Messrs. Boger & Corl while driving a lot of cattle over the mountain on Tuesday last, lost one fine steer, which dropped dead from the heat. They also lost one hog, but that strayed away.

On Thursday evening, George, a son of Mr. Adam Coover, an old resident of Highspire, while boarding a moving freight train, fell under the wheels and was terribly mangled, at Middletown.

Mr. Jacob Liddick of Duncannon had a swelling on his thigh that he thought was a boil. The swelling opened at last and discharged a ball that Mr. L. received during the war.

On Tuesday last, a horse belongi ng to McConkey, was driven from Newville to Harrisburgh, and died soon after reaching his destination from the effects of his drive.

One of Harry Sheaffer's horses was left at Zortman's hotel in Newport, on Thursday while J. C. McAlister went to Harrisburg. On his return he found that the bridle and lines to his harness had been retoles. had been stolen.

The Juniata Herald express our views exactly in speaking of the Printers' Picnic. There is a wandering away from the original intentions of the association, and the annual gathering has lost the character of a picnic.

Samuel P. Cree has been placed on the Republican ticket as Auditor in place of J. L. McCaskey who declines the nomination. Mr. Cree had the next highest vote in the convention for the nomination.

Last Tuesday was the hottest day for years with one exception, and that was July 18th, 1878, when the mercury reached 102, being one degree higher than on Tuesday last. Wednesday it was not cold; thermometer 99.

A machine for pulverizing limestone Maclay, of Lurgan twp., Franklin Co., which will be put in operation at his mill. The pulverized stone will be used as a fertilizer.

A mare that was stolen from Mt. Zion camp ground, belonging to Daniel Cover, of Franklin Co., was found on the farm of Mr. John Hoover, near Keefers store. The animal had been ridden and came thereon her way home, offer heing turned lease. after being turned loose.

Some person left an infant about six weeks old at the door of Mr. Philip Bosserman in Newport, on Saturday morning at about 3 o'clock. It is a pretty black eyed boy with black hair. Now the question among the gossips, is, "who's the fether?" the father?"

The well-known Harrisburg Carpet house of Sami. Adams have now opened their fall stock, and make the fact known to our readers through their advertise-ment. Mr. Adams carries a complete assortment of carpets and we confidently recommend him to all wanting carpets

On Thursday morning Aaron Flester, while taking a load of wood to Newport, while taking a load of wood to Newport, had his foot run over by his wagon, badly mashing several toes. He was near the spring at the time, and at once put his foot in the cold water for a few moments and then came back to town, when Dr. Strickler attended to his injuries. He had three cords of wood on the wagon at the time of the accident.

The idiotic band of calithumpians turned out on Tuesday night and gave a serenade for the annoyance of the lower end of Carlisle street. A dose of bird shot injected into such a crowd would do them good. It does not speak well for the constable of a town that will permit such disorderly conduct to go un-checked, but fortunately we had a Burgess who was equal to the occasion.

A little unpleasantness took place on Saturday evening between George Rouse and Saml. Rice of this place. Rice struck George with a club making a bad mark on his face and in return Mr. Rice was thrown down and pounded till a truce was declared. The trouble arose from some person opening the spiggot to Rice's "wine" and letting it all run on the cellar bottom. This is not the first trouble that Sam's "wine" has caused, but it ought to be the last.

No Applicants.-The committee appointed to examine candidates for the free scholarship to the State college met at Mifflintown, but no applicants were present. The committee consisted of Prof. David Wilson, of Juniata county, Porf. Silas Wright, of Perry county, and Prof. W. H. Schuyler, of Mifflin Co. Should any person wish to avail themselves of this opportunity application should now be made to Hon. Chas. H. Smiley, who will again call the committee together.

Gored by a Bull .- On Sunday evening Sept. 4th, Mr. Wm. Wise living near Fravel's mill in Centre twp., when coming out of his stable was attacked by a bull which was loose in the yard .-The animal threw him against the stone wall bruising him pretty badly and then hooked him in the groin tearing loose a piece of skin several inches long. His cries for help brought his wife to the rescue and she succeeded in driving the bull off. Mr. Wise did not think himself hurt so as to need a doctor and so did not send for one till Monday, when it was found necessary to send for Dr. Strickler who sewed up the wound in the groin, and attended to his other injuries.

biverpool Items .- The Susquehanna, is now lower than at has been at any time since 1870. Our ferryman crosses with considerable difficulty. A large rock, with various marks and names on it, located about the middle of the river, in a direct line from the Owens House to the station, was marked again by Harrison Shuler a few days ago.

Wm. Turner, moved his family to Williamstown, last week. L. W. Turner moved to Dauphin this week. Geo. Keagle, and Wm. Keagle will move to the same place in a few weeks.

Railroad Accident.-An accident occurred on the South Mountain railroad on Monday morning last which might have proved a very serious one had it not been a freight train. It was the five o'clock freight from Plne Grove, and as it was steaming along about a mile the other side of upper Holly the brake bar of one of the forward cars dropped on the track. It threw the truck from the track, which in turn "telescoped" the trucks from the three following cars, which were gondolas. This brought the train to a stand-still, and no further damage was done. The wreck was cleared in a few hours and traffic proceeded as usual. The necident was one for which the company is not responsible, as it may occur to any train. The loss is very small as there was little breakage. It was a fortunate escape. - Valley Sentinet.

A Law You should Rend .- The following act passed last winter should be read by all and familiarity with it may save some persons trouble :

"That any person or persons who shall wilfully enter, or break down, through or over any field, orchard, garden or yard fence, hot bed or greenhouse, or who shall wrongfully club, stone, out break bark or otherwise. stone, cut, break, bark or otherwise multilate or damage any field crop, shrub, nut, fruit or ornamental tree, bush, plant or vine, trellis, arbor, hot bed, hot or green house, or who shall trample or in anywise injure any shall trample or in anywise injure any grain, grass, vine or vegetable or other growing crops, or who shall wilfully take or carry away any grain, corn, rye, wheat or other field crop, fruit, vegetables, plants, ornamental trees, vines or shruba, whether the same shall be attached to the soil or not, shall subject said person or persons to a penalty of not less than five nor more than fifty dollars for each and every offense."

Disgusted Ball Players. - Last Wednesday two of the directors of the Harrisburg base ball club, sent up a challenge to the Duncannon Club to play them at Duncannon, a game on Saturday, for twenty.five dollars a side. The challenge was accepted, and the Duncannon Club had the money ready. When the Harrisburg Club came up, on , Saturday, one of the directors of Harrisburg took a director of the Duncapnon Club aside and "pleaded poverty" saying they could not raise the money. The Duneannon director kept the fact to himself however, and let the boys play the game. The result was a score of 14 for Duneannon to 0 for Harrisburg. To say that the Duncannon boys were disgusted when they learned how matters stood, would only partly express the feeling, but to make matters still worse, the Harrisburg chaps didn't pay for their supper, and this was done by Duncannon. The probabilities are that the Harrisburg club will not again get a chance to fool any club in this part of the State. Judging from the score made, they must have forgotten to bring players as well as the money.

"An Accident,-Monday last Rev. S. W. Selbert met with a mishap that might have cost him an eye. He was standing in his stable door holding his horse, while his son was attending to some other matters in the stable, when the door blew shut, striking the reverend in the face. A nail sticking in the door struck him immediately above the left eye, penetrating to the bone, and another nail cut the bridge of his nose. A half inch farther down, the nall would have penetrated his eye, and the possibilities are that the sight would have been destroyed .- Ledger.

Eye Bursted .- A rather singular and unusual accident occurred to an aged lady by the name of Royer, residing with brother-in-law, Mr. Peter Fahnestock, near this place, on last Saturday evening She had been suffering with an inflammation of the left eye for some time, but did not think anything serious would result therefrom, but suddenly the coats of the eyeball gave way and the lens of the lige and other contents of the ball run out which was followed with considerable spontaneous hemorrhage. A physician was immediately called who arrested the bleeding, but the sight is hopelesly gone. - Wanesboro Gazette.

Juniata County .- We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of Inst week:

[From The Port Royal Times 1

On Monday Mr. Joseph Dowling, of Tuscarora township, while on his way to the county capital, via Port Royal, was thrown from his sulky near the resdence of Mr. J. B. Okeson, in Spruce Hill township, and received a complete dusting and a few bruises. The accident was caused by the breaking of a spindle. A sulky is a mean thing to ride in, and should be abandoned by all who have any regard for their life.

On Monday morning a valuable cow belonging to Mr. Peter Diffenderfer had one of its hind legs broken by the cars. The limb was set by Messrs. Ross Dona-hey and C. A. Kepner. The poor brute had to be killed in order to relieve it of its intense suffering.

On Friday last a son of Mr. Samuel Crawford, of Tuscarora township, got his arm caught in a thresher at Mr. James Mairs' and had it so badly crushed as to require amputation, at the shoulder. Dr. D. M. Crawford, per-formed the operation in a skillful man-

A youth, living with James Groninger in Milford township, was over in Licking Creek valley on Saturday. Returning after dark, he lay down to drink at a spring on the side of Black Log mountain. While he was drinking a snake darted out from the bank and bit him on the right side of the head. By Sabbath day the right side of the face and neck were greatly swollen, and the right eye was entirely closed. Dr. Banks render-ed such attention as the case required, and the youth is getting along as well as can be expected.

Harry More, living in Walker township, had a colt that was considered hopelessly ruptured at the rim of the belly, just in front of the teats. Cyrus Sieber said that he could reduce the rupture. The colt was handed over to him for surgical operation. He threw the animal, and made an incision into the ruptered place, put up the entrails and sewed the inner and outer skins, so that both the cut and the break were closed, and now the colt is getting along finely.

From The Juniata Herald. On Sabbath morning as a little son of William Whistler, of Milford township, was sitting along the creek, behind his father's house, some miscreant who is as yet unknown, shot him in the breast, leg and hand with shot. His breast and leg are full of shot and one finger was shot off. The murderous scoundrel escaped in the bushes and as yet no class. caped in the bushes, and as yet no clue bas been discovered by which he can be identified and punished. The little fel-low shot was only 8 or 10 years of age. Hanging is too good for the wretch who would perpetrate such a cowardly crime.

PFrom The Democrat and Register.

About four o'clock on last Wednesday afternoon John Jenkins, of Milford township, discovered a smouldering fire in a log which lay close to his barn door. There was considerable straw and chaff scattered around the log, and had it not been for the timely discovery the barn and its contents would doubtless have been consumed. How fire could occur in such a place at that hour of the day is indeed a mystery, as no strangers had been seen about the barn that day. The supposition of some is, that the log being very much decayed, and having ing very much decayed, and having been exposed to the hot rays of the sun for many hours might have thus ignited. This theory, however, seems incredible.

Cumberland County .- We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week :

[From The Valley Sentinel.] Mr. George Thomas, a workman in Smith's blacksmith shop, met with a very painful accident on Wednesday. He was shoeing a horse, when the animal jerked his foot, driving a nall, into the heart of his hand, and tearing away a considerable part of the flesh. Dr. Hemminger dressed the wound.

Rev. Brown, of Newville, died suddenly, on Monday of last week. He had preached at the afternoon session of the colored bushmeeting on the previous Sunday.

Last Monday Mrs. Yingst, wife of Blacksmith Yingst, of Boiling Springs while carrying a wash boiler of hot water, tripped, throwing the contents of the boiler over her head, scalding her face very severely. It is hoped no permanent injuries will be sustained.

Last week Mr. H. Brechbill, proprie-Last week Mr. H. Brechbill, proprietor of the South Mountain mills, had a run-off. He was bringing a spring wagon load of lumber to the springs, when, coming down Leer's hill, the lumber or wagon struck the horse, when he made a spring, throwing Mr. Brechbill immediately behind him. The lumber, also, was quickly unloaded. The horse came at a break neck speed down the road, resisting all efforts at capture until he was in his owner's barnyard til he was in his owner's barnyard where Rev. M. S. Cressman, secured him. Mr. Brechbill miraculously es-caped unburt.

For The Times.

Sandy Hill, Sept. 5th, 1881.

Mr. Editor:—Thinking that a sketch of our Fire Department and its heroic actions at the fire, on that eventful eve of the 2nd inst., would be appreciated by the readers of the times, I shall with your permission endeavor to give a description of it.

As a party of "grape huntere" were making their usual rounds through the twilight of the eve of the 2nd, they discovered the rank vegetation of a field to be on fire and spreading with a velocity unequaled in the history of modern fires; the alarm was sounded, with alacrity, and promptly "The Light Brigade" responded to the calls for help, by this time it had passed to the fence and was raging in the woods beyond. The first thing to be done was to remove the fence. Capt. Carrie, nobly seconded by her brave Lieut. Clara, went to work and the rails fiew like the arrows of the Persian hosts at Thermop'ylae; By the time this was done "Long Hose Dalton," with his gallant "Fire Brigade," appeared upon the scene and Vulcan was compelled to succumb, only after one of the most skillful resistances, and nothing else was left that would burn.

Carlo, the faithful canine belonging to Capt. Dalton's Dept., was hit on the head by a piece of failing timber, through "Argumentum baculinum," a surgeon present took charge of the faithful animal, who administered an application of oxide of anti fat, which sue-ceeded in restoring conciousness, hopes of his recovery are entertained.

On this as well as on many other occasions, this Dept. has behaved with so much coolness and rapidity as to win the admiration of all; Capt. Carrie's brigade tossing the rails and Capt. Dalton's Dept., galloping to the rescue, is a sight, that will never be forgotten by those who witnessed it. And now the reporter lays down his pen for the plow, but with this noble Fire Dept., goes his best wishes.

FOR THE TIMES.

LOYSVILLE, Sept. 7th, 1881.

MR. EDITOR:—As there is no communication from this place I thought I would drop you a few lines for your paper. We are having a terrible dry spell of weather; some of the wells of this place have ceased to yield Adam's ale, and most all of the cisterns are dry and if it does not soon rain I don't see how our better halves will get our shirts washed. There are some improvements going on in this place.—Mr. A. Evans, is creeting a new home, and new steps were put to the Minich property, formerly the Kletler property. I notice that our black smiths are both busy, and the sound of their hammers can be heard the whole day long. Potatoes appear to be quite scarce in this section on account of the drouth. Mr. Rickard the champion sadier still continues to draw his wax ends. Ebersole and Rhodes, the boot and shoe makers are still hammering draw his wax ends. Ebersole and Rhodes, the boot and shoe makers are still hammering away. The merchante are not very busy this dry spell. Farmers are all ready with their ground to commence seeding and are waiting on rain, and grant that it may come soon—Lastly the picnic and cake walk came off on sept. Srd, very quietly and orderly. The afternoon attendance was not very large but a good many were ou the ground in the evening at which time there were 9 cakes and one lot of grapes were walked off. Mr. Benj. Rickard, superintended the cake walking, and Mr. Jas. Stum sold that frozen luxury called Ice Cream, he did quite a business in Cream, Melons, Lemonade, Peanuts etc. Jimmy is the chap to give you the worth of your money in Ice Cream and Lemonade.

Death of Prof. A. P. Garber.

Death of Prof. A. P. Garber.

A funeral service was held on Monday Aug. 20th, near Monutville, Lancaster Co. Pa., which deserves more than a passing notice.—It was of a comparatively young man Prof. Abram P. Garber, aged 48 years and 6 months, who had died at Resova, of Consumption the previous week, and whose body had been brought to his father's home near Mountville for burial. The father who owns much farm land and belongs to a large family in the neighborhood and county, was connected with the Lancaster Farm Journal in its inception and is yet, though an old man au eminent horticulturist. The son acquired an early taste for Botany and for study in general. He passed successively through the Millerville Normal School, Lancaster College and Pennsylvania University, medical department. He practiced medicine to some extent but gave himself mainly to his favorite study of plant life being one of the best botaniate of the state, connected at times with some of its colleges, his own alma mater included, and was one of three to thoroughly search Lancaster and adjoining counties discovering many now plants to some of which his name has been given. In his toll and devotion he underwent much exposure and brought on consumption. He spent several winters is Florida, and coming north went a short time ago to Renova but only to die. His family except himself belonged to the Old Mecanonite demonitation. He had some years before joined a Presbyterian church being near Mountville on the day of service was asked to preach the sermon and Rev. Brubaker and Layman Mennonite preachers followed in English and German. It was said to see one of such abilities and usefulness and with such a future before him as Prof. Garber seemed to have, laid low thus early by the hand of death. He had, however taken Christ as his Saviour and in the world to come, God granting, he may through an endless eternity apply himself as even never before to the things of God and of his works and ways as was his wont and custom and his pleasure here.
