

Election '92

I'm a supporter of Bush. A change would hurt more than help. A change in congress is necessary. I like Ridges' position on term limits...I feel Clinton is going to raise taxes which will hurt small business. I support the free trade agreement and Bush will help that and I think Clinton will go against it.

This is the first year I've registered to vote. I've registered as a Republican. I'm not sure who I want to vote for yet. I don't feel Bush has filled all his duties as President. I'm not sure I trust Clinton. Personal life should be separated from the presidency. I don't feel Perot is qualified.

The lesser of three evils. They all think they're going to have a quick fix. Which can't be done. No short term answers.

Economic policies

Tax exemptions or reductions for small businesses could stimulate economic development, but loss of tax receipts might necessitate replacing lost tax revenue from other sources: Loss of jobs in traditional industries may make additional job training programs desirable, and tax increases could pay for the programs; a graduated income tax rate structure might require use of tax deductions; a permanent state/local tax commission would examine the soundness and fairness of current and proposed taxes; allowing local wage tax increases would reduce reliance on property taxes as the primary source of revenue for schools and municipalities.

Do you support the following?	Tax incentives for small businesses	More training programs for American jobs	Amending PA Constitution for graduated income tax	Permanent state/local tax commission	Increasing local wage tax to offset property tax
