KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE!
 THE MOST SUCCESSFUL REMEDY EVER discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. Read Proof Below.
 From Rev. N. P. Granger, Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District, St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

Perseverance Will Tell!
 Stoughton, Mass. March 10th, 1880.
 B. J. Kendall & Co., Gents:—In reply to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed TWO BONES SPAVINS with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, and I don't know how long the Spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off, and two months for the smaller. I have used 12 bottles.
 The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunion to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me its sale will be very great. Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

Is sure in effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, and yet is penetrating and powerful to reach any deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or any other enlargement, if used for several days, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a Liniment for man or beast. It is now known to be the best Liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects. It is used full strength with perfect safety at all seasons of the year.

Send address for Illustrated Circular, which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unequalled success, to our knowledge, for best as well as man.
 Price $1. per bottle, or Six bottles for $5. All Druggists have it or can get it for you; or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors.

F. MORTIMER,

Willing to Give Way.

An amusing incident occurred on a street car the other day. A woman of fifty, made up to look about twenty-five years old, got aboard at a crossing to find every seat occupied. She stood for a moment, and then selected a poorly dressed man about forty-five years of age.
 She observed:

"Are there no gentlemen on this car?"
 "Indeed, I dunno," he replied, as he looked up and down. "If there hain't and you are going clear through, I'll hunt up one for you at the end of the line."

There was an embarrassing silence for a moment, and then a light broke in on him all of a sudden, and he arose and said:

"You can have this seat, madam. I am allus perfectly willing to stand up and give my seat to anybody older than myself."
 That decided her. She gave him a look which he will not forget to his dying day, and grabbing the strap she refused to sit down, even when five seats had become vacant.

"Did you hear of the case up on Market street?" said Barber to Brewer, when they met at the postoffice this morning. "No; what about it?" inquired Brewer, interested. "Why," said Barber, "a man lay there in the house nine days before the family would bury him. Had the funeral yesterday."

"By gracious!" said Brewer, "that's an outrage. Why didn't they bury him before? superstition?" "No; not exactly that," and Barber slowly drew Brewer's ear down toward his mouth.
 "That was not it. He wasn't dead."

"Now, children," said a Sunday-school superintendent, who had been talking to his scholars about good people, "when I am walking in the street, I speak to some persons I meet, and I don't speak to others; and what is the reason?" He expected the reply would be, "Because some are good and others are bad," but, to his discomfort, the general shout was, "Because some are rich and others are poor."

"Pretty nice thing in your paper this morning," said Fogg to the editor of The Matutinal Marauder. "Yes," said the editor inquiringly, his face lighting up with a glow of pleasure. "I suppose you refer to my leader on the situation?" Fogg shook his head. "Or, perhaps it was that neat paragraph about the Bungton railroad?" "No," said Fogg, "it was a pound of beefsteak that I took home for breakfast. Nicest thing I ever saw in the Marauder, 'pon honor."

"A lady of the esthetic school went up to a gentleman at a swell party and asked, 'What is parting?' And it happened that just at that moment he had come to realize that his suspenders were breaking and he thought it awful queer that she should know that anything was parting. But he bluntly answered, 'My suspenders, ma'am,' and then she screamed and there was his Satanic Majesty to pay."

After the previous question had been called, and the eyes and noses ordered, in the Texas Legislature, a member rose and said: "My friends, I beg that for a moment you will lend me your ears, and—" "Order!" cried the Speaker; no one can lend his ears here till the eyes and noses have been taken."

"I wonder if the time will ever come when water will stop running down-hill!" exclaimed an old gentleman.
 "Yes, uncle," responded a little girl;
 "the water'll always stop when it gets to the bottom of the hill."

Gen. Lee, is said to have asked a straggler of the rebel army whom he found eating green persimmons, if he did not know they were unfit for food.
 "I'm not eating them for food, General," replied the man, "I'm eating them to draw up my stomach to fit my railons."

Mable (aged twenty,) to Edith (aged five.) "There, Edith, do stop hugging me; you'll hug me to death."
 "You didn't talk that way to Charley Brown t'other evening, and he weighs ever so much more as I," replied the child.

An Oil City man purchased a small hand bellows, took it home and told his wife he had concluded to blow his brains out, whereupon she replied that a smaller sized bellows would have answered the purpose better.

It was a negro who acknowledged after a short but tempestuous voyage at sea that he was a land lubber. He said he lubbed it so well that he never wanted to go to sea again, for sure.
