

Mathame R
120 n Barnard

The State Collegian

Vol. VI, No. 9.

STATE COLLEGE, PA., NOVEMBER 18, 1909.

Price Five Cents

CALENDAR.

In order that the Calendar may be made as complete as possible, all college organizations are urged to hand in notices of meetings.

THURSDAY, NOV. 18.

6:30 p. m. Engineering Club Room.
Press Club Smoker.

9:00 p. m. Fraternity house dances.

FRIDAY, NOV. 19.

10:00 a. m. Auditorium. Pennsylvania Day exercises.

11:00 a. m. East Campus. Regimental review.

1:30 p. m. New Beaver Field.
Football game, 1912 vs. 1913.

9:00 p. m. Armory. Thanksgiving Hop.

SATURDAY, NOV. 20.

8:15 p. m. Auditorium. Alton Packard.

SUNDAY, NOV. 14.

11:00 a. m. Auditorium. Dr. Gill will speak.

4:30 p. m. Foyer of Auditorium.
Episcopal Service of Evening Prayer.

6:30 p. m. Old Chapel. Y. M. C. A. meeting.

7:30 p. m. Auditorium. Sacred band concert.

MONDAY, NOV. 22.

7:00 p. m. Old Chapel. Athletic Association meeting.

7:30 p. m. Faculty meeting in the Faculty Room of the Auditorium.

TUESDAY, NOV. 23.

6:30 p. m. 529 Math. Y. M. C. A. Prayer Meeting.

G. E. Monroe, who has been an instructor in the engineering school for the past two years, is at present in the construction department of the General Electric Co.

STATE 40, W. V. U. 0.

West Virginia Defeated by an Overwhelming Score—The Finest Victory of the Season.

Some of our football men—most notably "Larry" Vorhis, "Bull" McCleary and "Heff" Hirshman, who are this fall playing their fourth year on the gridiron under Old State's colors—last Saturday played their final game on Beaver Field for their beloved alma mater. It was against West Virginia University, which usually puts up a stiff argument, and the way our powerful eleven mowed down the Mountaineers was well worth a long journey to witness.

The "Cap" started the game by kicking over West Virginia's line before one the finest crowds which ever witnessed a football game at Old Penn State. The long boot of the pigskin was an auspicious opening to a game that proved a terrible Waterloo for the visitors in a struggle of fifty minutes duration.

After Yount had punted the oval out from W. V. U.'s 25 yard line, it was only a matter of a couple of minutes until the ball was within striking distance of West Virginia's goal, principally through a well directed onside kick which "Larry" got away and Weaver recovered. Captain Hutchinson's men held on their 15-yard line and our heady little leader dropped back to the 28-yard line where he drop kicked a pretty field goal, the ball having been in play only four minutes.

West Virginia kicked off and then some formidable line plunging by McCleary and Mauthe, added to some quick end sprints by Hirshman, brought the ball down past the middle of the field. Here a long forward pass from Mauthe went right into "Dick" Smith's arms as he stood in the midst of a half-dozen State players and the whole aggregation ran over the line for the first touchdown of the contest. McCleary kicked goal.

Soon after this "Larry" kicked his second field goal of the game as he stood on the 25-yard line. The ball sailed right over the middle of the bar and the audience gave vent to wild enthusiasm at the sturdy feat of Vorhis, who had made his twentieth field goal for State in four years of consistent work.

Before the first half ended the visitors still had a little more disappointment coming their way, for McCleary, whose record during the game was a total gain of 263 yards in twenty-three downs, ran over for a touchdown amid compact interference, and although the goal from touchdown was missed the first thirty minutes of play found West Virginia seventeen points behind. "Larry" had been running his aggressive team like a machine during the whole half and there was a great demonstration as the big blue-clad warriors went off the field. The undergraduates were so happy that they held a rejoicing in the middle of the field before the second half started.

SECOND HALF

Points were scored so fast in this period that the Mountaineers, always outplayed and on the run, were completely swamped. The renewing of the fusillade was started