

Behrend briefs

Financial Aid deadline for next year is February 15. Mark this important date on your calendar.

Alpha Phi Omega would like all staff, faculty and students to place Campbell Soup labels, Giant Eagle and Loblaws receipts in boxes in each division office and at the Rub Desk. Proceeds will go toward buying computer equipment for Diehl Elementary School.

Panama: Do the ends justify the means? Will be discussed on January 30 in Reed 117 at 8 pm by Dr. Gamble, Dr. Irwin, and Dr. Gayle Morris. Topics will include reasons behind the invasion, the loss of life and the capture and trial of General Noriega. A question and answer session will follow the discussion.

Workshops for Academic Success will be held for the next ten Sundays beginning January 28 from 2 to 3:30 pm in Lawrence Hall, Room 101. See Bidy Brooks in counseling and advising if you are interested or have any questions.

Omikron Delta Kappa honor society will be holding an open house on Wednesday, February 7 in the Winter Garden from 10 am to 2 pm for interested freshmen and sophomores in a four-year Behrend major. Refreshments will be served.

A limited amount of space is available in residence halls and on-campus apartments. They will be assigned on a first come, first serve basis. Contact the Housing Office in Dobbins hall or call 898-6161.

The Computer Center is offering training sessions on the CMS/XEDIT, DOS, and WRITING ASSISTANT to students this week. Please call or stop by the Computer Center for more information or to sign-up for a seminar.

Tempus Literary Magazine is requesting submissions. Leave them at the Rub desk or give them to Chris Dubbs by the deadline on Jan 31.

The deadline for fall 1990 and 1990-91 full-year study abroad programs has been extended until January 30. Stop by the Glennhill Farmhouse for more information. The deadline for Spring 1991 semester programs is March 1. Contact Mari Trenkle at 6160 for information on summer study abroad programs for credit.

Snow Ball Tickets go on sale this week in the SPC office in Reed. Cost is $3 for single and $5 for couples.

Graduation will be held on campus Saturday, May 12. Caps and gowns are $14 and must be ordered from the bookstore no later than March 16.

Frank King the "Corporate Comedian" is being sponsored by SPC on Thursday, January 25 at 8 pm in Reed.

Behrend After Dark talk show will be held Tuesday, January 23 at 7:30 pm in Reed. The topic will be "Homosexuality: Gay Men - Lesbian Women."

"How to Create A Resume" will be presented by the Career and Placement Office Thursday, January 25 at 4 pm in the Reed Conference Room.

Police Report:

Police arrest four students for underage drinking over weekend Two other students get referred

by Carol Mandera
Collegian Staff Writer

Campus police arrested four students for under-aged drinking on Sunday, January 21. Randy Hoffman, Manager of Police and Safety, reported the arrests were made after officers stopped the students' vehicle because of excessive, late-night, horn blowing.

The department referred two male students to the Student Disciplinary Board for further action after officers caught the students trying to enter a Perry Hall window on Saturday, January 20. Officers determined that the students, both under 21, had been drinking.

According to Hoffman, "Information available at the time led to the approved decision to refer rather than arrest."

Campus police closed Glennhill Farmhouse on Saturday, January 6, after ice fell from the roof and ruptured a natural gas line. Hoffman reported the accident happened shortly before midnight. His officers secured the building and reported the damage to National Fuel Gas Company.

Gas company personnel shut down the gas supply within an hour, and the building was vented to remove fumes. Service to Glennhill Farmhouse and South Cottage was interrupted until the line was repaired late in the morning.

A commuter student was referred to the Student Disciplinary Board for further action after police discovered his temporary parking permit had been altered. Reports indicate the action was taken on Friday, January 5.

On Thursday, January 11, officers assisted at an accident on Station Road. Hoffman indicated that no students were involved in the accident. Officers remained at the scene with the victims until Brookside and Pennsylvania State Police arrived.

A female dorm student reported receiving harassing phone calls on Monday, January 8. Hoffman believes the incident is related to similar incidents reported by the student during the Fall semester. He said the calls are not obscene and are probably originating from an off-campus location.

A group of Mercyhurst students were ordered to leave Behrend Campus property on January 3. Department records indicate that the three males and four females were discovered camping in the gorge area.

Hoffman noted that alcohol did not appear to be a factor. Officers explained campus rules to the campers, before asking them to leave. Officers took possession of a knife found in the area.

The department received reports of three cases of theft and one case of vandalism. The theft cases involve the theft of a portable stereo from a student's car parked in the apartment lot on January 21, the theft of a gold watch and a bracelet from a biology lab on January 18, and theft of a check from a resident student's mailbox in Reed on January 7.

The vandalism report was filed on January 20 by a commuter student who stated that the tires on the right of her vehicle were slashed while the vehicle was parked in a commuter lot.

Police are continuing to investigate the theft and vandalism cases, and Hoffman requests that anyone with information should contact the Department of Police and Safety at extension 6101.

WPSE appoints advisory board

by Jennifer Flanagan
Collegian Staff Writer

Recently a community advisory board was appointed for Behrend's radio station, WPSE (AM 1450).

Comprised of five prominent community leaders from the broadcasting and communications fields, the community advisory board was appointed by Provost and Dean John M. Lilley with recommendations from the station's policy board.

The appointees are Robert Bach, sales manager of WJET FM; Edward P. Junker III, chairman, president and CEO of Marine Bank; Christopher Zimmerman, president and general manager of WQLN; Edward Wellejus, city editor of the Times Publishing Company; and Myron Jones, president and owner of JET Broadcasting Company.

Ken Bunting, WPSE's student station manager says the group assembled is a good one. "I'm really pleased with the people we have. They have years of broadcasting experience and are willing to give us a lot of valuable information. We're in a very good position."

The advisory board's function is to provide community input and guidance to WPSE. The board's role is strictly advisory and has no control over any segment of the radio station, only providing suggestions for improving WPSE programming and goals.

"The advisory board does provide a vital link between the school and community," said Bunting, "besides offering feedback, the board voices community needs and offers guidance on programming and budget issues."

WPSE was formed last spring as a result of a gift from Burbach Broadcasting Company. The station's administration and license is modeled after WPSU, University Park's station. Its primary functions are to offer educational opportunities for students and to serve the Erie Community.

Housing fair at UP

University Park will hold Housing Fair '90 on January 26 and 27.

Students can learn about the living environment on the campus and in the surrounding State College community from University Park and State College housing representatives, off-campus rental agencies, and other housing organizations.

Additional features of Housing

Fair '90 include walking tours of University Park residence halls, bus tours of several local apartment complexes and Quick Tip sessions that give pointers on how to select on and off-campus housing.

The Fair lasts from 9 am to 3:30 pm on both Friday and Saturday in the Hetzel Union Building.

