The numerous friends of Col. Frazer, 140th Pennsylvania Volunteers, will be glad to learn that he has recently been one of the conflicts before Petersburg, in peat. The Rochester Press says a comso many of which, through the skilful maneuvring of the rebels, we lost heavily in prisoners. The Colonel was first conveyed to Libby prison, thence to the officers' prison at Macon, Georgia, and when heard from, August 14th, was at Charleston, S. C, and in good health and spirits. Asseveral exchanges of prisoners have been recently effected there, his friends may hope ere long to have the pleasure of seeing him bacco per day to New-York. Cipinin T. A. M. Craven, who was lost in the Monitor Tecumseh, in the recent attack upon the Mobile forts, was one of our ablest naval officers. He was a native of New Hampshire, cutering the navy as a midshipman February 2d, 1829. 1n 1835 he was warranted as a passed midshipman, and in 1841 was promoted to a lieutenancy. His principal service, prior to the breaking out of the rebellion, was rendered in the various duties connected with the Coast Survey, of which he was one of the most efficient officers. He was one of the best hydrographers in this country. When the rebellion occurred, he was placed in com-mand of the Crusader, and aided in preserving to the Union the important fortress of Key West. In April, 1861, as commander of the Tuscarora, he wis sent after the rebel pirates, and engaged in the ineffectual pursuit of the Alabama. Early in the present year he took charge of the Tecumseh, and joined the James River flotilla. He was ordered to Mobile, to reinforce Admiral Farragut, and in the hour of victory lost his vessel and his life, from the effects of the torpedo which blew up the Tecumseh. He had served his country thirty five years, and his loss will be se-

It is stated that, in addition to the published works already enumerated of the late John Clare, the Northamptonshire poet, he has left behind him a considerable number of poems, some of which are said to be equal to any that have already appeared. The War.-The latest official intelligence from Atlanta is to Friday, Sept. 9. Gen. Sherman's army was concentrated there. It was supposed to be Sherman's design to withdraw his advance columns for a while, give his army rest, establish himself securely in his position at Atlanta, and secure his rear communications, broken by Wheeler and Forrest, before making furman writes some particulars of the capture of that city, confirming the account already pubrebels have lost, besides the important city of Atlanta, stores, at least 500 dead, 2,500 wounded, and 8,000 prisoners; whereas our aggregate loss will not foot up 1,500. If this is not sucess, I don't know what is."

The Richmond papers take a gloomy view of the loss of Atlanta. The Examiner attributes the calamity to the removal of Johnson to make room for Hood, whom it pronounces "notoriously incapable of managing anything larger than a division. The result is disaster at Atlanta: The moral effect of the loss of Atlanta will be great. It will diffuse gloom over the South." The report of Gen. Hardee's death is not confirmed. Maj. Gen. Patton Anderson is reported wounded On the 5th inst. Hood's army was in line of battle at Lovejoy's Station, awaiting an attack from Sherman. Hood telegraphs that he

From Mobile we have no additional intelligence, except reports brought by refugees who have succeeded in coming within our lines. Tacy report the rebel force there to be about 10,000, of whom only 3,000 were regular troops, the remainder being composed of militia and re-cent conscripts: A complete military despotism prevails. The population is divided into war and peace factions; the latter largely predominsting in numbers, but compelled to secrecy in the expression of their opinions. Flour was selling at $300 a barrel; cavalry boots, $300 a lar. Our troops have effected a landing at Ce-

The latest news from Gen. Rousseau is, that he is driving Wheeler, who is trying to get across the Tennessee. We have captured many prisoners and received many deserters. The railroad between Nashville and Chattanooga, it was thought, would be again in running order by On Sunday, Sept. 4th, the noted guerrilla chief, John H. Morgan, was surprised, defeated and killed, at Greenville, East Tenn., by Gen. Gillen. The rebel force outnumbered ours, but the surprise was complete. The rebels lost 50 killed, 100 wounded, and 75 prisoners, including Morgan's staff; also one piece artillery and one calsson. John Hunt Morgan was a native of Lexington, Ky., and was in his 38th year at the time of his death. He had acquired unenviable notoriety by his frequent and daring raids into his native State, and by the extensive damage he has for three years inflicted upon the property of loyal citizens and of the U.S. Government, more than by any remarkable exploits in the open field and against an equal foe. His raid into Indiana and Ohio, his capture and escape, form one of the most singular episodes of the war. On Thursday, Sept. 8th, Col. Holman, 11th without firing a gun.

And a collision may at any time occur. On Friday night, Sept. 9, about midnight, at a point of our line just west of the Jerusalem plank-road, the third division of our third corps made a sudden advance, surprised the rebels, captured about one hundred prisoners, and drove the enemy back to an interior line of defence. Our troops still hold the ground thus gained. Col. Thomas Jordan of the 9th Pennsylvania cavalry, with 250 men, surprised, attacked and routed Dabrall's brigade of 2,000 men at Ready-ville, Sept. 10th, killing and wounding many, and capturing 130 prisoners. Our loss was one killed, five wounded, and four missing. General -- Seven thousand cases of soldiers

The number of prisoners captured by General Grant since the crossing of the Rapidan, in May ast, is stated at the War Department to be upward of fifteen thousand.

An army correspondent of the New-York Tribine says that the railroad now running from City Point to our lines before Petersburg is to be extended eight miles to our left on the Weldon road. Our soldiers have taken rails enough from the Weldon road to build it, and it is estimated that the road may be entirely finished in ten or fitteen days. Provost Marshal General Fry has decided that eserters from the rebel army are not subject to arolment or dra:t. Extracts are given from an important letter from Gen Grant to Hon. E. B. Washburne, dated Aug. 16th, at City Point. He says: "The rebels have now in their ranks their last The PRESBYTERY OF KASKASKIA will man. Their only hope now is in a divided North have no doubt but the enemy are exceedingly anxious to hold out until after the Presidential elector: They have many hopes from its effects. They hope a counter revolution. Our peace friends, if they expect peace from separation, are much mista-ken. It would be but the beginning of war, with thousands of Northern men joining the South because of our disgrace in allowing separation. To have 'peace on any terms,' the South would demand the restoration of their slaves already freed; they would demand indemnity for osses sustained; and they would demand a treaty which would make the North slave-hunters for the South; they would demand pay for the restoration of every slave escaped to the North.' Gold had tallen in New-York, on Saturday

Working parties have commenced repairing the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and it is ex-pected that the road will be in running order by the 16th inst. Trains are also now running through on the Nashville and Chattanooga road. It was reported at Little Rock, Ark., that the rebel General, Sterling Price, had recently died, of dysentery, at Arkadelphia. At Indianapolis, Sept. 9th, an arrest was made, upon information furnished by a refugee, of an individual supposed to be the notorious guerrille, Quantrell, who has left such a bloody record in

Gen. M'Clellan has written a letter, dated Orange, N. J. Sept. 8, accepting his nomination for the Presidency by the Chicago Convention. The letter is too long for our summary. He says: "The existence of more than one Government over the region which once owned our flag, is incompatible with the peace, the power, and the happiness of the people." "The reëstablishment of the Union in all its integrity is, and must continue to be, the indispensable condition in any settlement." "The Union must be preserved at all hazards." He briefly refers "to the other subjects presented in the resolu-tions of the Convention," omitting the cessation of hostilities and a convention of the States. On Saturday, September 3, at Auburn, N. Y. he says: "We shall have no draft, because the army is being reinforced at the rate of five to ten thousand men per day by volunteers." In regard to emancipation as one of the conditions of peace, he says: "When the insurgents shall have disbanded their armies, and laid down their arms, the war will instantly cease; and all the war measures then existing, including those which they arose before the civil war began, or whether they grew out of it, will, by force of the Conn pass over to the arbitrament of courts of law, and to the councils of legislation." Foreign.—The latest foreign arrivals presen no items of unusual interest. The English pa-pers are discussing the Federal success at Mopile. Confederate bonds have fallen. The conference on the Danish question, which has been occupied solely with territorial matters, has adjourned, the Danish plenipotentiaries awaiting affect slavery, will cease also, and all the moral, ecessary documents. The difficulties between Turkey and Montenegro are settled. The case of the Georgia still receives attention from the English press. The facts appear to be that, whilst a rebel war vessel, it was chased into an English port, and the Niagara being o the watch for it, the vessel was dismantled and sold as a merchant ship, proceeded to sea on a commercial enterprise, as British property under the British flag, and was captured by the Niagara and sent to New-York as a Confederate prize It is contended that no such transfer as that which was made of the Georgia is valid, or can question will be adjudicated in the prize court at New-York.

The Weber Piano. - The name of Weber, familiar to all musical connoisseurs as belonging to one of the greatest of composers, for who has not heard of the immortal "Freischutz," the Weber, is, however, now often mentioned in a different connection as belonging to a fast rising manufacturer of pianos in our city, Albert Weber. After a critical examination of his instrument we believe with John Zundel, who says: "A ten years' acquaintance with a Weber's piano has convinced me that they are as good as the music of C. M. V. Weber." And what music could be better? The Weber pianos are fast rising in favor, and are now sought after ov many of our best artists and amateurs. They leserve it, too, for the merits are too prominent to be overlooked, and entitle them to the confidence and patronage of the public. We do not particularize the points of excellence of the Weber pianos, but prefer recommending our readers to spend a leisure hour examining and judging for themselves.

The above we clip from the New-York Evening Post, a high authority on musical matters. We refer our readers to Mr. Mellor's advertisement of the "Weber" Piano is another column.

Beaumont.

Little did we think, as one after another of hose little lambs were taken away, that God was preparing the way for the speedy removal of the mother; but now we see "he doeth all hings well." The mother felt that her little ones were not lost, but gone before; and while endeavoring to perform all her duries to the living, her thoughts were with the dead, and she longed to walk with them in robes of light. Mrs. B. was one of those modest, retiring Christians whose light shines most sweetly in the domestic and social circle. Those who knew her best, loved her most. Though months have passed away, the heart still aches as we call to memory the sad bereavements of this family;

DIED-On the 13th day of August 1864. Miss SALLIE KUHN, in the 27th year of her age. The deceased was, for a long period preceding her death, confined to her room, and often to her bed, by an obscure and painful disease. At times she was comparatively free from suffering, and in these periods of ease some hope was entertained that the amelioration in her symptoms presaged her recovery. These hopes were doomed to a bitter disappointment. Suddenly, with no perceptible change in her general ap-pearance giving warning, she expired on the morning of the 13th of August, her death, in spite of her long illness, surprising and shock ing her family and the community. For she was known, admired and loved by the whole community. The daughter of an elder of Long Run church, who is himself the son of one of the church's first elders, and bearing a name known and honored in religion and letters, she was inevitably well and widely known. Her own character secured admiration and love. Her intellectual endowments were of a very high order, and she had cultivated them assiduously and carefully. Gifted in personal graces, of a the life and soul of every company into which she tell, and attracted unconsciously the attenher. Struck down in the brightness of her youth and beauty; shut up to the darkness and loneliness of a sick chamber for long months, and then burried into the presence of the great and awful Judge—only Christian faith and love could support and uphold. This, we thank God now, she had. With patience and cheerfulness with entire calmness, and even joyfulness, she received and obeyed the summans to departfor her, a summons, as we humbly and rejoicingly believe, "to be with Christ, which is far bet-

REGISTER OF IMPORTANT EVEN'S

In presenting to the public another volume of the Annual Cyclopesdia, containing the record of the most turbulent year which the conutry has witnessed, no efforts have been spaced to secure its completeness and accuracy, and to proserve it free from every mark of partisanship.

The plutches adopted in the previous years have taken effect, and many new and most important questions arose under them, and were discussed during 1893, such as confiscation, commoipation, indemnity official and promising, the relations of the insurrectionary Stare's to the Union nersonal liberty, martial law, prize, the liability of Great B. itain for damages done by the Alabama, &c., &c.

These discuss ins are embraced in its contents, together with the important civil and political measures, of the federal and Scate governments; an accurate and minute history of the struggles of the great armies and their battles, illustrated with maps and plans of actions taken from official copies; the debates of the Federal and Confiderate Congressis; innancial measures of the government, commerce, &c., &c., the proceedings in the Confiderate States to main trun the war and establish their government; also, all the exciting movements in foreign countries: the developments in the physical sciences; the progress of literature mechanical inventions and improvements; the supendous interprises of the Government connobled with the war, such as hospitals for the army, the manufacture of ordenace, and the trade regulations in insurfectionary district. The present statistics of the Religious denominations, and Biographical sketches of the embert persons decased in 1863. &c.

The contents are arranged in an alphabetical order, and accompanied by a mest complete Index. The volume is in the style of the New American Crotor-Eda, and will match the volumes for 1861 and 1802 of this annual. The work is published exclusively by subscription, and is elegant and substantial.

We have from time to time presented the testimony of a large portion of the most eminent organists and Artists in the country to the great ments of our CABINET ORGANS.

and to the fact that they excel other instruments of their class. Annexed are extracts from a few Notices of the Press: The Highest Accomplishment of Industry in this Department." "Foremost among all American makers stand Messrs. Mason & Hamlio, whose CABINET ORGANS now represent the highest accompilishments of inclustry in this department. Taking f r their starting point, more than ten years ago, the remembered melodecon, with its thin, sharp tone, they have gone on, step by step, until they have reached a position beyond which the enhangement of Reed Organs cause, not, for the present, be advantageously continued. Leaving too others the manufacture of instruments of smaller compass, they have given all their energies to producing the best possible specimens of the class they advertise, and it is nothing more than truth to say they have succeeded. This is not only our opinion, but the unanimed these Organists and Musicians who have examined these Organists of favor which have been treely given."

"Nearly Every Organist or Pianist of Note." "The instrament known as the CABINET ORGAN is quite as great an improvement upon the melodeon, introduced some twenty years ago, or its successor, the harmonium, as a concert grand piano-forte of to-day is over the imperfect pi nos in vague a quarter of a century since. The melo, ean lost favor from a lack of caps ity for expression. Its music was monotonous to a degree annoying to cultivated ears. The harmonium was an improvement upon the melodeon, but still failed to satisfy to the extent demanded by its use in chapels, schoolrooms or hall, as a support to choral singing. Within a couple of years, Messra, Deson & Hamilu, who have always taken the lead in this country as manufacturers of reed instruments, have succeeded in largely overcoming the defects noticed in instruments of this class. An important modification introduced is the Automatic Bellows-Swell, by which the performer is enabled to produce the softest tones, or to awaken a volume of tone second only to, and in point of musical quality fully as fine as that derived from superior church origans. * . * The favorable testimony, of nearly every organist or plants of note in this country, together with tust of certain distin-uished foreign authorities, has forestailed our appreciative comments upon the excellence and value of these carefully made instruments."

So Effective and Beautiful as to Meet the Desires of the Most Refined and Fastidious."

"A glorious instrument for the temple service, so readily secured as to be available for any congregation, and so effective and beautiful as to meet the desires of the most refined and fasti flous admirers of appropriate music. * * * with your eyes shut you cannot distinguish its sound from from that of the pipe organ; and the advantages that commend it are: its pre-e-for it can be had for one, two, three or four hundred dollars, according to the size you wish; it is not affected by heat or cold, or any change of temperature; it remains for a long period in good tune; and lastly, it can be sent by express or otherwise any distance, with safety."

"Singular Unanimity."

"Induced by these considerations, we have been at some mind on these considerations, we have been at some pains to ascertain wit at instrument, of the many, now solicing the public favor, combines the greatest number of real excellences. We have prosecuted this inquiry entirely in dependently of aid or direction from interested parties. The opinious of some of the best musical critics, composers and opinions of some of the best musical critics, composers and performers have been obtained; i.enorts of experiments made in the ordinary nee of various instruments in churches, schools and families have been compared, all of which, with singular ununimity, concur in seligning, the first pace to the Cabinet Organ of Mason & Hamilia a decision that conesponds with our own previously formed convictions, re-eived from personal observations."

7.30 LOAN.

The Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscrip tions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from August 15, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent, per annum-principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money. These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at mathrity, into six per cent, gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in lenominations of fifty, one hundred, five hundred, one housand, and five thousand dollars, and all subscriptions nust be for fifty dollars, or some multiple of fifty dollars. The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original dertificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest occused from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a comdission of one-quarter of one per cent, which will be paid y the Treasury Department upon the receipt of a bill for the amount, certified to by the officer with whom the deposit was made. No deductions for commissions must be made rom the deposits.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF THIS LOAN. IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of nterest than any other, and the best security. Any savings pank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers bat it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better, for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper. It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent in-estment. The notes can always be sold for within a traction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best curity with banks as collaterals for discounts. Convertible into a 6 Per Cent. 5-20 Gold Bond. In addition to the very liberal intere t on the notes for hree years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special Act of Congress exempts all bones and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption s worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements o lenders as those issued by the government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of he United States.

While the government offers the most liberal terms for its ans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED y the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the first national bank of pittsburgh, Pa., THIRD NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, PA., FOURTH NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, PA., FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF ALLEGHENY, PA., and by all National Banks which are depositaries of public money, and all RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS roughout the country will give further information, and AFFORD EVERY FACILITY TO SUBSCRIBERS.
