The Right of Uncle Sam to Establish

COL. THOS. M. BAYNE ASKED TO EXPLAIN

Riparian Lines Scouted.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon, with President Schmertz in the chair. Mr. Ricketson, of the Committee on Manufacturers, offered a resolution indorsing the International Maritime Exposition, which is to be held in Boston from November 4, 1889, till January 4, 1890, and calling the attention of Pittsburg manufacturers to it as a favorable opportunity for a display of their articles of manufacture. The resolution was adopted.

The following letter from Arthur Kirk. the powder manufacturer, addressed to the President of the Chamber, was read and filed: PITISBURG, September 28, 1889.

In the published minutes of a meeting of the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce, on the 16th instant, while the subject of riparian rights was under discussion, the following appears:
Colonel Bayne asked permission to make a few remarks on the subject, which was granted.

"Mr. Bayne then stated that the work of stablishing water lines was supererogation on the part of the State of Pennsylvania, and she has no legal right to do it." The work of establishing such lines belongs distinctly to the national Government, which has supreme juris-diction in such matters. He advised the Chamber of Commerce not to commit itself on the question.

I remember that back in the seventies a law I remember that back in the seventies a law was presented by the United States Engineer for the approval of your Chamber, and to be passed by the Legislature of Pennsylvania, granting authority to the United States to construct the Davis Island dam, and at the last session of the Legislature the Western Pennsylvania River Improvement Association, after great trouble and expense, got an act through the Pennsylvania State Legislature authorizing the construction of the Herr's Island dam by granting the right to the United States to erect dams on all the navigable waters of the State.

United States has to establish riparian lines, and it will be a great public benefit if Hon. Thomas M. Bayne will at your next meeting inform the public where the authority can be found for saving the work of establishing such lines belongs distinctly to the national Government, which has supreme jurisdiction in such matters. ARTHUR KIRK.

In a conversation with a DISPATCH retrict Attorney Walter Lyon said that he believed that Colonel Bayne meant that no matter what the State might do, the United States would not consider it binding as far as natural high and low water marks were concerned; that in the case of the Davis Island dam, the enabling act was passed through the Legislature simply because some adjacent territory, outside of the high water mark, had to be taken. That was also the case with the Herr's Island dam. The idea, as expressed by Mr. Lyon, is that the United States has absolute eminent domain over high and low water mark property on any natural waterway.

A communication from the National Board of Trade, announcing the annual meeting to be held in Louisville on Octo-ber 16, was received and filed. A communication from the directors of the Western Pennsylvania Exposition Society, offering Mechanical Hall for their use during the visit of the delegates to the International Congress, was referred to the Committee on Entertainment. The Oil Well Supply Company was elected to membership.

President W. E. Schmertz announced the following committees to look after and en-tertain the delegates to the International Congress during their sojourn in Pittsburg: WHO THE GENTLEMEN ARE.

REWARDING PUBLIC SPIRIT.

Cornepolitaus Again in a Sanel Regarding Their Still-Born Novelty Works. Some years ago an iron-works fever took possession of Coraopolis and after several meetings had been held and a considerable amount of pow-wowing had been done, the Board of Trade started a subscription, from the proceeds of which a couple of acres of ground were purchased from Mrs. Riter. She herself was a subscriber, and donated ground to a man who proposed to build a novelty works. The building was erected, but then followed numerous complications which finally resulted in its sale along with the two acres, for which a deed had been made. The building still stands there, but it is tenantless, various creditors having dismantled it piecemeal of the machinery.

The money was subscribed, but not paid, and after the fizzle, some of the subscribers began to pull backward, claiming that they were not obliged to come to the center unless the mill were put into operation. As two years have elapsed since the build-ing was erected and a year since the Sheriff rung down the curtain there has been con-siderable friction between the Board of siderable friction between the Board of Trade and the other subscribers. The first named kick against being held solely responsible for the defunct equine, and a question arises as to whether they having become responsible to Mrs. Riter can make the other subscribers share the burden. The matter occasioned some disturbance some months ago, but it blew over after some angry crossfiring. Now the administrators of Mrs. Riter's estate have arrived at a stage in their proceedings where it be-comes necessary to have some definite action, and another meeting was held a few nights since which adjourned also without definite action. It is said that Messrs. Samuel Marshall and John Arras, of the Board of Trade, have stated that if they are to be left in the soup, they first propose toknow why, and it is possible that the matter will reach the courts before it is adjudicated.

SAID TO BE A GUSHER.

An Oil Well Struck in the Wilds of Robinson

Township. Like men some towns are born great, some achieve greatness and others have it thrust upon them. On Saturday oil was struck within a mile of Coraopolis, on the Daniel Diep farm northwest of Ewing's Mills, on Montour run, and a short distance west of Forest Grove Presbyterian Church. The community is considerably worked up over the strike, as some of the companies had been surrendering their leases west of the Moore gas well, for some reason best known to themselves. The Ewing-Darrington venture, however, on the Knopf farm, seemed to indicate that if gas were not to be had oil was. That well was troubled with salt water, and the company concluded to case it up and go deeper than the Shanopin sand, and since then they have lost a bailer in the well, and are now engaged in cutting it up, It is said this last venture, on the Diep farm, is by the Ft. Pitt Company. It seems the bore was for gas, but oil was found in-stead, which isn't regarded as a bad substitute. People in the vicinity said the well was flowing at the rate of 500 barrels a day. At Coraopolis it was rated at 800 barrels and a gentleman in Fisher Bros.' office stated that the well had made several flows and then was shot in the Shanopin sand. He said she would make a good well unless salt water came in to make trouble.

MISS GARDNER APPLYING.

The Lincoln Board Will Elect & Teacher This Evening, Perhaps.

Major W. F. Aull, one of the members of the new Lincoln School Board, said yesterday: "The board will meet in the Lincoln school house Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. I think the meeting will be open to all who wish to attend it, at least I will endeavor to have it so, as I am not in favor of any star chamber sessions. I understand that there are already half a dozen appli-cants for the position of writing teacher, Miss Gardner among the number. I am not authorized to speak for the other memmen I do not know at all, but I think that if no more important charges are made against Miss Gardner than those I have already heard, she will stand a fair chance of being elected. No complaints were ever heard against her during her seven years of service until shortly before this school trouble, and even her opponents admit her ability as a writing teacher."

FOR SUPERIOR EXCELLENCE.

Pittaburg Schools Carry Off the Honors at

The secretaries of the Central Board of Education received semi-official notice vesterday of the award of two gold medals for the fine work of the Pittsburg schools exhibited at the Paris exposition. The exhibits comprised one volume each from the High and City Normal schools and 15 vol-umes from the primary schools, the latter the work of scholars of from 6 years to 11 years of age. The matter sent on included language and numbers and was gotten up in handsomely bound volumes. The awards were for "superior excellence" and were given for the display as a whole. The exhibits attracted a great deal of at-tention by the people of European coun-tries, where work of the character by such young children is unknown. President Carnot signed the award, but pending the receipt of official information from the commisioner, no details are at hand.
