Singing at Markleville on Saturday evening of this week.

The schools in Centre twp. will com-mence on next Monday.

The viewers appointed in the case of the Millerstown bridge, reported against its being a free bridge.

Mrs. Geo. Grubb, an aged lady who lived in Liverpool twp., was found dead in bed on the morning of the 7th inst. The band festival of Friday and Sat urday nights brought them in a little over sixty dollars.

Cumberland county teachers institute, will commence next Monday the 24 th

Juniata twp., will vote this year at the old place, the application for a change not having been granted.

The Riverside Park Association will hold their fair on their grounds near Mifflintown, commencing October 20th and closing the 22nd.

A horse belonging to Mr. Beck & Bro. in this place, took a notion to visit his old home last week, and so got out of the pasture and started for Cumberland Co., where he was found.

We call attention to the sale of the blacksmith and coach shop of Nathan Henderson at Greenpark. The sale is Henderson at Greenpark. The sale is to take place on November 12th. For further particulars see posters.

It is stated that the sleeping car com-pany proposes to raise its rate from two to three dollars per night. The present rate is a swindle and to advance it to three dollars would be highway robbery.

A child of Mr. Matthews, residing near Mattawanna, Mifilin county, was burned to death in his residence, which was totally destroyed at midnight of the 6th inst.

A party of hunters were seen last Tuesday with two wild turkeys they had shot, and one rabbit. If the law was enforced on them it would make their gamedear meat though it is not Venison.

The colt stolen from the farm of Mr. The colt stolen from the farm of Mr. Gorgas in Rye twp., has been recovered. It was found in a pasture near Carlisle, where it had evidently been abandoned, because its feet had got sore.

Einstein, the proprietor of the large dry goods house of Harrisburg, displays his advertisement on the 8th page of this issue. We advise our readers to look over his "ad" and to give him a call when in Harrisburg.

Jacob Shenk, residing near Rockville, was struck and instantly killed by the St. Louis express when near that station on last Monday. Mr. S. was on his way to aid a neighbor husk corn when he met his death,

Last week we were shown a $24 check that was the proceeds from a $3,000 policy. The party had paid nearly $200 in assessments. Another check of $28, represented a $1,000 policy. There does not seem to be much profit in this to the policy holder, but some one makes the profit.

A man calling himself S. H. Miller, and hailing from New York, was in the county last week buying horses, which were to be delivered at Loysville. After engaging quite a number he left, without paying any of his bills, and was arrested at Altoona at the instance of Mr. Boyer, who he had cheated out of his livery services.

The man was brought here and lodged in jail on Saturday morning. He will now probably have a chance to explain matters to the Court of Quarter Sessions.

Stove For Sale.—A large parlor stove and heater for sale at half price. Good as new. Apply at this office.

Personal.-Mr. Jacob Stone who moved from Carrol twp., to Dekaib Co. Ill., gave us a call last week. Mr. Stone likes the west and is looking well. Mr. S. says their corn crop was good, and he has 70 acres that will average 50 bushels shelled corn to the acre.

Rev. Deitrick preached his first ser-mon in the Reformed Church on Sunday. His audience seemed much pleased with him, and he bids fair to be a very acceptable pastor to his congregations.

Mrs. D. L. Tressler, daughter of B. McIntire, Esq., of this place, now residing at Cartnage, Ill., had been afflicted by the loss of her son Johnny, a bright lad of eight years.

We exceedingly regret to hear that the health of Rev. Mr. Cleaver, who recently preached in this place, is such that his recovery is thought impossible.

Mr. Henry Souder, who formerly resided in Carroll tp., but now in Berrien county, Mich., is now here on a visit, accompanied by his wife.

Eingers Cut Off .- A few days ago Robert, son of Mr. John Toumey, of Juniata twp., while working at Robinson's steam saw-mill, fell against the saw which cut off two fingers near the hand and the two other fingers near the first

The Re-Union.-The soldiers re-union at Millerstown on Wednesday last, was considerably dampened by the rain storm that prevailed. General Beaver was the orator of the day, and his speech was well received. The next re-union is to be held at Duncannon, and Saturday is the day of the week that is selected for future gatherings. The officers for the ensuing year are, President, H. H. Fisher; Secretary, Dr. Jos. Swartz; Treasurer, Lewis F. Gentzler.

An Escaped Lunatic .- Last Tuesday evening, a German giving his name as Gustave Heiling, was placed in jail, having been committed under the tramp act. He had been acting in a strange manner in Oliver twp., causing the women in the farm houses annoyance. He says that himself and wife and other relatives, came over from Germany in May last, and after tramping around, his wife was killed by a man and thrown into the river. His story is so disconnected and some of his assertions so curious, it is evident that no reliance can be put on what he says. His hair has been cut as closely as possible to his head, and his appearance and actions force the conclusion that he is an escaped lunatic.

Killed near Rockville.-Yesterday afternoon the body of an unknown man was brought to this city on the St. Louis express east, which arrives about 4 o'clock. Coroner Shindler was notified and soon made his appearance. The body was taken to the dead house at the depot. It was that of a man aged between sixty-five and seventy years, with gray hair and a beard of brownish color. The clothes were those of a laboring man. In all probability the person lived the neighborhood of Rockville .-A knife, a pipe and a tovacco box, containing finecut and a piece of hard tobacco, were all that was found in the pockets. Nothing else to identify the body was found.

The coroner's jury met in the depot master's room and Mr. David Johnson, engineer, and Mr. Horace Atkinson, fireman, of passenger engine No. 44, were summoned as witnesses. These gentlemen testified that deceased was sitting on the Susquehanna canal bridge about fifty yards west of Rockville station on one of the bridge sills about twelve inches from the eastern track and holding on while a freight train was going westward across the bridge. He had his back turned towards the west and did not see the passenger train or the engineer did not see him until too late to stop. He was struck by the engine and knocked down, his head striking the edge of the tie and cutting a deep gash in it at the left temple. He dled a few minutes after he was struck, which was about 3:38 P. M. The train was stopped and the body brought to this city. The jury rendered the following verdict: "That the deceased came to his death by being struck by engine No. 44 attached to St. Louis day express east while crossing the canal bridge in Susquehanna township, and while trespassing on the Pennsylvania rallroad in direct violation of its rules." Unless some friends claim it the body will be interred at the expense of the county .-Patriot of the 11th, inst.

Another Homicide Case .- On Monday night of last week a blow was struck at Carrick Furnace which resulted in the death of one man and the fleeing from justice of another. Jacob Swank, a quiet, peaceable citizen of that place, was returning home from meeting and as he passed the casting house of the furnace a young man named John Heeter, who was sitting in the door, called to him to come over and attempted to provoke a quarrel with Swank, but the latter said he did not want to fight and passed on. Heeter called him a second time and as Swank turned Heeter hurled a large piece of cinder at him striking him on the forehead and felling him to the ground. Heeter then ran and jumped on the injured man and tramped him in a horrible manner but was pulled off by Mr. Ettinger, one of the furnace hands. Mr. Swank was then carried to the residence of his cousin, Mr. George W. Swank, where he had been boarding. He lingered on until Saturday night when death was the result.

The murderer escaped and has not been heard of since. The Commissioners offer a reward of $50 for his arrest. The following is an accurate description of the murderer: John Heeter aged about nineteen; five feet six inches tall; weight about one hundred and forty; heavy set with short neck: no beard, red faced with thick lips; nose with depressed bridge, flat nostrils and turned up; ears lay forward; heavy under jaw; hair curly and sandy; low forehead; a scar on upper part of nose; downcast look and repulsive countenance. - Franklin Repository. .

Hurt.-Tuesday of last week Dr. S. Stites, of Millerstown, met with quite a misfortune while driving Raccoon Valley. One of the traces came loose from the single-tree, and the doctor got out of his buggy to hook it on, and was in the act of getting in his buggy-had one foot on the step and the other in the buggy-when his horse suddenly started, throwing the doctor to the ground upon his back. He being a heavy man and advanced in years, could not help himself in his fall. He was somewhat stunned by the fall, but managed to get into his vehicle and drive, as he thought, to see his patient; but instead he was driving homeward, and only recognized where he was when he reached Kreamer's warehouse, near Millerstown station. After reaching home he put his horse away and went into his store, feeling somewhat sore from the fall, but thought it would pass away in a day or two. At night, after retiring to bed, he made the discovery that one of his ribs on the left side was broken. He was laid up for several days, but on Wednesday last we found him in his store attending to his business .- Ledger.

Dedication.-The Methodist Episcopal Church at Walnut Grove, ndar Markleville, will be dedicated Oct. 23rd. Rev. E. J. Gary, of Williamsport Dickinson Seminary, will officiate. Preaching at 10 A. Cumberland County .- We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week :

[From the Neuville Star.] The Deibler family, consisting of man wife and three children, living in a temporarily constructed house on McCachran's clearing, narrowly escaped burning up Friday night by the bursting of a coal oil lamp.

A buggy standing in front of Myers & Bros.. hardware, belonging to Rev. W. H. Shearer, U. B., pastor at Big Spring, was caught by a passing wagon, on Saturday last, upset and a wheel demolished. There was some discussion as to who should be the loser by the accident, but it was generally agreed that the buggy was standing too far out in the street. the street.

Mrs. Wm. Sharp, north of town, was no little surprised one evening recently, soon after dark, to see two men in her back yard, deliberately taking her chickens down off a tree. One was handing the chickens, while the other was hold-ing them. The coolness of the proceed-ing considerably alarmed her and she and her little daughter slid out of the house and came to town. Parties went out as soon as possible, but no clue to the depredators was obtained.

[From the Shippensburg News.] The bids for the erection of the Poor House barn in place of the one lately destroyed were opened last week, and

Juniata County .- We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week :

[From The Mighintonen Sentinel.]

Last Thursday two young men called at Emil Schott's business place and ex-pressed a desire to buy Jewelry. Wm. Marks waited on the customers. Presently he missed two finger rings. When the young men were about to withdraw, he quietly told them to hand over the rings that they had taken. They in-stantly declared they had taken nothing. The proprietor was informed of the theft. He called officer Hamilton in, and then the doors were locked. At that critical turn of affairs one of the men reached in the pocket of his sack coat and produced one of the missing rings. The other or second ring was not produced, but was paid for, and the parties were permitted to take their de-parture without suit or prosecution.
