

DEDICATION WILL BE HELD ON SATURDAY

Council Drafts Constitution for Student Body

Under the direction of Mr. Thomas Turnbull, history instructor, the temporary student council headed by president, William Nelson, completed the first draft of Behrend Center's constitution. The constitution was mimeographed and distributed to the student body, Friday October 22. Today the entire student body was eligible to vote on the constitution, which must be ratified by two thirds of the students' voting. In the event that the student body does not accept the constitution, it will be rewritten entirely, as it must be accepted as a whole. The writing of the constitution was held off while student council members asked suggestions of the students at large. These suggestions were put before the council and either rejected or accepted.

The constitution in its original form is as follows:

Article I. Name

Section I. The name of this organization shall be the Student Government Association of Behrend Center of the Pennsylvania State College.

Article II. Organization

Section I. There shall be a Student Council composed of representatives from each curriculum.
Section II. There shall be a faculty advisory board composed of two, one faculty advisor representative of administrative head, and one faculty advisor elected by council.

Article III. Purpose

Section I. The Student Government Association shall:

- initiate all legislation concerning the welfare of the Student body and college; all such legislation shall be submitted to the faculty advisory board for approval.
- create, maintain and regulate all customs and traditions of the college.
- initiate and coordinate social functions and activities of the student body for the mutual welfare of the student body and college.
- investigate any complaint or suggestion made to it by any student or group of students. Such complaint or suggestion shall be in writing and signed by person or persons instigating or suggesting such appeal. Said complaint or suggestion shall be taken at next regularly scheduled meeting providing that such a meeting does not fall within a week following receipt of said complaint or suggestion. Special meetings may be called as the case may warrant.

Section II. The faculty advisory board shall:

- act in advisory capacity in the enactment of all legislation.
- have the power to veto such legislation as one or both deems detrimental to student body and college. Legislation may be passed over said veto by a two-thirds vote of the entire student body and a simple majority vote of faculty members.

Article IV. Membership

Section I. All regular and special

In Grateful Appreciation

Mrs. Mary B. Behrend

We Thank You Mrs. Behrend

We, the student body of Behrend Center's first class, want to take this opportunity to thank you individually and collectively, Mrs. Mary B. Behrend, for your grand gift of this lovely estate, now our beautiful Campus.

Far more important than all the appropriate surrounding physical properties, however, is the loving, considerate thought behind your donation which has made possible greater, and more adequate educational facilities for not only the Erie area students but for young people all over western Pennsylvania who are looking forward to college days in the future.

So once again, thank you, Mrs. Behrend, for this splendid move, so typical of your husband, Erie philanthropist, Ernst R. Behrend.

Dress Will Be Informal for First Dance

Saturday, October 30th will be the opening event of the social season at Behrend Center. The newly formed student council has planned for this dance with the added help of Mr. Demp, and Mr. Biley. The "Staters Strut" will take place on Halloween Eve in the Student Lounge, and is expected to attract many students.

The Cub Staff has been advised that dress should be very informal as there will be square and round dancing, with Howie Disk giving the calls. After an hour or more of this fast twisting and turning there will be refreshments served, consisting of cider and doughnuts.

The dance committee consists of Bill Nelson, chairman, Judy Thomas, refreshments, Wes Pfirmann, publicity, Dunk Zimmerman, decorations, Janet Brown, chaperone committee.

Grapplers Gather For Grunts, Groans

Intramural Wrestling Practice is being held every Saturday morning from nine thirty to eleven forty five at the Lawrence Park High School. Participants will receive instruction and training for several months afterwards, and intramural tournament will be held and a champion crowned for each of the following weight classes: 121 lbs., 128 lbs., 135 lbs., 145 lbs., 155 lbs., 165 lbs., 175 lbs., heavy-weight. About 20 grapplers have signed up already.

Night Classes Get Under Way

Not only is the Behrend Center of the Pennsylvania State College going at full speed during the day but it is also working overtime at night. Yes, classes are being held in the classroom building on Monday and Wednesday evenings. The courses are being primarily held for those interested in furthering their former education along industrial lines. There are seventy-seven students and 120 course enrollments. Many of these courses do not carry college credit but instead industrial units. The courses being taught and the teachers teaching them are as follows:

- Engineering Economics and Cost Mr. Ferrell
- Strength of Materials
- Process Industries Mr. Steinberg
- Managerial Accounting Mr. Steinford
- Tool and Die Design Mr. Kinney
- Electrical Machinery Applications Mr. Foyle
- Applied Mechanics and Strength of Material Mr. Schlosser
- Kinematics Mr. Sternberg
- The Shop Foreman Mr. Prendergast
- Labor Relations Mr. Ferrell
- Miss Lucy Norton

Alumni Holds First Meeting

Ridge Riley, coordinator for many of the extension activities of the college, was present to accompany the pictures with an interesting line of dialogue and chatter.

Other business at the alumni meeting found Othmar Wuenschel, President of the group, suggesting that the alumni take a firmer interest in the activities of their school now that a new branch has been established in the area. Mr. Wuenschel also suggested that at the next meeting the Alumni put forth efforts to elect new officers for the coming year. Edwin W. Nick, President of the Northern Equipment Company and one of the strong boosters of the Erie Behrend Center, also intimated that the alumni meetings would be opportune times for the Erie alumni to get together to review old times and support educational activities in relation to Penn State and its new extension.

- Electrical Networks Mr. Schlosser
- Heat Power III Mr. Schneider

Judge Hirt Is Main Speaker

Erie's most recently established institution of higher learning, The Behrend Center of the Pennsylvania State College, will hold its formal dedication on Saturday, October 30 on the west terrace of the campus, which is located approximately seven miles east of Erie proper, and about two miles south of Wesleyville on Station Road.

Open to the public, the dedication ceremonies will commence at 3 P. M., and are to be presided over by Edwin W. Nick, President of the Erie Advisory Board of Penn State's Behrend Center.

The invocation and benediction during the official ceremonies will be handled by Reverend E. Maclay Gearhart, pastor of the Lutheran Memorial Church and longtime friend of Ernst R. Behrend, the late husband of the donor of the Behrend Estate, Mrs. Mary B. Behrend.

Main speaker for the formal dedication will be Judge William E. Hirt, Superior Court Judge of Philadelphia.

James Milholland of Pittsburgh and acting President of The Pennsylvania State College, along with Mrs. Mary B. Behrend, will be speakers on the program.

Among Penn State officials to be present will be J. Orvis Keller, assistant to the President in Charge of the Extension.

Accompanying Mrs. Behrend, is to be her daughter, Mrs. Sayer of Glenhead, Long Island. Mrs. Sayer, then Miss Harriet Behrend, lived on the family estate for nearly ten years until about 1931, when she moved from this area.

If cloudy or rainy weather appears on the dedication day, the ceremonies are scheduled for the College library and dining room, or the student assembly building.

"We of the Behrend Center's administrative staff, faculty personnel and advisory and student body would like to take this opportunity to extend to the many citizens of Erie and Erie County and surrounding areas, who have so enthusiastically expressed their desire to visit our beautiful new school grounds, a most friendly and hearty welcome," T. Reed Ferguson administrative head, stated today.

"Only city and county school officials", continued Mr. Ferguson, "along with presidents of neighboring colleges and universities, have been sent formal invitations, but everyone is welcome."

Mr. Ferguson also stressed the fact that partially all of the campus' 400 acres on the huge palatial estate will be open to public inspection.

Probably the outstanding building on the grounds, is the former summer home of the Behrends, a pleasant, friendly home of early Dutch Colonial architecture. The mansion was built in 1933 and contains the most modern fixtures and equipment, including two gas furnaces and a complete air-cooling system for the summer months. The magnificent flooring of 12-inch poplar trees grown in Canada.
