Going sleighing and getting turned back by a freshet and upset by some other means was the experience of a party of Koons, who started out to visit Capt. McKeehan. They hope for better luck next time.

On Monday morning a week, about two o'clock, the brick dwelling occupied by the family of the late Dr. George W. Mitchell, in Brown twp., Mifflin county, between Reedsville and Kishacoquillas, was destroyed by fire. The fire broke out in a frame wash-house, in the rear, from which it communicated to the main building.

A correspondent says: The piers of the railroad bridge crossing the Wicon-isco Creek at Millersburg, were moved several inches by the ice, on the 9th and 10th inst., rendering it unsafe for the passage of loaded freight trains, and compelling the passengers of the differ-ent mail and express trains to walk it.

In an article published by us several weeks since Mr. Carberry who is referred to says there is an error. He had not the renting of the property and consequently did not refuse to accept the two names first offered as bail. The suit was brought by his wife.

Adam Carstetter of Pfoutz's Valley, killed one very fine hog last week. It weighed 498 pounds. Several parties had previously guessed at the weight.—Wm. Harter had set it at 500 lbs J. R. Page, at 497, and Mr. Carstetter at 495. He killed another on the same day that weighed 371, and the two made 235 pounds of lard.

A freight wreck occurred on the third track near the tower above Newport on Thursday evening. Three trains were on third track and the third train ran too fast and struck the center train with such force as to badly wreck the engine and quite a number of cars. The men escaped by Jumping. Travel was ob-structed and the mail east due at 6:30 did not reach Newport till about midnight.

A small two-story frame log house in Ickesburg, occupied by Abram Burd, who kept bachelor's hall, was set on fire about twelve o'clock last Tuesday night, about twelve o'clock last Tuesday night, and totally destroyed, together with its contents, which consisted of about $50 worth of furniture. There was nobody in the house at the time, and there is no doubt but that it was incendiary fige. Loss, trifling. The house adjoining Kendig & Hostetter's lumber yard, was in danger, but a calm night and the snow-covered piles of beards, saved it from destruction.—Ledger.

Personal.—A number of the best citizens of Carlisle have signed a circular requesting Mr. George Hench, a former citizen of Perry, to be a candidate for councilman, and he has acceded to their request.

There is quite a sand boom on Duncan's Island at the present time. The sand is dug on the island and hauled to the freight warehouse here on carts and shipped eastward.-Record.

A Mishap to a Sleighing Party.—On Tuesday a party of ladies from Newport visited the poor house, and enjoyed a good sled ride. On the return when near the residence of Mr. Tressler in Centre twp., they met the stage. As it passed the sled, Mr. Rice drew his horses in so quick that the single tree struck the hind seat in the sled and threw the ladies sitting on it out backwards. One of them, Mrs. Smith, wife of C. N. Smith, struck on her head, causing concussion of the brain. The lady was brought to town and after resting a short time and receiving the care of Dr. Strickler, was able to proceed on her journey to Newport by being laid down in the sled. She was kept in bed a couple of days, but is now recovered.

In Jail for Forgery. - A young chap named Elmer Campbell, whose parents reside in Tuscarora twp., was lodged in jail in this place on Friday morning on the charge of forgery. He had early in January 1880, forged his father's pame to an order for goods to Mr. P. Bosserman. On Thursday morning he saved being arrested by paying this bill and costs, but made another raise by getting W. H. Minich to discount a forged note for $150, signed by J. E. Campbell and A. S. Whitekettle. He also tried to get the Deposit bank to discount a note with same signatures, but Mr. Irvine was too sharp to be caught by such chaff. Telling Campbell to call again, he got a justice to issue a warrant for his arrest, and as Campbell did not call again the officer hunted him up and found him at the depot evidently waiting a chance to leave. Constable Hartzel arrested him, and while taking his prisoner to the justice, the chap made his escape, but was captured again next morning and now enjoys the hospitality of Sheriff Beers, with a fair prospect of Another Sudden Death. - We were shocked to learn on Monday morning of the unexpected death of the wife of Mr. J. S. Whitmore residing near this place. Mrs. W., had gone to bed Sunday evening in her usual health. Mr. Whitmore was in the room over where his wife slept, taking care of his father who is ill, and one of the children was sleeping with her mother. About four o'clock the little girl was awakened by a strange noise her mother was making and called to her father. When he reached the room his wife was insensible. Dr. Sunday was sent for, but medical aid was no use. Still, not satisfied, Mr. Whitmore had Dr. Strikler summoned, but when he arrived, he was of the opinion that she had been dead for over an hour, the cause of her death probably being heart disease. The deceased was daughter of S. Shull, Esq., residing near Duncannon.

Bridges Gone. - The fog and rains of Thursday and Friday had the effect to so rot the ice that it commenced to move off the Junista on Friday afternoon. doing as it was feared it would do, great damage. The bridges across the Juniata are most of them damaged and some nearly or wholly carried off. The first bridge to give way was the county bridge at Newton Hamilton. Two spans of Lewistown bridge next were carried off. Shortly afterwards a portion of the Mifflintown bridge was also swept away by the ice. About 5 o'clock two spans of the Millerstown bridge was taken, and in its passage down the river it struck the bridge at Newport tearing away two spans of it. The bridge at the mouth of the Juniata at this time (Saturday evening) is safe though somewhat racked. The wires of the Western Union, west of Newport are down so that but little information can be got of other damages in that direction. From other localities in this county we have not yet heard of any damages from the water, but expect to hear of the loss of some small bridges. The change of weather Saturday night stopped the melting of the snow and may prevent further damage.

Refused a New Trial. - The Snyder County Court on Tuesday overruled the motion for a new trial in the case of Emanuel Ettinger, Israel Erb, and Jonathan Moyer, convicted of the murder of Gretchen Kintzler, an old woman, and pronounced sentence of death on all of them. They had all had separate trials, and in each case the evidence as to their guilt was conclusive. Moyer was tried in December last, and the testimony against him was even more conclusive than that elicted at the trials of Ettinger and Erb, additional facts having been obtained as to the horrible murder from a young woman and Detective Lyons, who worked up the case, to whom the defendant had made a confession of his connection with the killing of Kintzler and his wife, who had lived for many years in a quaint old log house and were known to have considerable mcney. The murder was committed in December, 1877, and soon after several of the suspected parties were tried for the murder of the old man, but the jury discarded the testimony of one of the accomplices, a young girl, and they were acquitted. The case was then placed in the hands of Detective Lyons, of Reading, who has devoted nearly two years to the pursuit of the murderers, who were the second time put on trial for the murder of Kintzler's wife. The court directed the sheriff and Detective Lyons to convey the murderers to jail.

Cumberland County .- We copy the following from the Cumberland papers of last week:

A colored man named Wilson, residing in Shippensburg, imbibed too much on Friday evening, and on his way home, to colored hill, he fell by the wayside and was found a corpse on Saturday morning, having frozen to death.

On Friday of last week, Herman Bash, residing on South Seneca Avenue, had occasion to visit Jeremiah Angle's residence, near Cobweb Mill, and when passing through the yard, he slipped on the ice and fell, breaking the thigh bone of his left leg. He was removed to his residence, and Dr. C. A. Howland was called, who rendered the necessary surgical aid, and the patient is doing well, notwithstanding his advanced age—he being over seventy years old. On Friday of last week, Herman

The case of Gilson Smith and Mary J. Smith, his wife, in her right, against the Borough of Shippensburg, for damages, was tried before Judge Herman at Carlisle, this week. The suit for damages was brought by Mrs. Smith for an accident, which occurred to her while on her road homeward, some twelve months since. She alleges that, owing to the crossing on Orange and Penn Streets not being in proper repair she fell and fractured the bones of one of her limbs, and through her counsel placed the damages at $5,000. A great many witnesses appeared on both sides, the jury on Thursday brought in a verdict for $210.00.—News. The case of Gilson Smith and Mary

On Monday afternoon Conductor Frank Stahl of the S. M. R. R. met with a serious accident whilst engaged in coupling the engine to a freight car. Mr. S., in attempting to make the coupling slipped and fell and was caught between the bumpers. He was severely squeezed in the hips, and although no llimbs were broken, his lipuries are of a serious character. A physician was immediately summoned, and Dr. Miller was on the spot in a few moments and afforded the injured man all possible relief. He was shortly afterwards removed to his home at Pine Grove.

Juniata County .- We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week !

A correspondent of the Port Royal Times says: Mr. John A. Reed, son of Mrs. H. L. McMeen, of Turbett twp., this county, lost the faculty of speech and was unable to articulate above a whisper from the effects of a bad cold he contracted at the McAlisterville S. O. S. in Oct., 1876. He was under medical treatment for one year, and consulted some of the best physicians of Juniata county, but all failed to restore his voice. He quit school and worked on a form for two years. On the 4th of July voice. He quit school and worked on a farm for two years. On the 4th of July 1880, he was traveling in a buggy in company with a Mr. Christy. They were eating some raisins, and Reed choked on them. He was so badly strangled that the blood ran out of his mouth and nose, but when he came to, he could talk as loud as any one. He has been able to talk and sing loud ever since. talk as loud as any one. He has been able to talk and sing loud ever since. He was almost four years that he could not speak above a whisper. FOR THE TIMES.

Anilene, Kan., Feb. 2, 1881. MR. EDITOR:—I regularly get your valuable paper and see some news in it from all parts of the globe. If you spare me a little space I will try and tell a little of this State. It is now a year and one month since I left the last time. year and one month since I left the last time. I felt happy when I had such a long trip before me, leaving Duncannon and landing in the city of San Francisco, Cal. But all the enjoyments of life and those large pears we read of would not keep me there. I still thought there is no place like Abilene, and I think so yet, as I am here now and intend to stay. Everything seems to be a little dull, but we have a bright prospect ahead. The expectations are for a good wheat crop next summer, as we had seems to be a little dull, but we have a bright prospect ahead. The expectations are for a good wheat crop next summer, as we had plenty of snow to protect the crop. This was an unusual cold winter; it got cold the second Monday in November and it has been freezing ever since. The ground is frozen from eighteen inches to two feet deep, but still our cattle are not suffering, as they get used to the cold weather. I thick times must be hard in the east, as still more and more are coming here. Every man that came from Pennsylvania has friends coming out except myself. Prices of produce here is as follows: Wheat brings from 45 to 75 cents per bushel, corn 25 to 30 cents, pork from $2.75 to $3.10, butter 15 to 25, eggs from 20 to 25. Groceries are about as cheap as with you. You can buy a fine two-horse wagon at from $50 to $75, horses from $10 to $150. Weather is moderating. If I was to advise any one to come out here it would be one that has plenty of money; the country is full enough of those that have none. A man that thinks of coming here without a trade and without money had better not come, as Kansas has no poor houses. Carpenters can get work any time and at good wages. I have now a contract of building two store rooms, the buildings to be 50x100 feet, two story-high, and built of brick. Abilene is still on the boom. I was out in Russell county last Sunday. Crops look promising there. Mr. Harnish is so well pleased that he would not go back to Perry again. Best wishes to you from

MR. EDITOR:—The ice on the Susquehanna moved at this point to-day. Fears were entertained that the N. C. R., and P. R. R., bridges located at the northern and southern limits of our town would scarcely bear the pressure of a sudden break up; but at this writing all seems safe. Reports reached us to-day of extensive damages resulting from the sudden break up, on the Juniala from its mouth till some distance above Millerstown; also on Powellance above Millerstown; also on Powellance. on the Juniata from its mouth till some dis-tance above Millerstown; also on Powells Creek, in Dauphin county, between Clark's Ferry and Hallfax.
