THE Republican Convention at Cleveland renominated Chas. Foster for Governor by acclamation.

HEAVY FROSTS did bad work in many places, on Monday and Tuesday nights of last week. Another of Vennor's predictions as to the weather, fulfilled.

A TERRIBLE FIRE devastated Quebec on Thursday night. Eight hundred houses were burned and three lives lost. The loss is over two millions of dollars. Twenty-five hundred persons are rendered homeless, and much suffering will ensue.

AFFAIRS in Ireland are assuming a very bad shape. Instead of improving, condition at present is more serious than at any previous time. Conflicts between the people and the military are becoming frequent and assuming more alarming proportions.

THE English capitalists who were only too glad to believe that the United States was going to fall to pieces, and only too eager to invest in Confederate bonds and thus help on the Confederate cause, have been meeting to consider what can be done to realize something on those bonds. They may consult and plan, but they may be sure that they will get little sympathy and less money from this side of the sea.

THE MONOTONY of the voting for Senator at Albany was varied on Thursday by one Senator charging that he had been bribed. He asserted that he had been offered $2,000 to vote for Depew and that the money was paid and he had given it to the Speaker. The anti-Conflicting men deny the charge and assert that it is a trick to drive votes from Depew who had gained such strength as to make it seem that his election was probable. It certainly does look that way, as no politician above the grade of an idiot would offer money, much less pay it out, in such a bungling manner. A committee of investigation was ordered, and one man swears that the charge is true and the man accused swears that it is false. If true, it is to be hoped that evidence will be brought forward to make it clear.

Millersville School Troubles.

Another difficulty has broken out between the faculty and students of the State Normal School at Millersville, and is causing a good deal of excitement. A number of the students are charged with violation of the rules and organizing for the purpose of coercing the faculty. A meeting of the faculty was held a few days ago, and the Principal of the school has been instructed by the trustees to take a firm stand against the act of insubordination. In pursuance of a resolution of the faculty, J. W. Coates, of Lycoming, has been expelled, and J. B. Hipple, of Mt. Joy, suspended. As a result of this action a meeting of the students was held on Tuesday evening, when between sixty and seventy resolved to leave the school. Early Wednesday morning 149 of the students, headed by a band, took up their march for Lancaster, where those who were leaving the school took the cars for home. A banner bearing the inscription "Free Speech" was carried at the head of the procession. They were cheered by the students who remained at the school by the waving of handkerchiefs on the part of the ladies and the cheers of the gentlemen. It will not be surprising if the school is entirely broken up.

A Very Large Check.

PHILADELPHIA, June 8. — President Roberts, of the Pennsylvania railroad company, yesterday paid to the committee of Boston shareholders $14,949,052.50, the amount of money due on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore railroad stock bought by the Pennsylvania railroad company. The money was not due until July 1st, but the present financial condition of the Pennsylvania road being good it thought wise to anticipate the payment. Subscriptions to the allotment of new stock authorized at the last annual meeting, together with the late heavy earnings and the surplus on hand June 1st, furnished the necessary funds. The money was paid in New York by means of a certified check on a New York bank. Besides the $15,000,000 of stock, the Pennsylvania road has also purchased and paid for $1,000,000 more, bought from persons other than the Boston syndicate, and has distributed since June 1st, $2,500,000 among its stockholders in the shape of dividends. The Pennsylvania railroad will not take formal possession of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore road until July 1st, when both roads will be operated under the same general management.

A Strange Journey.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., June 7. — Five or six years ago Rufus Miller, a well-known farmer of Mechanicville, near this city, just before retiring placed in his eye what is known as an eye-stone. The next morning, as the stone did not drop from his eye, he supposed that it had dropped out while he was asleep. He searched about his bedchamber, but could not find it. Several weeks ago he discovered a hard lump on the end of the little finger of his right hand. His friends told him that it was a wart, and advised him to let it alone. About a week ago it became painful, and he began picking it. He soon saw that there was a hard substance under the skin, and by continuous picking he produced his long-lost eye-stone. Mr. Miller examined the stone so carefully that there can be no mistake. He recalls that some months ago he experienced an aching in his right wrist, and it is supposed that the stone was then moving toward the end of the finger. It is a mystery how this little bit of carbonate of lime made that journey through Miller's system without being absorbed.

Talking at Long Range.

A new kind of telephone has recently been patented in Europe under the name of electrophone, that has shown some remarkable results. At a recent test of the machine on the line between Calais and Dover, words whispered in the apparatus at one end were not only heard at the other, but the listener was also able to distinguish by the tone and deflection of the voice who the speaker was. This experiment was carried on over one wire, while the others were used for the transmission of ordinary telegraph messages, and at a time in the day when they were in constant use. — The inventor maintains that by the use of the electrophone it will be just as easy to talk across the sea by means of the submarine cable as from one room to another.

Mysterious Mischief.

BOSTON, June 8. — A special dispatch from New Bedford, Mass., says that numerous outrages have occurred near Westport and in Little Compton and Triverton, R. I., several parties having had hay stacks burned and cattle poisoned. A short time ago the well of Edward Howland was poisoned, resulting in the death of a boy and the severe illness of three other persons. Lately other parties have lost horses and cattle by poison. It is stated that the people are afraid to testify against the party suspected, who has not yet been arrested.

When the excellence of rice as a diet is fully understood its use will be more frequent and of daily occurrence in every household. At this season of the year especially, it may properly be classed as superior to any of the cereals which are in such general use for the morning and midday meals. No other food is so easy of digestion, and at its present cost it is cheaper than potatoes, oat-meal or grain-grits of any kind.

Miscellaneous News Items.

There are so many applicants for the position of postmaster at Corry, Pa., that the postoffice department has sent an agent there to look into the matter.

Complaints are being made concerning the recent census reports. It is claimed that the village of Bath, N. Y., has a population of over 3,000 while the census places it at 1,183. It is said also that one village in the town of Hornellsville is omitted entirely.

Two Toronto suitors of the same girl wanted to take her out for a drive on the same afternoon. They fought in the streets for possession, and finally seized her, each pulling her with all his might toward his own carriage. Her clothing was badly damaged before the victor had secured her.

Henry A. Elkins is a Chicago artist of considerable reputation, gained by pictures of wild mountain scenery. His wife has sued William Cadney for $25,000 damages, on the ground the painter has become a drunkard in Cadney's barroom, thus reducing his income from $10,000 a year to almost nothing.

CINCINNATI, June 4. — A special despatch to the Times-Star says: "Great indignation has been aroused at Canton, Ohio, at finding broken open a vault in the cemetery which had been closed for twenty-five years and the bones of the dead scattered around. The supposed object of the desecration was to obtain jewelry from the bodies.

Two little boys, Clarence Gross and Willie Domy, wrestling in Dublin, Ga., fell on their sides. Willie got up leaving Clarence on the ground. The bystanders noticed that he did not stir, and approaching they found he was dead. He died without a moan, a struggle or any other indication that anything was the matter with him.

John Reynolds, a wealthy resident of Lackawanna, Pa., added to the desecration of his wife the meanness of converting all his property into cash, and taking it along. Mrs. Gladstone, the woman with whom he eloped, was meaner still. Although her husband was comparatively poor, she stole the small amount of money which he had saved by years of frugality.

The funeral of Dr. D. Decker, at Mt. Clemens, Michigan, was the occasion of a little professional unpleasantness that would have disgraced a much less solemn affair. The physicians of the village were invited to act as pall-bearers, and then one of them bluntly refused to act, giving as a reason that one of the other pall-bearers was a Homoeopath, and adding that he "would not help bury a Homoeopath, nor would he let a Homoeopath help bury him."

CINCINNATI, June 7. — A despatch from Jackboro, Tenn., says Rev. W. P. Newberry, of Kentucky, was killed yesterday by J. J. Oaks, in Elk valley. Oaks had eloped with Newberry's daughter and married her. Newberry pursued with four others, and surrounding the house where Oaks was they approached the door with drawn revolvers. Oaks met Newberry at the door and shot him dead. Oaks is in custody.

The Lacy boys of Madison, Wis., went to a menagerie and became filled with the idea of starting a beast show of their own, using such material as was within reach. They painted stripes on a white pony for a zebra, shined the hind half of a big Newfoundland dog for a lion, cut off the fore legs of a calf for a kangaroo, and were about to make a tailless cat by chopping when their father discovered them.

PHILADELPHIA, June 8. — George W. Hubble, of Harrisburg, ex-route agent, who was recently convicted of stealing a breastpin from the mails, was refused a new trial this morning and sentenced to pay a fine of one hundred dollars, costs of prosecution and undergo an imprisonment for one year in the Eastern Penitentiary. Judge Butler in sentencing him said: "I am sorry so severe a sentence should be inflicted on such a young man of apparently so good a character, and my mind is not free from the idea that you may not be guilty of this offence, but the evidence against you is conclusive."

PITTSBURG, June 7. — William Murphy, the divorced husband of Mrs. Newton McClarren, visited the home of that lady at Edgewood, near this city at 3 o'clock this afternoon and requested an interview. When Mrs. McClarren appeared, Murphy threw his arm around her neck and while thus embracing her drew a revolver and shot her in the back. He fired a second shot which entered her breast, and then placing the revolver to his forehead fired, the bullet crashing through his brain killing him instantly. It is thought that Mrs. McClarren will recover. She obtained a divorce from Murphy on account of ill treatment and subsequently married William Campbell, who died some years since. About four weeks ago she was married to Newton McClarren, a druggist. The parties are well known and occupy a prominent position in society.

A Prominent Lawyer's Opinion.

In one of our New England exchanges we observe that Wm. T. Filley, Esq., of Pittsfield, Attorney-at-Law and Asst. Judge Police Court, and late County Commissioner, was restored to perfect health and activity, by the use of St. Jacobs Oil. He had suffered with rheumatism for years intensely; but by the use of the remedy he was, as stated, completely cured, and says the Oil deserves the highest praise. — Springfield, (Mass.) Republican.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8, 1881. The reports from Albany are not hopeful of any speedy solution of the dead-lock though it is stated that the administration are showing more disposition than heretofore to concentrate upon candidates. The Democrats are in a state of disgust over the discovery that if they had been watchful yesterday they might have elected a Senator. The record showed that there were only 100 members present. With merely this number in attendance a Senator could have been elected with only 51 votes, which is less, by three, than the full Democratic vote. In order not to be again caught napping, the following circular was issued last evening to the Democratic members of the Legislature: "In view of the fact that exigencies may at any time arise in the pending Senatorial struggle, we earnestly recommend that the Democratic members abstain from pairing, and so far as possible avoid absence from the sessions of the joint convention." The effort will be made to-day to elect Mr. Depew for the long term. The plan now is to push him ahead till it is determined whether it is possible to elect him or not, and in the event of failure to drop him and take up some other man. The muddle is becoming more complicated than ever, each faction seems afraid to make a move for fear the other will derive some immense advantage.

The report is again revived of a contemplated alliance between the Democratic and Greenback members of the next House to secure its organization. Undoubtedly secret correspondence and conferences have been held with a view to such a combination. This fact has been known for several months. There is no doubt either but that some of the Greenback members-elect and prominent Democrats are heartily in accord in their views favoring such a coalition, and that they intend to consummate it if possible. Strong efforts are being made to capture the Districts vacated by Mr. Frye and Levi P. Morton, as the loss of even one of these will leave the Republicans with only 146 members, or a minority of one. There is no possibility whatever of their succeeding in Mr. Frye's District, but they have perhaps some chance of getting a member in Mr. Morton's place. But Republicans doubt it much. After all, the success or failure of the plan depends upon the action of the two readjuster members from Virginia and of Smith, of Brooklyn. Democrats believe that if Virginia goes Democratic Fulkerson and Paul will be found among the regular Democrats in Congress. Hon. Mr. Smith will vote no one seems to know. About all that can be stated with any positiveness is that a determined effort to organize the House will be made by a coalition of Democrats and Greenbackers if there is any prospect whatever of success.

The Treasury Investigation is nearly through with. It has been about settled that the charges at first made public cannot be supported by the facts developed. No public officer has been found to have enriched himself, nor can any dealers be found who have been unduly profited. But there has been looseness enough to warrant changes of some of the officials.
