Announcing

The Clarence A. Smith and Eugenie Baumann Smith Creative Writing Scholarships

1992

The Smith bequest to Behrend College is used to support the creative writing program. The interest on the bequest funds creative writing scholarships, visiting writers, and other services for the program. While we solicit submissions from outside the Penn State system, we welcome applications from current Penn State-Behrend English majors. We anticipate awarding several scholarships this spring, for use beginning in the fall of 1992. Winners of the scholarships will receive $500 per year to continue throughout the remainder of the undergraduate degree program, normally completed within four years of study. We ask that all division faculty announce this scholarship competition in classes immediately, since the deadline for submission is March 20, 1992.

Eligibility

Application for the Smith scholarships is open to any current Penn State-Behrend English major who has selected or intends to select the creative writing option, and to students who have not yet declared the major, but agree to do so as soon as they are eligible. While there is no minimum GPA for submission, applicants should be able to demonstrate academic excellence, and must agree, as a condition of the award, to maintain adequate progress toward the degree. Awards will be decided by the Behrend College Scholarship Committee, in consultation with creative writing faculty.

Application materials

Submissions should consist of:

- * A letter of application that includes clarification of semester standing, and status of declaration of major.
- * A current transcript of grades.
- * A 7-10 page writing sample in fiction, poetry, or creative non-fiction; research papers, news stories, and journalism articles are not eligible for consideration. A mixture of eligible genres (i.e., several poems and a story or personal essay) is fine.

Send to

Diana Hume George, Smith Endowment Committee, Department of English, Carriage House, Behrend College.

Applications must be received by March 20, 1992. No Exceptions
