

Snyder takes over The Collegian New editor ready to face challenges

by Todd J. Irwin
The Collegian

After five semesters under the same editor, The Collegian's top position will be filled by a new student in the Fall.

Vicky Snyder, a seventh semester communication major, has been selected to take over as the next editor of The Collegian. Snyder, who has served previously as a news writer, is currently the newspaper's assistant editor.

"I'm looking forward to working with the returning staff members in the Fall," said Snyder. "I'm also looking forward to seeing some new faces with fresh ideas in here."

Snyder envisions no major changes in the newspaper's format for next semester, but admits she does have some minor changes in the works.

"We are planning a guest columnist to appear in every third issue of the paper," said Snyder.

Snyder, a native Texan, will have an entirely new editorial staff on hand as four of the five current editors are graduating and the other has no plans of returning to The Collegian.

"I feel excited that there has been so much interest in The Collegian and I hope that we can continue in the fine tradition of the old staff," said Snyder.

Also leaving the newspaper is Dr. Mike Simmons, associate professor of English, who has decided to hand over the advising reigns. Cathy Mester, instructor of speech communication, will take over as the newspaper's new advisor.

WORLD

BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA -- Battles raged across Bosnia-Herzegovina on Tuesday and an explosive new round of ethnic violence threatened to undermine U.N. Peacekeeping operations in both Bosnia and neighboring Croatia. Shelling by federal artillery positions began late Monday. A federal army commander said the shelling was revenge for Croatian militia attacks to the north and would continue until they ceased. News media reported at least six people died and 50 were wounded in Bosnia Tuesday.

NATION

PHILADELPHIA -- Democratic front-runner Bill Clinton routed Jerry Brown Tuesday in the Pennsylvania primary. Clinton led Brown 56 percent to 26 percent last night with 90 percent of the precincts reporting. Paul Tsongas, who dropped out of the democratic race, won 13 percent of the vote. President Bush won his 22nd straight primary victory over Patrick Buchanan. Closer to home, Lynn Yeakel upset Mark Singel for the Democratic U.S. Senate nomination in Tuesday's primary. She will challenge GOP Senator Arlen Specter, who beat Steven Freind, this fall.

MIAMI -- Agents have arrested U.S. managers of Colombia's growing Cali drug cartel and linked them to 22 tons of cocaine seized in shipments of broccoli and fence posts, authorities said Tuesday. The cartel handles an estimated 80 percent of the cocaine smuggled through Miami, said Tom Cash, head of the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration in Miami. The Miami arrests and seizures came after the completion of two drug investigations, Operation Wizard II and Operation Cornerstone.

ERIE -- A Franklin Township woman who invited the Ku Klux Klan to rally on her property this summer was given 90 days in Erie County Prison by Erie County Court Judge John Bozza for disorderly conduct, officials said Tuesday. Ella Mae Buren was charged at a preliminary hearing with ethnic intimidation in July. Buren, who represented herself, maintained she has been harassed by her neighbors for years. "My constitution says I have a right to be a bigot," Mrs. Buren told the magistrate.
