THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO. has bought a controlling interest in the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore, and now control every road of any importance running out of Philadelphia.

SOME idea of the vast throng of visitors to Washington during the inauguration period may be formed from the statement that on Thursday 3,400 strangers visited the Corcoran Art Gallery, and on Saturday the visitors numbered 82,625.

IN A PORTION only of our edition last week, an error occurred regarding the President's Cabinet. We therefore republish the corrected list this week.

- Secretary of State—James G. Blaine, Maine. Secretary of the Treasury—William Windom, Minnesota. Secretary of the Interior—Samuel J. Kirkwood, Iowa.

ROBERT T. LINCOLN, the new Secretary of War is but little known to the public and therefore we think the following sketch taken from a Chicago exchange will interest readers:

Robert Todd Lincoln, the only surviving child of Abraham Lincoln is 37 years of age. He was born in 1843, at Springfield, Ill. He fitted for college at Phillips Academy, Exeter, N. H. He entered Harvard College, graduating in the summer of 1864.

He was married in 1869 to a daughter of Senator Harlan, and is the father of three children. Mr. Lincoln is regarded as a young man of great vigor, ability and executive capacity; remarkable, like his father, for his sound common sense and a good judgment, unaffected and modest to a fault, and indefatigably industrious, laborious and energetic in all that he undertakes.

THE COLLISION which we briefly referred to last week occurred fourteen miles from Baltimore on the Baltimore and Potomac road, between the second section of the fast train north, which left Washington at 1:10 P. M., and a train of empty passenger cars drawn by two engines going south to Washington.

J. A. Weaver, badly cut over the left eye and ear.

J. W. Simonds, cut on left side and head. D. D. Dormer, scalp wound. W. P. Morall, back of head cut. D. D. Geiger, fingers and head cut. J. Johnson, conductor Pullman car, right ankle cut. H. Freeburn, engine man, skull fractured, since died.

John Unglaub, engine man, head cut and badly bruised on legs and side. —, porter of the Pullman car, leg broken.

Robert Oliver, E. M. Skee, G. Freese, Jacob Rider, Robert Everheart and William Talbot, train hands, were more or less cut and bruised, but not seriously. Henry Freeburn, engineer of the empty train, and whose skull was fractured in the collision, had written orders to run "regardless" to Severn station and there wait the arrival of train No. 10, the fast train which had the right of way and John Unglaub, the engineer of No. 10, had written orders to run to Severn station and there wait for Freeburn's train. Freeburn disobeyed by passing the siding at Severn and the collision could not be avoided by the north bound train.

Forty-Seven Years in Harness.

WASHINGTON, March 7th.—Judge James Lawrensen, an old attache of the office, who also acts as Notary Public for the Post Office Department, administered the oath of office to Postmaster General James to-day. Judge Lawrensen has filled a clerical position in the Department at Washington since 1834, a period of forty-seven years.

A Bad Young Fellow.

CINCINNATI, March, 7.—Edward Young, son of a prominent attorney at Georgetown, Ohio, shot and killed George Ashmore, about 10 o'clock Saturday night, and seriously, if not fatally, wounded James Ashmore and Clinton Campbell. Young and James Ashmore have previously had several quarrels.—The two Ashmores and Campbell were in Lawll & Inskop's grocery on Saturday night, the Ashmores being intoxicated. As they were going out they met Young entering. High words followed, and Young drawing a revolver, said: "Don't crowd me or I'll hurt you." He then fired three shots, the first killing George Ashmore, the second striking Campbell in the left side and the third taking effect in James Ashmore's head.

A Philadelphia Mystery.

What may turn out a mysterious suicide occurred on Sunday night at the Market-street Ferry. About 5.30 o'clock slip-tender Joseph W. Orr went into the ladies' waiting-room to fill up the stove with coal and went into the closet in the rear to see if there were any loiterers concealing themselves to obtain a warm berth for the night, which is not unusual occurrence. Just as he was coming out he discovered some female apparel lying on the floor, and upon examination found it to consist of a "Dolly Varden" overskirt lined with black chintz, a black underskirt, a waist body of the same material and a belt. Several days have passed, and as yet no clue to how the clothing came there has been found. It is thought it is a probable suicide.

Miscellaneous News Items.

Wesley Harrison Smith, a negro, was shot and killed near Campbellsburg, Henry county, Kentucky, last week by ten masked "vigilants" while he was in the act of firing a barn. There have been ten incendiary fires in the neighborhood during the past year. It is stated that some of the vigilants are serving as jurymen in the inquest on the body.

A girl in St. Louis, previous to starting to the magistrate's with her lover to be married a few days ago, pasted the figures 22 in her shoes, and when asked how old she was, said she was "over 22." The magistrate was not satisfied, and proceeded to examine her under oath, when she acknowledged that she was a minor. The wedding was postponed.

The office of the Union Express Company at Louisville was entered and robbed early Thursday morning. The officers of the company were reticent, but it is known that the robbery was committed by four masked men, who overpowered Frank Brower, in charge of the office, and opened the safe. One report is that between $3000 and $4000 was secured, but Superintendent Rose thinks not more than $350 was taken.

Thomas M. Baker, a clerk in the dead letter office, was arrested Wednesday on charges of rifling and stealing dead letters. He has been for six years in the office, and has assorted all the ordinary dead letters received. When arrested he had in his possession one letter containing seven dollars. He has confessed that his depredations have extended over a year, but will not state how much money he has stolen.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Stockholders of the American Rapid Telegraph Company to-day voted to increase its capital stock to $10,000,000, and to extend its lines to the principal cities in the United States. The directors at a subsequent meeting requested the treasurer to offer the six millions of increased stock to stockholders of the 15th instant, pro rata at par, the right to expire on the 25th instant. They also authorize the president and Executive Committee to make contracts for extension.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 9, 1881.

The President is rapidly getting into his duties, the new Cabinet is in full possession of the Executive Departments, and everything goes on as if the change in the administration had taken place a year, instead of less than a week ago.

Since the inauguration large crowds of visitors and office seekers have thronged the White House, and the pressure upon the President, and in fact upon all influential men, is greater than was anticipated. Of course some one will have to yield, and before many weeks but few of those who held prominent positions under President Hayes will be left.

The new Cabinet met yesterday, for the first time, but did not consider anything but the policy to be pursued in relation to the National Banks.

Republican Senators of influence are undergoing a steady pressure for assistance to obtain office that is perhaps heavy as that of the President. Senator Conkling is particularly besieged, and at the Capitol, sometimes an office seeker is pouring an application in each ear of the Senator at the same time.—Senators Logan, Cameron, Allison and others are importuned almost as persistently.

Commissioner Le Duc will have to go, it is understood. There are many competitors for the place, but Dr. Loring, of Massachusetts, a gentleman farmer, who makes addresses at all the agricultural fairs, and Dr. Felton in addition to being a preacher and a physician, is, he says himself, a farmer by profession and practice. He has represented the agriculturists of the country in the ways and means committee, and has, on the floor at various times acted as the mouth-piece of the farmers. He is backed by his independent colleagues from Georgia, and by many members on both sides of the House, and feels quite confident of receiving the nomination from Garfield, his personal friend. Dr. Loring is quite confident that he will be chosen by the President.

In case Fred Douglass is displaced as District marshal he is to be provided for as Minister to Brazil, it is said.

Gen. Logan will make a determined effort to secure the removal of Commissioner of Pensions, Bentley. Good on his head! May success attend him.

Ex-Treasurer New, says that he is not a candidate for the English, or any other mission; that he wants no office within the gift of the administration, and he don't want to be considered a sore-head either. It has been definitely decided to appoint Mr. Wm. C. Chandler Solicitor General of the Department of Justice. His name will be sent to the Senate before the special session is over.

Last night when President Garfield was being bored to death for his autograph, Editor Bickham, of Dayton told him he could escape a deal of trouble if he would only send for Morey to that class of work for him. It is understood that President Garfield, after a conference yesterday with Attorney General Mac Veagh and Secretary Blaine, decided to re-nominate Ex-Secretary Stanley Mathews for the Supreme Court vacancy. The nominations will be sent to the Senate in a day or two.

Oliver.

The Ladies as a rule like to dress well, and the men like to see them well dressed. There are some men though who cannot afford to spend very much money for pretty dresses, but for such persons we have some goods which don't cost much, and yet will make up in a stylish manner when combined with some appropriate trimming, and buttons to match. We intend to have at all times this season a good assortment of this class of goods.

F. MORTIMER.

Attention, Housekeepers.—Special attention is requested of all housekeepers and those who are about going to house-keeping to the advertisement of Messrs. Stephens & Beetem, in another column of this paper on the subject of Carpets. From the tone of their "ad." it certainly must be to the interest of all who desire goods in the line of Carpets, Oil Cloths, and Wall Paper, to call on them. They can not or will not be undersold and their large and attractive stock should be an inducement for any in want of these goods to at least inspect them. They offer to ship your goods free of cost and thus save you the trouble of hauling them when otherwise burdened. As a rule people do not buy what they do not want, but where wants become apparent then he who is able to supply those wants in the most satisfactory manner is the person who sells cheapest. The proprietors of the Carlisle Carpet House are now ready to do this, and we bespeak for them a large trade this season. We know whereof we speak.

Carpet Weaving.—John W. Bistline, near Markleville, gives notice that he is prepared to do WEAVING of all kinds, promptly, and at Low Prices. If you are wanting Carpets or other weaving done, call on JOHN W. BISTLINE, Markleville, Pa.

A CARD.

A new enterprise has been started in Mechanicsburg, Cumberland county, by J. W. Ringrose & Co., and that is the making of a new style of Leather Fly Nets. These nets are said to be a great improvement over any style yet made, while the price they will be sold at, is no greater than is asked for the poorer article. Store keepers, before supplying themselves should see these nets and learn prices, and farmers should ask the merchant with whom they deal to get at least a sample to show them. For prices list, etc., address J. W. RINGROSE & Co., Mechanicsburg, Pa., or KENNEDY, WILLING & Co., 100 and 102 North 3rd Street, Philadelphia. 51f.

A NEW WRINKLE.

Wheat grists exchanged on sight or ground in a few hours. We have no low water now since tapping the Pennsylvania canal. We have the only Smith purifier in the county, and allow no one to make better flour. We pay five cents advance on market rates for Mediterranean or Lancaster wheat. We also sell Pillsbury's XXXX flour on commission, which is the best in the world.

MILTON B. ESHLEMAN, Newport, Pa.

Knives, Forks, and Spoons in a good assortment can be bought at low prices of F. MORTIMER.

Mammoth Pearl Potatoes.

I have a lot of this excellent variety of potatoes—a seedling of the Victor—raised from seed purchased of A. C. Ashald, of the original stock, which I will sell at $1.25 per bushel, 65 cents half bushel, 35 cents per peck, and 20 cents half peck. This potato is free from rot, never hollow, skin and flesh pure, pearly white. Eyes few and even with the surface. Ripens in August, and yields better than any other variety I have ever raised.

ROSS HENCH, Eschol, Perry Co., Pa.

Still Alive!—I am still alive and ready to cut and fit suits in good style. If wanting any work in my line, give me a call. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

SAMUEL BENTZEL, TAILOR.

Dental Notice.

I wish to inform the people of lower Juniata and Perry counties, that I have located a Dental Office at the Martin Hotel in Millerstown, for the purpose of practicing Dentistry in all its branches. Having had ample city practice at Indianapolis, Ind., during the war period, sending out plate work to nearly all of the northern States, also had an office in the city of Auburn, N. Y., I will bring to the village of Millerstown, city practice at the ruling country prices. I will use no cheap material, consequently I will not advertise any of the low prices. Full set of rubber plates, either upper or lower, $15; filling teeth, from 50c upward; building up teeth with gold, from $3 to $10 and upward. All work guaranteed. No work done on trial.
