On the home front...

Behrend Intramural Sand Volleyball preliminary rounds will be held throughout the week of Sept. 30 through Oct. 3 and the championship rounds will be on Oct. 6. Deadline for entries is 4 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 26.

Intramural tennis entries have been extended to 4 p.m. Friday, Oct. 13.

And now for national news...

PGA Champion and rookie, John Daly, has established a college fund for children of spectators killed by lightning during the PGA Championship. Maybe sports aren't filled with a bunch of selfish brats after all.

Bob Johnson, coach of the 1991 Stanley Cup Champions, The Pittsburgh Penguins, has one more battle to fight. Two days before he was to lead Team USA in the Canada Cup Tournament, complained of stroke-like symptoms. Johnson underwent two hours of surgery to reveal a brain tumor. After further CAT scans, a second tumor was found.

NFL owners are scheduled to meet Sept. 12 in Dallas to decide the fate of the struggling World League of American Football. The WLAF, which was projected to make $4 million dollars, lost $22 million. Oops.

Although Jennifer Capriati's tennis skills speak for themselves, her camp has hired her a "media specialist" to help her conquer the "I means," "Likes," and "You knows" during her postmatch interviews.

Dwight Gooden's season may be over. Bothered by what he called "unusual stiffness" and "tingling" in his right shoulder, he missed two starts before the Mets sent him to New York from Cincinnati for an MRI exam.

Reports continue to surface that Stump Merrill won't return as manager of the Yankees next year. Merrill's contract runs through 1992, but player unrest and mounting losses have placed his future in jeopardy.

Women's tennis team splits matches

by Dante Banaga
The Collegian

The Women's Tennis Team earned its first victory of the season by beating fellow division III school SUNY-Fredonia last Thursday.

Talley Sjoberg (6-0, 6-0), along with Cathy Shanshala (2-6, 6-2, 7-5), and Suki Fuller (6-2, 6-4) contributed to the victory in the singles and in the doubles.

Sjoberg and her partner,

Sue Moreno, won their match by a score of 6-0, 6-4.

The other match was won by Shanshala, teamed with Fuller. The score was 6-2, 5-7, 6-4.

"This year's team is a very hard working team," said Coach Dan Gallegos, "they enjoy playing and are a lot of fun to coach."

Winning the three sets contributed greatly to the victory against SUNY-Fredonia.

"That is about as close as you can get (in the win against SUNY-Fredonia) and still be able to win them all," added Gallegos.

However, the team also faced its first defeat against Westminster last Saturday.

Ed. Note- The statistics and highlights were not available for the Tuesday match against SUNY-Fredonia at the time The Collegian went to press.
