A Lecture to Young Men

On the Loss of MANHOOD

A LECTURE ON THE NATURE, TREATment, and Radical cure of Seminal Weakness, or spermatorrhora, induced by Self Abuse, involuntary Emmissions. Impotency, Nervous Debility, and Impediments to marriage generally: Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits: Mental and Physical Incapacity, etc.—by ROBERT J. CULVERWELL. M. D., author of the "Green Book." etc.
The world-renowned anthor, in this admirable lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without dangerous surgical operations, bougles, instruments, rings, or cordials: pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself chenjly, privately and radically.

23. This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

A FULL ASSORTMENT HARDWARE, IRON & STEEL

OUR NEW STORE-ROOM. F. MORTIMER, New Bloomfield.

Gravity," said one of our learned judges, "is no more proof of wisdom than a paper collar is of a man's having a shirt on."

a peach .- I've eaten it, cloth and all mamma; now what shall I do with the bone ? A middle-sized boy, writing a composition on "Extremes," remarked that "we should avoid extremes, especi-

Gracie's first experience in eating ally those of wasps and bees." Many a young lady who objects to being kissed under the mistletoe has no objection to being kissed under the rose. A careless compositor made an error in the above, rendering it, "has no objection to being kissed under the nose." @ You cast all sorts of things in metal don't you ?" said a would be wit as he peered in at Figgin's type foundry. "Yes, can't you see its our business?" "Well then," replied the w. b. w., as he edged toward the door, "cast me a shadow." He was promptly cast out .-

237 A fanatical preacher in Syracuse recently told his congregation that if the women would all dance by themselves in a ten acre lot surrounded by a high board fence, and the men in another enclosure of the same kind, there would be no harm in dancing .- No harm and not much dancing either.

Conductors do the fare thing and masons the square thing.—Erratic Enrique. And editors the write thing .-Yawcob Strauss. And laundresses the clean thing .- Marlboro Times. And police justices the fine thing .- Sommerville Journal. This thing is getting pretty well finished, but we will add that a man who supports a fainting lady does the prop-her thing.

LE A Yankee tobacco chewer was in the habit of declaring about once a month that he would "never chew another piece," but broke his pledge as often as he made it. On one occasion shortly after he had "broken off" he was seen taking another chew. "Why, you told me you had given up that habit, but I see you are at it again," said his friend. "Yes," he replied, "I have gone to chewing and left off lying."

'A lot of copper ore in pigs!" exclaimed Mrs. Partington, as her eye caught an account of some smelting operations. "I don't wonder they have the scrofula and everything else that is bad. I dare say their lard is nothing but verdigrease, for copper is very dilatorious, and pigs is human." "pigs aren't human, neither," said Ike, put-"and it means ting his oar in; copper." Mrs. Partington looked at him quite seriously a moment. "Well," said she, "if pigs isn't human, some humans are hogs.

A Stock Deal. "Jay Gould is a liar," exclaimed a man who, in his excitement, trampled on a boy and entered a lawyers office.

"What's the matter?" demanded the lawyer. "I want to sue Jay Gould for libel,

"What, has Mr. Gould slandered you ?" "No; but he has told me a lie and ruined me," "How ?"

"Why, some time ago I saw in a newspaper that Jay Gould said stocks would go up. 'Buy all the stocks you can get your hands on,' said he. I had about $10,000, and I concluded to adopt Mr. Goulds plan. I went around the country and bought all the sheep, hogs, cows, and goats I could get my hands on. Oh, I had a good thing. None of my neighbors knew that Gould had taken me into his confidence. Well, after investing my $10,000 I got to studying about the transaction. I took up the news papers again, and there it was: stocks are going up, they will continue to rise. Investments cannot fail of immense returns.' I mortgaged my farm, came to Cleveland, and bought all the mules I could get. Then I went home and waited for the rise. Dinged if they didn't begin to fall. My wife remarked that I ought to be careful, but I told her that Jay Gould did not make mistakes. Now, sir, I cannot sell my animal rubbish for half what it cost me. I telegraphed to Mr. Gould and asked him when to sell. He telegraphed back. 'When you please.' And now, lawyer, just make out a lot of papers stating that Jay Gould is a liar, and I'll sue him on 'em."
