

A Stinging Defeat.

It is, indeed, a sad story to tell what happened on Beaver Field last Friday afternoon. For the first time in the history of State College, and we hope it is the last, a State nine suffered a shut-out on her own diamond.

Dickinson did it, 4 to 0!

No excuses are offered, as the Dickinsonians most decidedly played better baseball in all departments and deserved to win. It will be remembered that, last year, the Carlisle Collegians were roundly trounced on Beaver Field, 17 to 0, and on their own grounds, 10 to 2. This year, however, Captain Davis put "Friar" Hall on the rubber, and his puzzling twirling and contented smile proved too much for the State team.

The only thing left for State to do is to turn the trick again on Dickinson when our confident team goes to Carlisle on the Eastern trip.

As Haverstick was out of the game with a bad knee, hurt in the Cornell game, Thompson was put on as Hall's opponent, and he pitched good ball except that he had a slight lack of control. The loss of the game was not due to the pitching but to State's errors and Dickinson's good playing.

For three innings, neither side scored, although in the first round State looked good with Cree and Kilmer on the bases and nobody out. In the fourth, Davis opened with a triple, which McIlveen almost reached, and slid into third on a close decision. Latham's single scored Davis; Hall fanned, but a steal, and Crutchley's single together with a bad throw to the plate gave Dickinson another run. State worked hard, but every ball hit seemed to shoot directly into our rival's anxious mits. In the last inning, Dickinson cinched the game by scoring two more runs on two bases on balls, a hit, and two errors. Every misplay State made gave something to the "Red and White" representatives, while our team could'nt get started in run-getting operations. The nearest State came to scoring was in the fifth, when Mahaffey came in from third on Cree's fly to Crutchley, but was an easy out at the plate. State's nine will certainly have to brace up for their hard schedule of games in the near future. The score:—
