Irwin Receives Scholarship

by Amy Herb
The Collegian

Dr. Zachary Irwin, associate professor of political science at Behrend, received a four-month research fellowship at Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars in Washington, D.C.

The Wilson Center accepted a research proposal, "Foreign Politics in Yugoslavia: A Republican Perspective" from Dr. Irwin last fall.

Irwin will spend the four months of research studying the growth, development and expression of individual [Yugoslavian] republic activity from the time the republics were under federal control until they became individual entities, says Irwin.

Dr. Irwin presented a paper about Yugoslavia's relations with Western Europe at a conference in June, which was funded by IREX.

The paper will be published in a book about the breakup of Yugoslavia.

The Wilson Center was established as part of the Smithsonian Institute in 1968 by Congress. The center brings scholars, from around the world, together who have interests in researching geographical areas.

"The benefit for us (the accepted scholars) is that we are relieved of responsibilities other than research seminars," said Irwin. "We have access to all of the resources in the Washington, D.C. area, such as the Library of Congress and possible interviews with diplomatic personnel."

Each year fifty to one hundred fellowships are competed for internationally, making them a prestigious commodity.

However, Irwin says modestly that his being awarded the fellowship "is a combination of subject matter and the times."

Following the fellowship, Dr. Irwin will travel to former Yugoslav capitals to expand upon the research completed in Washington. This will be funded by the International Research Exchange Board, which is associated with the Wilson Center.

Although Dr. Irwin may not be saddened by the thought of missing an Erie winter, he does have a message for the students.

"I am looking forward to the fellowship, but I will miss Behrend and the students," said Irwin. "Although I do love research, I love teaching very much, and consider teaching my primary ambition."

Police Report

Theft

On September 24, Police and Safety was called to the Behrend Bookstore to investigate an incident of theft. Bookstore employees had witnessed a student attempting to conceal a baseball cap under his shirt and try to exit the store. The student was questioned and charged with retail theft.

Medical Assist

On September 22, a student had been riding his bike down the hill between Perry Hall and the Reed building. The bike flipped and the student was thrown from the bike, landing on his head. Police and Safety assisted at the scene. The student complained of neck and head injuries and was transported to St. Vincent Health Center by Brookside. He was treated and later released.

Harassment by Communications

Police and Safety is continuing to receive reports of harassing phone calls. These incidents are currently under investigation.

Applications Being Accepted

It's time again for those who might be interested in becoming a Resident Assistant to begin the application process leading to the consideration of acceptance into the RA program.

Applications have been available in the Office of Student Affairs since September 28.

Requirements to be considered for the RA program include:

- a 2.25 cumulative GPA
- 24 earned credit hours upon completion of Summer Session 1993
- good conduct standing with the University
- plan to attend classes at Behrend at least one year following the training course

According to Ken Miller, associate dean of student affairs, approximately 10-14 positions on the RA staff will need replacements next year.

Miller commented that the job is a great way to get involved with helping other people. College-related issues and developmental processes are all included as part of the job.

For anyone interested, applications are due in the Office of Student Affairs by 5 p.m. on October 30.
