

GSO To Sponsor Victory Dance

Allison's Band to Play;
'Honey Boys' Entertain

"The Musical Savants" with Elrose L. Allison from Susquehanna University will provide music for the informal "V-E Dance" to be held in Recreation Hall from 9 to 12 o'clock tomorrow.

Intermission, in addition to a musical novelty show featuring Allison and Holly Wands, will include a program of songs, old and new, by the "Honey Boys". This group first gained its reputation during the prewar years by serenading the campus dormitories.

Decorations have been planned to highlight the flags of 50 allied nations. They will be backed by a wall of red, white and blue bunting.

Girls' Service Organization, sponsors, will provide hostesses for stag men.

Tickets will be available in all Army and Navy barracks and Corner Room as well as at the door. They will be $2 per couple and $1 for a stag.

Organizations may obtain booths by calling Rosemary Ghan-tous, 127 Atherton Hall.

Youth Organize New Movement

The organization meeting of a College youth movement, attended by over 300 students, was held in 10 Sparks on Wednesday night. Purposes and aims of the group were discussed.

Speakers at the meeting were Edward Abramson and Walter Coult, assistant and associate professors of sociology respectively, and Joanne Huber. A/S Carroll Baylson presided.

The next meeting of the group will be held in 10 Sparks at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday. Prof. George E. Simpson, head of the sociology department, will speak on the FEPC bill. Officers will be elected and a name for the organization will be chosen.

Prof. Kenneth D. Hutchinson, adviser, emphasizes that the campus youth group is not affiliated with any national organization. It is a liberal group, he says, and has no intention of applying for a charter with any national movement.

The program of the movement, as presented by Miss Huber at Wednesday's meeting, is as follows: To promote informal current event discussions at meetings that will inform students and stimulate them to action; to present public forums on the radio and on campus; to help sell war bonds and stamps in town and on campus.

To investigate undemocratic procedures on campus and in town; to cooperate with other campus organizations with vital programs; to bring cultural figures to the College; to bring prominent liberal speakers to the College; to raise money for exchange scholarships.

An incomplete list of sponsors of the movement follows:

Kenneth D. Hutchinson, associate professor of economics, adviser; Edward Abramson, assistant professor of sociology; Harrison H. Arnold, professor of Spanish; John T. Baker, associate professor of philosophy; Thomas D. Bowman, associate professor of English literature; Walter Coult, associate professor of sociology.

Kent Forster, instructor of history; Lester P. Guest, assistant professor of education and psychology; James P. Kelly, professor of botany; John S. Naylor, assistant professor of English composition; James J. Reid, associate

Stuart Chase To Discuss 'Power Age'

"Unemployment is the major evil of the power age," says Stuart Chase, who will speak on "Where Do We Go From Here?" in Schwab Auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Chase, who will be the last speaker in the State College Community Forum series, has made a series of studies of the economic problems of postwar reconversion. Says Mr. Chase, "If the planning is bad and the timing wrong, unemployment could be far worse than in 1932."

The lecturer's latest book on postwar problems is "When Peace Comes to Main Street." Previous books dealing with that subject are "The Road We Are Traveling," "Goals for America," and "Where's the Money Coming From?"

A graduate of Harvard, Chase worked for a time in his father's accounting and engineering firm in Boston, then held several government positions, and since 1921 has spent his time doing freelance consulting work for business, labor, and government organizations, and writing books.

The Community Forum, composed of 18 campus and community organizations, has made plans for another series of speakers in the fall. Representatives on the Forum committee are as follows: Michael Lynch, All-College Cabinet; Mrs. Harriet Nesbitt, American Association of University Women; Professor A. W. Chase, American Legion; Mary Cohen, State College High School student body; Allen Kahn, Hillel Foundation; and H. G. Pyle, Parent-Teacher Association.

Harvey Marcy, Penn State Christian Association; Miss Rose Cologne, the College; Dr. Charles E. Marquardt, Phi Beta Kappa; Dr. Edward B. Van Ormer, Phi Delta Kappa; Miss Jessie Haven, Pi Lambda Theta; Jo Hays, State College Public Schools; Dr. Clarence O. Williams, Rotary Club; Mrs. E. M. Grove, State College Women's Club; Annabelle Jansson, Women's Student Government Association; Dr. Malcolm Mussina, Wesley Foundation, and Dr. Bruce V. Moore; Phi Kappa Phi.

Kecker Wins Top Place In Speaking Contest

A/S Fred Kecker won first place in the All-College speaking contest Friday. Kecker spoke on "The Ends and Means of Education." The College awarded the $50 first prize.

Martin Lennig placed second in the contest. His topic was "There Are No Islands Anymore." Second prize was the Forensic Council award of $25.

John H. Frizzell, head of the department of speech, acted as chairman of the final contest. Ushers were Bernice Greenes, Gloria Jacobson, Barbara Morrison, and Dorothy Swartz. Approximately 200 persons attended the contest.

Players Present 'The Hasty Heart'

New York Post Calls Hit
Best Show During War

Players' production of "The Hasty Heart," the Broadway show which has been called by the New York Post "the best play yet to come out of this war," will be presented in Schwab Auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight and tomorrow night.

The student cast will be led by Portman Paget (Lachlen) and Richard Frontman (Yank), both of whom distinguished themselves in Players' presentations of "Our Town" and "Twelfth Night." Charles Shulte (Blossom), Claire Cohen, (the nurse), and A/S Matt Szeyley are veterans of "Our Town," and John Miller (Colonel) who received his M. A. in dramatics at the College, has returned after being with the Army Air Forces in England. Gerald Sitkin (Tommy), Richard Sibley (Kiwi) and Calvin Maynard (Orderly), are newcomers to the organization.

Playwright Capt. John Patrick tells the story of a group of hospitalized soldiers on the Assam-Burma front who teach a dying Scotsman the meaning of camaraderie. A New York critic has said of it that "it is written with imagination and passion, and its comic asides never fail to make the show a splendid contrast of light and shadow."

"The Hasty Heart" will be the last show this season to be directed by Lawrence E. Tucker, who will be on leave of absence from the College.

Tickets will be on sale at Student Union and at the box office.

Seniors Order Caps, Gowns

Graduating seniors may order their caps and gowns and commencement announcements at Student Union from today until next Friday.

A $5 deposit is required on cap and gown orders. The Athletic store will distribute the caps and gowns during the week of graduation, upon presentation of the receipt given when the order is made. The senior outfit must be returned immediately following the exercises. A fine of $1 will be charged for late returns, and if receipts must be duplicated they will cost an additional 25 cents.

Announcements, which will cost nine cents each, will be distributed at Student Union ten days before commencement, upon presentation of the receipts given when the order was made.

All checks should be made payable to The Interclass Budget System.

Professor Gerald J. Stout, 24 Horticulture Building will order caps and gowns for candidates for advanced degrees.

Commencement Exercises Open to Town Guests

In accordance with a recommendation of the Committee on Public Occasions, the earlier statement that no one except members of the graduating class would be admitted to commencement has been rescinded.

Simple commencement exercises will be held in Schwab Auditorium at 3 p.m. June 21.

Commencement exercises will be in keeping with wartime travel restrictions. The College will invite no out of town guests, and it requests the members of the graduating class to issue no invitations to those out of town.

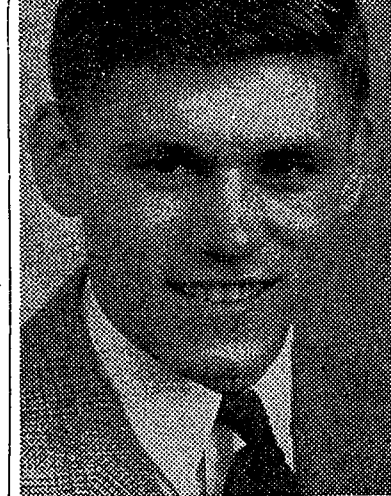

Deferment Forms Due

Deferment of fee application forms for the summer semester must be returned to the Bursar's office by June 1.

General Catron To Talk At Memorial Day Rites

Brig. Gen. Thomas B. Catron, chief of staff, Third Service Command, will be guest speaker at the College Memorial Day services to be held in front of Old Main at 11 a. m., Wednesday, announced Stanley Bernheim, chairman of the Cabinet committee.

Replacing the tentatively announced speaker, Major General Hays, who can not attend the services because of military reasons, General Catron will be accompanied by Col. R. W. Cooksey, head of the School Division, Third Service Command.

General Catron has had an Army career of almost 40 years service. He commanded the First Army Intelligence School, set up at Langres, France. There and as an instructor at the Army Staff Schools at Fort Leavenworth, he helped to fix methods and policies of intelligence education, many of which are still used throughout the Army.

A graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1909, General Catron, was later the assistant Commandant there for four years.

General Catron retired from the Army March 31, 1936 but in February 1941 returned to active duty which has been continuous ever since.

Bernheim also announced that the Council of Administration has approved Memorial Day plans submitted by the Committee with the following two recommended revisions: that the program be held in front of Old Main (instead of New Beaver Field as originally planned) since the flag raising ceremony has been traditional, and that in case of rain the convocation be held in Schwab auditorium.

The Memorial Day program will be as follows:

Military review, 11 to 11:12. Star Spangled Banner and invocation, delivered by Dr. Frizzell, 11:12 to 11:15.

Introduction of General Catron by President Hetzel, 11:15 to 11:17.

General Catron's address, 11:17 to 11:37.

Flag raising ceremony and benediction, 11:37 to 11:42.

Banquet in honor of General Catron at Nittany Lion Inn, sponsored by All-College Cabinet, 12.

Council of Administration approved excusing of the 11 a. m. class for the convocation. It was emphasized that only this one class will be excused.

Cabinet urges all students to attend the services as the program this year will have an added significance in its theme, Memorial Day for the Allied Nations. Flags of the Allied Nations will be displayed on the terrace and speakers' rostrum in front of Old Main.

Fraternities, Barracks To Select Candidates For Queen of IFC Ball

All fraternities and barracks are requested to select a candidate for queen of the Interfraternity Council Ball, according to Stanley Ziff, chairman of the queen selection committee.

Photos should be turned in at the Corner Room desk by Wednesday noon. From the photos submitted, the dance committee will select five finalists. These coeds will be announced in next week's Collegian.

The winning candidate will be crowned queen at the IFC semi-formal dance in Recreation Hall, June 8. Vincent Lopez and his orchestra, with Gerry Larson and Bruce Hayes, vocalists, will play for the ball.

The committee in charge includes Harold Hein, Phi Sigma Delta, chairman; Jack Braunigan, Theta Chi; Edward Carson, Sigma Pi, program and tickets; G. Frederick Dietz, Pi Kappa Alpha, booths; Harold Griffiths, Phi Kappa Tau, publicity; Stanley Laurimore, SPE, decorations; Stanley Ziff, Phi Epsilon Pi, queen.

Collegian Wins 'Superior' Rating

The Collegian has been awarded All-American rating for last semester in a critical newspaper survey conducted by the Associated Collegiate Press, it was announced today by Editor Victor Danilov.

The rating is the highest honor presented to college publications by the ACP, which has its headquarters at the University of Minnesota. This is the first semester since The Collegian returned to a weekly that the paper has won the "superior" certificate.

The judging was done by the association staff and it covered news evaluation, writing and editing, headlines, typography, makeup, special features, and department pages.

Group Types Student Blood

All students desiring to have their blood typed should register in the first floor lounge of Old Main from 9 to 5 o'clock tomorrow, announced Michael Lynch, chairman of the operating committee of Penn State Student Blood Typing.

Students who register at this time will be typed in the dispensary on Tuesday, 6 to 8 p.m., or Thursday, 7 to 9 p.m. Because of limited equipment, only the first 400 students to register can be typed.

Upon registration, students will get appointments and as 20 people can be typed in 15 minutes, the actual typing is a very short process.

Only 103 appointments have been made so far. Lynch encouraged students to cooperate with the project.
