

State Ranked 4th; USC Widens Lead

Penn State tightened its hold on fourth place in the Associated Press ranking of major college football teams released yesterday.

The Lions received one first place vote and 592 points, placing far ahead of fifth-ranked Tennessee. Southern California, Ohio State and Kansas again ranked 1-2-3.

The idle Trojans widened their lead over Ohio State, but both Kansas and the Lions closed in on the leaders.

The Trojans (5-0), who resume activity at Oregon this week, drew 24 of the 43 first-place votes from a national panel of sports writers and sportscasters. Southern Cal had 21 firsts a week ago.

Ohio State, 31-24 winner over Illinois for its fifth straight, attracted 12 firsts, compared to 15 last week. The Buckeyes will be at home to Michigan State, Nov. 16, Saturday.

Score 46

Kansas made Iowa State its sixth straight victim, 46-25 and picked up six firsts to hold third place. The point total, based on 20 for first and a graduated scale down to one point for 15th place, gave California a 64-point lead over Ohio State, 766-722. A week ago they led by only 16 points. Kansas was a strong third with 686 and Penn State a solid fourth with 592.

- The major casualty of the weekend was Notre Dame, upset by Michigan State, 21-17, and dropped all the way from No. 5 to No. 12.
- Tennessee, Purdue and Georgia, all moved up a peg to take over fifth, sixth and seventh places. Tennessee had an off day, Purdue downed Iowa 44-14 and Georgia beat Kentucky 35-14.
- California, Michigan and Missouri all moved into the first 10. California clobbered Minnesota 35-20 and Missouri ran over Kansas State 56-20.

McKee's Madness A Day for Listening

By DON MCKEE Assistant Sports Editor

Seven guys were jammed into the one-room efficiency apartment, all talking at the same time. Since there weren't enough chairs and sofas to go around, a few members of the group were sprawled on the floor. One sat on a stool at the kitchen counter, nursing a chilled bottle of beer.

Since it was a crisp, sunny Saturday afternoon there was only one possible topic of discussion — football, specifically Penn State football.

"We'll beat Boston College," said the guy slouching on the stool. "Hell yeah," came a quick reply. "Turn on the radio and catch the pre-game warm-up, I'm tired of watching this movie."

The TV clicked off, denying the viewers the opportunity to see the last scenes of "The Monster That Devoured Cleveland."

On the radio, the announcers on the Penn State Network were giving their anxious audience the news from Boston.

"It looks like a great day for football, doesn't it Fran?"

"Yes Tom, if there's one way I'd describe today, it would be 'great.' Especially for football."

"We have two hard-hitting outfits ready to play football. Now to you Fran."

"That's right, Tom. Now back to you. The pre-game patter faded and a commercial blared its instant message. In the State College apartment the seven listeners relaxed, sipping cold beverages and waiting for the game to start.

"Sorry we missed the coin flip fans, but this long-awaited game is about to start. There's the kickoff. It's a long one. A Boston player takes it and returns to the 24. No, the 26. Well, it's first and 10 at the 25."

"Who ran it back?" asked one of the listeners. "Where's the ball spotted," asked another. A gigantic cheer came rolling out of the radio. Obviously Boston was doing something.

MCKEE

THIS WAS the scene on many occasions Saturday. Boston College quarterback Mike Fallon (19) is in the process of getting smashed by the aroused Penn State defense. Here, Steve Brezna (65) makes the tackle while Ed Stofko (84) looks on. Fallon was only one of the three Eagle quarterbacks who found tough going against the Lions.

Gibson Named Top Pitcher

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Gibson, the St. Louis Cardinals' pitcher who set a major league earned run average record low of 1.12, was named winner of the National League Cy Young Award yesterday by the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Gibson, a 22-9 performer for the pennant-winning Cards, was the unanimous choice of the 20-member panel, two from each league city.

Although Gibson had two previous 20-victory seasons he never received a Cy Young vote until this year. He is the second Negro to win the award. Don Newcombe of the old Brooklyn Dodgers was the first winner in 1956.
