V-Ball looks to future

"The season was very positive. The team played well and everyone got along. The team had a lot of charisma," said Nadolny.

Torrelli said, "We worked hard and had a lot of fun together. Things just didn't seem to go our way."

The statistical team leaders for this season were Allshouse with 49 serving aces, sophomore Carrie Grzejka with 271 kills, 55 solo blocks and 51 block assists, and Nadolny with 180 saves and 146 kills.

"Overall, it was a good season," said Wilson. "The highlight of it had to be winning the Alfred Tournament and coming in second in our own tournament."

She then added, "The toughest stretch had to be when we played Washington and Jefferson, University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown, and Bethany. We just didn't play that well during that part of the season."

The thing to look forward to now is the upcoming off-season and next season. The team will be playing spring volleyball which will consist of three tournaments and possibly a few dual meets.

They'll play until the end of this semester and start their off-season strength training.

Next season will be a new era for the Lions because they have no juniors on this year's team.

This year's freshmen and sophomores will have the experience of only one or two seasons to build on for next year.

"A good off-season will make the difference," said Wilson. "I want them to play more, but I want them to have other interests as well."

The Lions will be looking forward to next season as they will be ushering in a "new" era of the Lady Lions volleyball, one that should be filled with fast-paced action, a lot of points and hopefully, more wins.

If everyone recycled this much of their daily paper, we'd save 9,000 trees a year.
