Like beauty, (s)he walks in the night...

LIGHTEN UP

This is a joke. Nothing in The Collision should be considered factual or newsworthy. If you want facts, read the Encyclopedia Britannica. If you want pictures, read USA Today. If you want fashion advice, ask Miss L. Weil, maybe not.

Last night party-goers at Jimmy Z's Timeout Tavern were introduced to a new breed of party crasher.

Behrend's Police and Safety cruiser, a 1991 Ford Explorer, crashed through the front wall of the tavern, sending patrons scrambling on top of pool tables, pinball machines and drunk frat boys to escape bodily harm.

"My God," said one patron, "If they wanted a drink, all they had to do was ask." Oddly enough, the cruiser's front end was pointed towards Buffalo Road, as though the unit was backed into the building.

"We (hick) weren't anywhere near no booze," exclaimed one officer as he dropped his bottle of Jim Beam. The officer then oozed to the floor muttering something about handcuffs and a petting zoo, but it was nothing we felt comfortable quoting.

Vehicle Fire

Police and Safety officers responded to a vehicle fire over the weekend. Apparently maintenance personnel were refueling a lawnmower, but failed to remove the gas cap before dispensing the fuel. Maintenance officials said only three forest creatures were injured in the following blast.

Drug Use

On Monday Police and Safety Officers investigated reports that drugs were being distributed and used in a university building. After officers burst into the building in question, the school nurse bodily threw them out. "Of course we give out drugs," said the nurse. "It's the friggin' Health Center."
