COMMENCEMENT week promises to be especially interesting this year. Alumni and friends of the College will find at this season a pleasant opportunity to enjoy the usual exercises which will perhaps present some new features, and at the same time to observe and inquire into the improvements and additions in connection with the institution, now in progress or in prospect. Friends of the College may find more to gratify them than their former annual visits afforded.

OUR base ball team deserves praise for the interest it has kept alive among the students in spite of the difficulties with which it has had to contend. The team enjoys and merits the best wishes of the students. Players should remember this and not be too sensitive when persons outside happen to make suggestions, If such persons are offensive and detrimental it is because they are over-anxious for the success of the team. Churlishness on its part may reverse sympathy. We are sorry that our team must suffer from the tardiness of the authorities in putting the ground in proper condition, but we are sure that all the students have the greatest confidence in the players.
