THE

SPRINGFIELD

SEWING MACHINE.

Best in the World.

The manufacturers of the SPRINGFIELD are aware that, in order to meet the critical and economical demands of the times, the machine must possess a combination of mechanical excel-lences, making it superior to any of its predecessors, and at the same time be offered at a price that will place it within the means of all.
Fully realizing the truth of these conditions, they offer the Springfield, confident that it will fulfill every requirement that can be expected of a first class family and manufacturing machine.
Every Machine is warranted perfect in construction. In case any of the parts prove defective, when machine is used for family purposes, within five years from date of purchase, the manufacturer will replace such defective part without charge. This does not apply to needles, shuttles, or bobbins. Made by lady has," remarked Jones, in a half audible tone. "Yes," replied Pingrey, "but it isn't hers." "Tis false!" cried the lady, suddenly facing the rude fellows.Francis, is your master at home?" "No sir." "When will he return?" "He glimmes orders to say he wasn't at home, but he didn't glimme no important looking desk. He asked him if the librarian was in yet. "I am the librarian, sir." "Why," said the lawyer, "I was in here before and you said the librarian would be in at nine o'clock.

How does this happen?" "Oh, said he,
"then I was the janitor; now I am the librarian." That lawyer said two or three very unprofessional words.

Dot Poy of Mine."

One of the teachers in the public schools actually received the other day an excuse, unique in its way, and written in behalf of a delinquent pupil by the father. No teacher could hold such an excuse not valid even under the requirements of the new code of the Board of Education. It runs in this wise:Mr. Teacher: Dot poy of mine vos absent de oder day ven he staid out.
He got one big colt mit in his neck vat made much trouble all the vife. Please don't give him some bunishment ven he was late in the morning. He would get there shust in time every day, but he is not himself to blame, he is got no mother. She vos dead ten years ago. I am this poy's parent, by his mother before she was dead."

How Bob Remembered.

Object teaching" is not always successful, as the following incident related by the Youth's Companion will show: A gentleman called his servant one day and informed him he wished him to learn the names of the books in the Bible. "Now," said he, "I will tell you the first and during the day I will ask you where it is, to see if you remember; it is Genesis."Later in the day Bob was called but he could not remember what it was.Now" said his master, "I have a way to impress it upon your mind so you cannot forget it. Now, Bob we have an old horse in the stable. What do we call it?"

Jenny."

Correct. And we have a little girl in the kitchen; what do we call her?"

Sis."

Very well. Now put the two together and you have Jenny—Sis—Genesis."I think you can remember it until tomorrow."

Yes, sah."

The next morning Bob was summoned to appear before his master.Good morning, Bob. Can you give me the name of the first book in the Bible this morning?"

Yes, sah."

Well, what is it?"

De ole hoss, sah."
