

CALENDAR.

In order that the Calendar may be made as complete as possible, all college organizations are urged to hand in notices of meetings.

SATURDAY, OCT 23

1:30 p. m. Cider Scrap.

SUNDAY, OCT 31

10:00 a. m. Agricultural building. Catholic services.

10:00 a. m. Old Chapel Freshman Bible class meeting.

11:00 a. m. Auditorium Dr Joseph W Denney, Dean of the College of Arts at Ohio State University, will speak.

4:30 p. m. Foyer of Auditorium. Episcopal Service of Evening Prayer.

6:30 p. m. Old Chapel Y. M. C. A. meeting.

MONDAY, NOV. 1

6:00 p. m. Armory. Elections for General Athletic Managers.

7:00 p. m. Agricultural Society. Prof W. A. Cochel will speak.

TUESDAY, NOV. 2

6:30 p. m. 529 Main. Y. M. C. A. Prayer Meeting.

FOOTBALL GAMES

Saturday, October 30.

Army vs. Harvard.

Pennsylvania vs. Indians.

Cornell vs. Williams.

Dartmouth vs. Holy Cross.

Navy vs. Princeton.

Yale vs. Amherst.

Michigan vs. Syracuse.

Dickinson vs. Gettysburg.

West Virginia vs. Marietta.

Pittsburg vs. Notre Dame.

Notice.

Don't forget Saturday at the Library. Last chance at $1.25.

STATE 3, PENN 3.

Old State Ties Pennsylvania in a Well Played Game. 12,000 People Witnessed the Contest.

There were a few records broken when our valiant gridiron heroes held Old Penn to a 3 to 3 tie last Saturday at Philadelphia. In fifteen games between Penn State and Pennsylvania the recent conflict is the only one in which we have kept the Red and Blue from crossing our line for a touch down and it is the only one which has ended in a draw; the White and Blue has never beaten Penn, but with Saturday's sturdy feat of Vorhis's eleven behind us, hopes for that end must rise higher every year. The two combatants who met on Franklin Field five days ago also had the honor of being the first college teams in the country make a "three-three" score. Above all, when it is taken into consideration that each member of our wonderful team used every ounce of his strength and every grain of his endurance to battle for an Alma Mater that cannot do too much for such sturdy men, then let us remember forever the brave deeds of "Captain Larry" and his fellow warriors last Saturday!

Twelve thousand spectators had gathered in the spacious stands at Franklin Field when the twenty-two blue-clad football players trotted onto the field. They were met alike with a round of applause from Pennsylvania's large section of adherents and a small gathering of State men, who made almost as much noise as their more numerous rivals. Coach "Big Bill" Hollenback was obliged to doff his cap a number of times when the Old Penn students once caught sight of him and gave our popular coach several rousing cheers. Soon Hermann called off a few sharp signals and the good State team ran through a few fast plays on the dry gridiron.

Then the Quakers with their Red and Blue jerseys came onto the field amid deafening applause. Captain Vorhis chose to receive the kickoff while defending the west goal and after Braddock had taken almost five minutes to get the pig-skin ready, a short boot sent the oval into Hermann's arms and the plucky little quarterback returned it five yards toward the center of the field. Then "Larry" was able to make a spectacular run off 15 yards mainly through Piollet's good head-work and playing. This second play of the game troubled the Red and Blue line so that they were often offside thereafter in trying to "get the jump" on our linemen, and referee Edwards' numerous small penalties were well-deserved by captain Miller's aggregation.

After McCleary's 3-yard gain, Mauthe punted 40 yards and the battle was on in earnest. It proved a beautiful fight with both teams showing a marvelously strong defense and a comparatively weak offense. Mauthe gained on his kicks all through the game except on one costly kick which went out of bounds during the second half. The first half was a succession of kicks by Thayer and Mauthe with the ball generally between the 35 yard lines.