

THE TIMES

Local Department.

PENNSYLVANIA R. R.—MIDDLE DIVISION.

On and after Monday, May 14th, 1881, Passenger Trains will run as follows:

Table with columns for Westward and Eastward routes, listing stations like Philadelphia, Harrisburg, and Altoona with corresponding times.

Westward: Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Altoona, etc. Eastward: Altoona, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, etc.

Special Express West will stop at Duncannon at 4.45 and at Newport at 5.45 a. m., when backed.

Brief Items.

Several evenings last week were almost cool enough for frost.

Mr. Amos Fouk has the foundation erected for a new house on the west side of his present residence.

Mr. Michael R. Clouser has about completed his new brick house on Carlisle street.

Hon. Wm. Grier raised a neat barn on the Academy premises in this borough, on Thursday last.

The Juniata Valley Camp Meeting, at Newton Hamilton, will begin on Tuesday, August 16th, 1881.

The students of the Bloomfield Academy had a picnic in Barnett's woods one day last week.

Amos Watts, residing at Newport, received a young bear by express, from Newville, Pa., one day last week.

The Lutheran congregation of Newport have given Rev. W. B. Glending a call to become their pastor.

Seven Indian children in charge, of Captain Pratt, of Carlisle, were taken to their Western homes last week.

The Presbyterian Sunday School room in this borough, has recently been re-painted and grained by that veteran grainer, Maj. G. K. Scholl, of Newport.

The Bloomfield Academy closed a very successful session on Thursday last. There was a larger attendance than for a number of years.

We noticed on Saturday in passing through Lancaster Co., that in several places, grain cutting had already been commenced.

The law against fire crackers is going to be enforced in many places this year. They are a dangerous nuisance that should be abated everywhere.

We notice among the list of graduates of Franklin and Marshall College, at Lancaster, the name of W. B. Shebley, son of John H. Shebley, editor of the Advocate of this place.

James Redman, a former resident of Newport, but now living at Harrisburg, was run over and badly injured by the cars, at Millin, on Monday morning. His injuries will probably prove fatal.

Ex-Sheriff Rinesmith is erecting on his farm in Spring township, a barn 110x58 feet. When completed it will be one of the most convenient barns in the county. Mr. R. is an experienced stock feeder.

A Farmer plowing recently on the battlefield of Gettysburg, unearthed a trench containing fifty bodies of those who had fallen in the fight, and overlooked when the gathering of the bodies for the cemetery was made.

Professor Vennor's weather predictions are more remarkable for their truthful sequence than for fidelity to dates. The weather has followed in very nearly the order assigned to it in his forecasts, but the periods fixed have varied from a week to two weeks.

Rev. W. W. Evans, presiding elder of the Danville district M. E. church, having been appointed a delegate to the ecumenical council in London, will sail from New York on the second of July. He will be accompanied by Rev. W. M. Frysinger, editor of the Conference News.

On Saturday evening a seventeen months old child of Mrs. Amanda Graham, residing at John Darlington's, in Centre twp., pulled a cup of hot water off the table, scalding her chin, neck and breast badly. Dr. Strickler dressed the injuries and thinks the child will recover.

Rev. J. Kretzing preached his farewell sermon in the Reformed church in this place on Sunday. Mr. K. goes from here to take a charge at Littlestown, and leaves with the regret of every person who knows him. We extend to him our best wishes for a happy home in his new location.

A muley cow belonging to John Cless, residing near Blue Ball, has been missing from home since Tuesday last. The animal is yellowish with a white stripe along her back and under her belly. Any one knowing of her whereabouts will confer a favor by notifying Mr. Cless.

The session of the Cumberland Valley Sunday School Assembly for 1881, will be held at Oakville, Pa., on the line of the C. V. R. R., about midway between Harrisburg and Chambersburg, July 18-20, a full week, instead of four days only as heretofore. The most thorough preparation is being made for the occasion. The lecture course will be a leading attraction.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Logan of the Presbyterian church at Millerstown, celebrated their "tin wedding" at the parsonage in that place on Tuesday evening of last week. The presents, many of which are valuable, were numerous and consisted of everything imaginable in the shape of tinware. By actual count there were 330 pieces, valued at about $100.

We like to do a favor for our readers when ever we can and if any of them think of visiting Philadelphia we know we do them a favor when we recommend them to stop at the St. Elmo. The landlord, Col. Feger is a gentleman and knows how to keep a hotel. His tables are supplied in a first class manner the rooms in the house are pleasantly furnished, and each guest is made to feel that while he is there he has a home.—The St. Elmo is located on Arch Street below Fourth, and the terms are only $2.00 per day. We know a good hotel when we find one and have no hesitation in saying the St. Elmo is as good a hotel as we desire to stop at.

Personal.—Rev. W. McComb and family are visiting James B. Hackett, Esq., in this place.

Will and Horace Shebley are at present at home spending vacation. They have both been attending Franklin and Marshall College.

Mr. Henry Procht, the old German musician and painter, was in town last week. He looks stout for his years.

Mr. Jacob Beaver and wife, former residents of this vicinity, now of Miami county, Kansas, are visiting friends in this county. They speak in glowing terms of the west.

Mr. James Humes, the Poet of Sandy Hill, called on us one day last week. He says he is a lone orphan, being the only survivor of a family of ten. "Jimmy" looks hale and hearty and would make a bad subject for speculative life insurers.

Sad Suicide.—On Wednesday morning last week, Mrs. Mary McKane, residing at 375 East Market street, Chambersburg, Pa., committed suicide by hanging herself. She was about 63 years of age and resided with her son-in-law, Mr. John Brady. The jury decided from the evidence that she committed the deed during temporary insanity.

A Narrow Escape.—On Tuesday afternoon last, Mr. Chas. Power, of Centre twp., was thrown from his seat on a mower which he was operating and fell immediately in front of the machine. He fortunately got the team checked, and all the damage he received was a severe cut in his right wrist. The accident was caused by the machine striking a stone pile.

Arrangements are being made to have a balloon ascension at Elliptsburg on the evening of the 4th of July. It will present a novel and delightful display of fireworks in all its varieties of colors, showers of golden rain, bursting bombs and lightning meteors. It is twenty feet in height and will no doubt present a beautiful appearance. A variety of other fireworks will be displayed during the same evening.

Accident at Marysville.—Thursday evening about 7.30 o'clock, as William Gettys, a citizen of Marysville and a blacksmith in the Northern Central Railroad Company's shops, while returning home from a wedding, attempted to jump from the second section of the mail train east at Haley crossing, was thrown under the wheels, crushing his left foot and ankle and sustaining other cuts and bruises. The wounded limb was amputated below the knee last night, by Dr. H. L. Orth, assisted by the surgeons of this place.

Presbytery of Carlisle.—The June meeting of this body was held last week in Duncannon. A very interesting part of the services was the ordination and installation of Rev. James W. Gilland, pastor of the church of Duncannon. At this service the Moderator, Rev. W. H. Logan, presided, and gave the charge to the people. Rev. James F. Kennedy, D. D., preached the sermon, and Rev. George Norcross, D. D., gave the charge to the pastor. The Presbytery also licensed Mr. Mervin J. Eckels and Mr. McDaniels to preach the gospel. The Fall meeting will be held in Mechanicsburg.

Broke Her Neck.—Mrs. Henry Dickson of Camp Hill, Cumberland county, while gathering cherries at the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. Benjamin Hummel, met with an accident on Tuesday afternoon which resulted in her instant death. While climbing a tree against the advice of her friends the limb she had hold of broke and she was precipitated to the ground on her head breaking her neck, and she died instantly. Deceased was thirty-five years old, the wife of a butcher who attends the Harrisburg market regularly. The accident caused great excitement at Camp Hill. Mrs. Frounfelder, the mother of the unfortunate lady, was at once sent after to this city.

Robbery.—Some time on Monday night last week, Henry Hirsch's clothing store at Duncannon, was entered by boring through the window shutter at the back of the store and pushing the bolt back, opening the shutter and hoisting the window. The store was completely ransacked, and the best clothing, such as suits of clothes, shirts, stockings, notions, etc., to the amount of about $100 were taken. The robbery was not discovered till the next morning. There is no clue to who the thieves are or where they are from. A large clothes basket was noticed on the railroad station porch about 2 o'clock the same night and is supposed to belong to the burglars. Mr. Hirsch has offered a reward of $25 for the arrest of the thief or thieves. This is the second robbery of this store in a short time.—Record.

Grangers' Gathering.—The eighth annual tri-state picnic and exhibition will be held at Williams' Grove, Cumberland county, Pa., opening on Monday, Aug. 29, and closing Friday, Sept. 2, 1881. This will be the only agricultural exhibition of general importance in eastern or southern Pennsylvania this year, as the State Agricultural Society has decided to hold its fair at Pittsburgh, in September next, and we have therefore every reason to believe that the eighth annual tri-state picnic will be greater in every particular than any heretofore held. We earnestly hope and confidently expect that members of granges and farmers' clubs in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland, Virginia, Delaware, New Jersey, New York and Ohio will prepare liberal samples of their agricultural products for exhibition at the tri-state picnic, and we also hope to have contributions from every state in the Union.

This will be the largest meeting of farmers ever held in the United States, and it is important that the show of agricultural products shall be on a grand scale, commensurate with the attendance of the people.

Manufacturers of and dealers in machinery, implements, musical instruments, etc., desiring prominent position on the exhibition grounds, and persons wanting restaurant and other business privileges, will communicate, on or before July 15, with R. H. Thomas, Farmers' Friend office, Mechanicsburg, Pa.

Juniata County.—We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week:

W. W. Wilson, Esq., the oldest citizen of Millintown, died at 6 o'clock on Friday evening of last week.

The mill-dam of J. Nevin Pomeroy, at Academia, in the course of erection, to take the place of the one destroyed by the ice-flood, and which was nearly completed, was washed away by the recent freshet, entailing a great loss upon the owner.

On Monday of last week, a young child of Gibson L. Weimer, of Turbett township, accidentally got hold of a quantity of indigo, which it swallowed. Immediately a messenger was sent for the nearest physician, who was away from home. Mrs. Dr. Graham responded to the call with a suitable emetic, entirely emptying the stomach of the little sufferer of large quantities of indigo water, and resulting in complete relief to the child.

On last Saturday afternoon as the Day Express east, on the P. R. R., and when about half a mile from Lewistown Junction, Samuel Keister, of Port Royal, the fireman while out on the engine oiling it, he slipped and fell off, and sustained severe injuries to his arms and back.—He remained conscious, and was taken to Harrisburg for treatment. It is a miracle that he escaped with his life.

Catharine Broward, a six-year old child of Jacob Broward, living in Fernaugh township, fell from a second-story window of her father's house, on Friday, and broke her right arm. Dr. Crawford rendered the surgical attention that the case required, and pronounced the child unharmed inwardly.

On Tuesday, through his lawyer, Jefferson Adams, who has been charged with stealing a horse, asked the District Attorney and the Court to exempt him from a prosecution for breaking jail, and he will return for a new trial, which had been granted him by the Court at a former session. The Court granted the prayer of the escaped prisoner.

A grand picnic and dance will be held on the 4th of July, in Mr. James Groninger's woods, one mile and a half south of Patterson. Arrangements are being made that will make it enjoyable. No intoxicating drinks will be allowed on the ground. Ice cream, cakes, lemonade, &c., will be furnished. A general invitation is extended to all.

Cumberland County.—We copy the following from the Cumberland papers of last week:

John Roger, while taking stone from the foundation of a house he was tearing down in Dickinson township, started from a nest thirteen large blacksnakes. He succeeded in killing the whole brood.

John H. Yingling was injured in a wreck on the Shenandoah Valley Railroad and died from the effects of his injuries Wednesday last. This is the first accident resulting in death on this road.

Last Thursday a box each of umbrellas and fans was received for the use of the students of the Indian training school. Some amusing uses of the valuable domestic articles were made after they were distributed. They became inseparable friends with the young Indians. Whether carpentering, hoeing potatoes, or what-not, the umbrellas were always brought into requisition. Some of the students have gone on a visit to their homes in the west; others have gone out among farmers.

Robert K. Shryock, son of E. L. Shryock, met with an unfortunate accident on Tuesday morning. He had bought a seven-shooter revolver of small calibre the day before the accident, and was curious to see how "she would work." He started to the creek with two boy companions, and at the fair-grounds began to load the weapon. He was forcing in the last cartridge, with the barrel pointed toward his thigh, when it exploded. The ball entered the fleshy part of the thigh, inflicting a shallow wound, and passing out about two inches from the point of entrance.

Officer Hays arrested Theodore Brannon, a mulatto, formerly a porter at the Mansion House, on Monday about two o'clock. This fine laddy in September, 1880, attended a moonlight picnic on Liberty street, on the north side of town, and committed rape on a young girl he met there. He fled the State and no trace of his whereabouts was discovered afterwards. On Saturday night he returned to Carlisle on the late train. His plans were all cocked and primed. He was to be married on Monday night and meanwhile to keep himself shady. But murder will out. Officer Hays got wind of his expected arrival. The affianced bride was to meet him in Harrisburg, but her father objected. So on Monday he was taken into custody, and in default of $500 bail he was committed to await the action of Court.
