KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE!

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL REMEDY EVER discovered, as it cures in its effects and does not blister. Read Proof Below.

From Rev. N. P. Granger, Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District, St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. J. B. KENDALL & CO., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it cured a horse of lameness caused by Spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ring-bone was forming. I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the cure be found.

Respectfully yours,
F. N. GRANGER.

Perseverance Will Tell!

Stoughton, Mass., March 16th, 1880.
B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed TWO BONE SPAVINS with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one; don't know how long the Spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off, and two months for the small one. I have used 10 bottles.
The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me it will be very great.

Is sure in effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, and yet is penetrating and powerful to reach any deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or any other enlargement, if used for several days, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callosities, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects. It is used full strength with perfect safety at all seasons of the year.

Send address for Illustrated Circular, which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success, to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.
Price $1. per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All Druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors.

FANCY Goods and Notions. Some new arrivals, cheap.
F. MORTIMER,

"I have come to the conclusion," said Brown, "that the less a man knows the happier he is." "Allow me to congratulate you, Brown," said Fogg.

New Jersey is trying to claim Noah because he was a New-ark man. Yes but he looked out of his Ark-an-saw land.
Give the south a fair show in this thing.

The remark made by a St. Louis girl when she first saw Forepaugh's beauty was: "Well, if I couldn't peel the socks off'n her in goodlookiness I'd, sell out an' go to Chicago!"

Two children are prattling. "Your father's house is very nice." "Yes, it's all covered with slate." "With slate?
My father's house is much nicer. He says it is all covered with mortgages."

"Come, come sir, none of your impudence; remember I am your father." "That's no fault of mine. You are the last person I should have chosen for a father, had I been consulted."

"Do you reside in this city?" asked a masked man of a masked lady at a masked party the other evening. He felt sick when she said to him, in a low voice: "Don't be a fool, John; I knew you by the wart on your thumb. It was his wife."

It was hard on him, but he was one of those forgetful men who are always getting into trouble. He had a nice, long, white duster, and when he got in the car he took off his coat and put on the duster, so that he might have a cool ride. After riding some time, he became a little chilled and put his coat on again but outside of his duster. And that was the last he thought about it until, strolling across the depot platform at the end of his journey, an inebriated fellow-traveller tapped him on the shoulder and said: "Shay, Mister! (hic!) yer ain't tucked in yer shirt."

Squire McGill had occasion to go to Courtland, and while there he went into a grocery and purchased a dozen lemons, making the remark to the lady clerk that he guessed he'd have some lemonade when he got home.

"Don't you want a squeezer?" she asked.

"Marm?"
"Won't you have a squeezer, sir?"

"Well, marm, if I was a young man I would. But I've been married nigh onto thirty years, and the old lady is dreffle sot agin huggin' out of the family."

An explanation was made, and the squire bought a squeezer to settle it.

Could Make him Shell out.

Gabe Snodgrass recently applied to Rev. Aminidab Bledsoe of the Blue Light Austin tabernacle, for some pecuniary assistance.

"I jess can't do it," replied Parson Bledsoe. "I has to sport pore ole mud-der."

"But your pore ole mudder says you don't do nuffin for her."

"Well, den, ef I don't do nuffin for my pore ole mudder, what's de use ob an outsider like you tryin' ter make me shell out?"

Licensed to Kill.

Apropos of the Medical Congress, here is a story which will amuse such of my readers as happen to be "licensed to kill."

It appears that an epidemic of typhoid fever broke out in a small village in the South of France. A locksmith fell ill and called in a local medical man, who came, prescribed, and went away. The next day, during his usual rounds, he called at the locksmith's and asked his wife after the health of the patient.

She replied, "Ah, sir, only imagine, whilst I went to fetch the medicine my husband ate two pickled herrings and a dish of bean salad."

"Great heavens!" cried the doctor, "and now he is—"

"Quite well, Doctor. He went to work this morning, and is as well as possible," said the happy wife.

"This is extraordinary!" exclaimed the doctor, "what a wonderful remedy for typhoid! I must make a note of it."

And accordingly entered in his notebook, "Typhoid fever—tried remedy: two pickled herrings and bean salad."

Two days afterwards a brick-layer was attacked by the same disorder. "Take," said the same doctor, who was consulted, "two pickled herrings and a dish of bean salad. I will come again to-morrow."

To-morrow—alas! the bricklayer was dead. The doctor, taking a logical view of his experimental method, again entered in the famous notebook, "Typhoid fever remedy—pickled herrings and bean salad. Good for locksmiths, bad for bricklayers."
