14°44'. The warmest day was Thursday the 11th the Thermometer registering 38° above zero, and Saturday the 1st, the coldest, the mercury sinking to 18° below zero. There fell 2 and 6-tenths inches of rain and 14 inches of rain.

Bit By a Snake .- Samuel Jordan cut down a large oak tree, last week, to be taken to the saw-mill. The tree was hollow for the length of 10 or 12 feet where he cut it off; but the rot extended further up and he put his arm in to discover how far it extended, when he felt a sharp sting in his hand-he cut a limb with a hook on the end and reached in and brought out a real live black snake, about five feet in length and as savage as snakes usually are when stirred up.-Middleburg Post. Week of Prayer .- This week of prayer elsewhere observed in first full week of January is in this town generally observed in first full week of February, as beginning of January is occupied by Court sessions. Programme of this week is: Monday, Thanksgiving, Confession and Humiliation ; Tuesday, The Family, Schools, and Christian Associations; Wednesday, Our land, Home Missions, and Church Upbuilding; Thurs-day, Foreign Missions and Church Extension ; Friday, Temperance, Peace, and Religious Liberty; Saturday, The Ministry of the Spirit. Meetings each evening of this week at 7 o'clock, in the Presbyterian church. A Remarkable Escape .- A few evenings since Dr. Fuget, of Shermansdale, had what might be called a remarkable escape. While driving along near Rebert's mill, the bit broke and his horse being unmanageable, jumped down the bank and fell to the creek which at that point is fully fifty feet below the road. The doctor rolled out wrapped up in his buffalo robe, and slid down the bank without being hurt. The young man who was with him, saw that the horse was going too near the bank and jumped from the sleigh before it reached the dangerous place. A lantern was procured and after some search the horse was found in the barn yard at the mill, he having turned, after reaching the bed of the creek and gone back to that place. The only thing that showed that the ride had not been as usual, was a broken shaft to the sleigh.

Fighting License.-In Harrisburg great exertion has been made by the temperance men to reduce the number of IIcensed places. During the hearing before the Court, H. Murray Graydon, esq., representing the temperance league presented a paper containing the following statements :

First.—That there are now 100 places for selling liquor in this city, being one to every 300 inhabitants or one to every 60 voters, while there are but 43 churches of all kinds or one to every 700 inhab-itants.

Second-That the number and character of the signers of the applications for license at this term exhibit that it is the license at this term exhibit that it is the desire of a comparatively few persens (besides those pecuniarily interested) that these places should exist in the com-munity. For example, among 182 sig-natures on the 15 applications from the Third ward, there are 69 duplicates, showing that 83 persons only actually signed these 15 applications, being an average of five and eight fifteenth per-sons to each application. Again, six of the 83 actual signers are themselves liquor sellers, and five of these are bonds-men also. men also.

In the Sixth ward, from which there are seven applicants, seven of the sign-ers are liquor sellers. In the Eighth ward one liquor seller appears as a signer on six out of seven applications.

In the Ninth ward, from which there are eight applications, four of the bondsmen are liquor sellers. A large proportion of the signers of the applications in general are known to be men of intemperate habits.

A large proportion of the signers are non-property holders. A number of them are unable to write their own names. In view of the above facts it is asked the number of licenses granted be re-duced duced.

Signed by Rudolph F. Kelker, Julia A. Briggs, T. H. Robinson, George Sig-el and W. M. Frysinger. The petition was taken charge of and will be considered by the court.

Coal Famine at Marysville .- A correspondent of the Patriot says: The people of Marysville are hard pressed for enough coal to keep their fires going. This fuel famine came about in this way. It has been the custom with many of the familes of the town to combine clubs of four or five, and order enough coal direct from the mines to be sufficient for their use during the winter. The remaining people of the town were sup-plied by the local dealers. The plan mentioned was pursued this year as usual, and they ordered what had always been a sufficient amount. The unusually severe weather however necessitated a greater consumption of fuel than in previous years, and some time ago the supply ran out. In the emergency the local dealers were resorted to, but they had made provisions only for their regular customers and in a short time their bins were empty. The dealers at once made application at the mines for more coal, but thus far have been able to get very little. Many of the sidings are blocked with snow, there is a scarcity of coal cars and owing to the extraordinary heavy freight business on the railroads there has been much delay in getting the supply so much needed. It is reported that at the present time all the families in town

Cumberland County .-- We copy the following from the Cumberland papers of last week :

John Hartzler, living on the Lisburn Road, a short distance below Carlisle, in playing with his child one day last week, broke the small bone of its fore arm. 'Dr. A. I. Miller reduced the fract-ure, and it is now reported to be getting along outle well. along quite well.

A valuable horse belonging to Mr. W. A. Mullin, of Mt. Holly Springs, that had been attacked with the lock-jaw was killed on Saturday to put an end to its sufferings,

Juniata County .- We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week :

A masquerading party came off last Thursday night at the residence of John B. Thompson, in Delaware town-ship. Mifflintown, Walker, Port Royal, Thompsontown, Fayette, Susquehanna, and Pfoutz's Valley, Perry county, were represented. A splendid supper was given. This is said to have been the grandest entertainment of the season.

The snow was of sufficient weight on the roof of the barn of M. L. Bashore, the roof of the barn of M. L. Bashore, in Walker township, as to force the sides of the barn spart, and of course the roof fell in. One of the sides of the barn fell into the barn yard. Fortunate-ly the cattle had just been stabled or Mr. Bashore's loss would have been greater. As it is, the loss will amount to the largest end of one thousand dollars.— The barn ranks as among the large barns of the county.

A New Enterprise has been started in A New Enterprise has been started in Mechanicsburg, Cumberland county, by J. W. Ringrose & Co., and that is the making of a new style of Leather Fly Nets. These nets are said to be a great improvement over any style yet made, while the price they will be sold at, is no greater than is asked for the poorer article. Store keepers, before supplying themselves should see these nets and learn prices, and farmers should ask the merchant with whom they deal to the merchant with whom they deal to get at least a sample to show them. For price list, etc., address J. W. RINGROSE & Co., Mechanicsburg, Pa. 5tf.
