HOUSE, FARM AND GARDEN.

Screws and Can Caps.

A few days since the cook came to us with a can glass of peaches, the cap of which was screwed on so tight that a strong man had been unable to unscrew it. We directed that a cloth dipped in hot water be applied to the outside of the cap, to cause expansion by the heat. This was done, and it so affectually loosened the cap that it came off with no effort. We have tried this principle on many other occasions. The ground stoppers of bottles sometimes are found Immovably fast. In this case the heat must be applied to the neck of the bottle, so as to increase its size and leave the stopper loosened within it. Care should always be taken that the ground stopper when inserted is not colder than the bottle neck, for if it is you will have trouble. It will expand when it becomes as warm as the bottle and be effectually fastened. In one case when we bad employed a horse-power in sawing wood, the weather being quite cold, one of the workmen had occasion to take off a nut from a screw, and after holding it long enough in his hand to warm and expand it, he placed it again without thinking on the screw and turned it firmly down. It contracted in cooling with a powerful grasp, so that no wrench could stir it, until a red hot iron was applied to the nut to restore its size. In all these attempts the right space of time must be given to heat the nut or stopper, without heating the part which it touches, which requires some judgment. The metallic can caps will beat sooner than bottle neck. If the heat is continued too long all will become expanded a like, and the attempt will fail, some years ago it beauty Some years ago it became necessary to unscrew the two parts of an iron pump for repair, but the rust held them so stoutly together that three men with levers could not separate them. We dilevers could not separate them. We di-rected the application of strong heat to the outer tube, and before the heat could reach the inner a force not exceeding ten pounds separated them easily. All of which shows that one's wits are some-times better than brute force.

Errors in Planting Fruit Trees.

Deep planting is one error; to plant a tree a little less deep than it formerly stood is the proper way. The roots are of two kinds-the feeder rootlets and those that support the tree in its place. The former are composed entirely of cells and are always found near the surface getting air and moisture, while the latter run deeper and serve as supports to the tree as well as conductors of its inorganic food. Hence the injury that ensues from burying its feeder rootlets too deep. Placing fresh manure in too close proximity with the feeder rootlets is another great error. The place for such manure is on the surface, where the elements will disintegrate, dissolve and carry it downward. Numerous forms of fungi are generated by the manure and attack the roots of the tree .- It is very well to enrich the soil at trans-planting the tree, but the manure, if to be in contact with or very near the roots,

It has long been known that sulphur cools a hot bearing, but the reason why is doubtful. Von Heeron states that the fine metal dust formed when a journal runs hot, and which strongly acts upon both journal and bearing, forms the sulphide with the sulphur. This compound, which grows soft and greasy, does not cause any appreciable amount of friction. Sulphur and grease in combination are in regular use on board the steamers of the North German Lloyds.

An easy method for showing whether butter is adulterated with beef fat has been submitted by Hager. He saturates a cotton wick with a suspected sample, which is first melted. He then lights the wick and permits it to burn for about two minutes. At the end o that time, when the wick is extinguishf ed, an odor like that given off by a tal-. low candle, when its flame is blown out, is readily perceived if the butter is artifi-

The simplest and most harmless remedy we have yet seen against the potato bug, is reported by the Lancaster Agricultural Society: "Put three or four pounds of tobacco scraps or refuse into a barrel filled half full of water. Leave it several days. The decoction applied to the beetles on the vine effectually destroys all young ones. A second appli-cation will destroy the mature beetle. There is no danger of poison, and it is cheap and easily applied."

A new process of tanning is exten sively used in Germany. Bark is wholly dispensed with, and inorganic compounds take its place. The new process requires from four to six weeks for its completion, and the particular feature is described to be the action of chromic acid, for the generation of which a number of substances, soluble in water, are brought together so as to effect the decomposition of bichromate of potash.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE!

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL REMEDY EVER discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. Read Proof Below.

From Rev. N. P. Granger, Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District.

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880. St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. J. B. KENDALL, & CO., Gents: — In rep'y to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a boftle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by Spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I pit him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a rine bene was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the Jounch be found.

Respectfully yours.

B. J. Keudall & Co., Gents:—in justice to you and myself. I think 1 onght to let you know that I have removed Two Bonkspavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure." one very large one: don't know how long the Spavin bad been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off, and two months for the small one. I have used 10 bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felf. This is a wonderful medleine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me its sale will be very great.

Is sure in effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, and yet is peneirating and powerful to reach any deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or any other enlargement, if used for several days, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in nan and fog any purpose for which a liniment for man or beast.
