On the national front...

A billboard that was put up by artist Mark Heckman in Chicago has been taken down. The billboard depicted a black golfer on a black golf cart, holding a white golf ball. The slogan read, "Afro Country Club. . . where only the ball is white." According to Heckman, "I used it as a metaphor for the Country Club mentality, and the bigotry and prejudice that still pervades in the American Society." Heckman paid $3,500 for the billboard to be up for a month, but it was taken down after a week.

After opening the season with an unexpected 3-3 record, the women's tennis team has dropped to 3-8 overall.

"Injuries and sickness have plagued the team," said freshman Cathy Shanshala. "We have had all kinds of nagging illnesses that have hurt the team."

"We've been putting a lot of pressure on ourselves to win" added Shanshala.

The ladies fell to Gannon 8-1 on Oct. 1st and then to Buffalo State 5-2 on Oct. 5th.

The team now packs up their bags and heads to Rochester, New York, for a three day tournament. There they join Wells College, Ithaca, St. John Fisher and Nazareth for the bout. They look forward to do much better.

Dan Gallegos's squad finishes up the season Saturday, Oct. 19th, at Carnegie Mellon.
